

Spring Is Here!

Baseballers Take To Field

Coach Joe Bedenk took his baseball squad out to the New Beaver Field diamond for the first time yesterday afternoon for the first day of batting and fielding practice.

Previously working out in Rec. Hall when space was available, the team practiced all afternoon on the wet, soggy field.

90 REPORT

Over 90 candidates have signed up for the team with only about 50 uniforms available. The coach indicated that a cut in the personnel will be made as soon as he has a chance to see each man in action.

Gene Sutherland, last year's third baseman, was working out at third while team-mate Chuck MacFarland was handling the throws to first. Both men played ball for Bedenk before the war before returning last season.

ANOTHER ONE

Ray "Whitey" Kurowski, brother of the St. Louis Cardinal infielder, played every game last year at second base and is back for the same position this year.

Pete Berletic, outfielder and shortstop on last year's nine, is hoping to fill the shortstop position vacated by Dan Hopkins.

Ken Yount and Bob Gehrett, last year's Lion pitching staff, took their turn yesterday as batting practice hurlers and will probably assume the major part of the mound duties this year.

The season will open with a southern swing to Philadelphia and Virginia where the Lions will meet Penn, Washington and Lee, and V.M.I. during Easter vacation. The first home game will be against Dickinson April 12.

Two veteran backstops, Don Herb and Will Tease, form the nucleus of the catching squad this season.

Bill Davis, Harold Hackman, Ken Hosterman, Ed Holler and Bob Urion are the former Bedenkmen returning for duty in the outfield.

Golf Managers

The call is out for juniors and seniors interested in first assistant or second assistant managerships in golf. Candidates should sign up first in the Athletic Office, Old Main, then report to the Caddy House at 4:15 p.m. Monday, according to Fritz Lloyd, golf manager.
