Treaty Hopes Wane

MOSCOW—Hopes of salvaging something—specifically a treaty for Austria—out of the Moscow Conference are rapidly disappearing. In fact, there's word that a special train will be ready in Moscow on Tuesday to return the British delegation.

Gromyko Fails to Answer

LAKE SUCCESS—For the first time in the history of the UN Atomic Energy Commission, Canada's delegate—General A. G. L. McNaughton—has directed a written question at Russia's Andrei Gromyko. The query—concerning the willingness of Russia to accept atomic inspection by Commission agents—failed to draw a reply.

Wallace Leaves England

LONDON—Henry Wallace has ended a controversial nine-day stay in Britain to continue his overseas jaunt with a stop in Sweden. Before leaving London, Wallace received a declaration from 111 members of Parliament who said they agree with his views on international affairs.

'Critique' Appears On Sale Monday

Critique, newest addition to the fold of campus magazines, will make its initial appearance on Monday, George Purnell, business manager, announced today.

With a critical slant as its theme, Critique's inaugural issue will feature "Whose Atomic Secret?", an article by Henry Wallace; "5051," an inquiry into the dormitory telephone system, and "October Revolution," a satire on Marxian Communism in the form of a movie scenario.

The magazine will be sold at the Corner Room, Student Union desk, and the foyer of Sparks, said Fritz Troutman, circulation manager.

Seniors Sign Charlie Spivak To Play at Annual May Ball

Charlie Spivak, "The Man Who Plays the Sweetest Trumpet in the World," and his band have been selected to provide the music for Senior Ball at Rec Hall on May 23, dance co-chairman John Maternas said last night.

A semi-formal affair, Senior Ball will be the final dance of the semester. The theme has not as yet been decided upon.

Reduced Admission

"The Ball committee is presently working on a plan to reduce the admission price from the $4 which has prevailed at previous All-College dances this year," Maternas stated.

Another innovation will be the absence of booths. Instead, three rows of chairs will be placed around the dance floor.

It is estimated that over three times as many people can be seated under this plan as compared with the booth method.

Old Friend

Charlie Spivak is not a newcomer to Penn State. Over 1900 couples, the largest crowd to attend a dance in the history of the College, jammed Rec Hall last year to hear his "sweet trumpet" at the Winter Fantasy.

Noted for his danceable music, Spivak is now the record-holder at two of New York's leading hotel spots.

Tops Dorsey, Monroe

Within the past year he has topped Jimmy Dorsey's mark at the Hotel Pennsylvania and Vaughn

'Fun Nite' Features Recorded Bands At Rec Hall

Informal dancing to the top recorded bands of the nation will be featured in Recreation Hall, tomorrow from 8 p. m. until midnight, when the School of Physical Education present "Fun Nite."

Admission for the evening will be 30c, including tax. Ray Conger, assistant professor of physical education, who is in charge of the program, announced that facilities for ping pong, badminton, and Klok-It will be available to the students, as well as card and board games.

Cliques to Meet For Slate Approval

Nittany-Independent and State cliques will meet Sunday night for final approval of the slates for the All-College elections, April 30 and May 1, drawn up at last Sunday's meetings.

Since only one office, that of junior secretary-treasurer in the State slate, is opposed, these meetings will be little more than a formality to comply with the Elections Code.

According to John Benigan, chairman of the Elections Committee, this election will be one of few in recent years in which the slates were unopposed. At last fall's elections, he said, approximately two-thirds of the slates had additional nominations.

Nittany-Independent party will approve a final draft of the platform at Sunday's meeting, according to Richard Heim, clique co-chairman, and campaign plans will be discussed.

After Sunday night's meetings the slates for the coming elections will be finally closed, except in case of emergency. An emergency, explained Robert Frankhouse, State clique co-chairman, would arise should one of the nominees be found to have an all-college average of less than 1.

Nittany-Independent meeting will be held in 316 Sparks at 7:30 p. m. Sunday, and State clique will meet in 40 Sparks at 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

Blue Band Head Lists Compositions In Sunday Concert

The Blue Band concert, the first in the spring series, will begin in Schwab Auditorium at 3:30 p. m., Sunday. According to Director Hummel Fishburn, it will last approximately one hour and fifteen minutes.

The "Red Cavalry March" is based on two songs from the Russian Army. "Cavalry on the Steppes" and "Song of Tachanka." Another march, "March, Op. 90," written in 1946 by Serge Prokofieff, is one of the few pieces written by an all-found composer especially for band.

LA Group Attends State Conference

Seventeen Liberal Arts students compose the Penn State delegation attending the Inter-Collegiate Government Conference which opens in Harrisburg this morning.

Governor Duff is expected to make the opening address at the Conference.

Student representatives from colleges and universities throughout the state are present at the convention. The entire conference is patterned after a model state legislature including floor debates, committee reports and other law-making procedures.

The Penn State delegation will write proposals for legislation on education, taxes, finance, civil liberties, labor relations, local government and veteran affairs. Fred Kecker heads the delegation. He has been named chairman of the Constitutional Changes committee.

Other members of the delegation are Edwin H. Abernethy, George Brazzle, Harold Gittlin, Gaylord Greenlee, Robert Hibbard, Stanley Hibbs, Thomas Kelly, Herbert Lipp, Enid Paradise, William Seefeldt, Seymour, Harold Smiley, Saul Spurling, Maynard Weinberg, and Ann Wolf.

Several of the political science professors are attending the conferences. Dr. Nelson McGeary is the delegation advisor.

Crawford States Policy On Fall Trailer Leases

Windcrest residents who will not occupy their College trailers this summer will have the same trailer back next Fall, according to Burgess Thomas Crawford. No private belongings may be stored in the trailers during the summer months, as they will be occupied by other couples.

In order to retain the trailers for the summer it is necessary to attend the summer sessions or to be employed by the College, Crawford added.

Private trailers must be taken away or sub-leased to others and cannot be left vacant by just paying the ground rent.

Thespians, Sports Boyd Raeburn Plays at Ball; Theme Is 'Night in Venice'

Houseparty dances, the Thespian show "Varsity Sweetheart," baseball, lacrosse, and Inter-Fraternity Ball with Boyd Raeburn and his orchestra are among the big events listed for IFC weekend, today and tomorrow.

Tickets for tonight's semi-formal dance at Recreation Hall from 9 to 1 are on sale at Student Union today and will be on sale at the door tonight, according to James Jones, ticket chairman. They are priced at $4 including tax.

Thespian Show Continues Run

"Varsity Sweetheart," Thespians Spring production, opened its three night run in Schwab Auditorium at 7 o'clock last night before a capacity audience. Tonight and tomorrow night the musical variety show will be seen by reserved seat houses.

The show romps through "The Fertilizer Ball," a Pollock Circle picture of fraternities, a comic opera Artist course, a few glimpses of Penn State through the eyes of Henry Glass, and Atherton Hall at 1 a. m., during the first act alone.

The program, a 20-page illustrated magazine, is on sale at Student Union. Members of the cast and crews may pick up their copies there.

Music and lyrics for "Varsity Sweetheart" are by Ray Fortunato and Richard Frontman respectively. Dances were staged by Bea Stern. Settings and costumes were designed by Duffield Sipes.

Paul Grove's Orchestra, directed by Richard Finger, provides the show's music.

Bea Silverstone managed the costume crew, Willard Ebersole the construction crew and Bunny Haase the paint crew.

Other crew managers are James Cuzzolina, stage; David Doan, light; Frances Glass program; Jack Saling, advertising; Jane Schlosser, props; and Jerome Trumper, house and make-up.

The entire production is under the direction of Richard Frontman, with Carol Dieckman acting as personnel director and assistant production manager.

Tonight's and tomorrow night's shows will also start at 7 o'clock. Seats for both nights are reserved.

Legislature Requests $8,500,000 Appropriation For College Operation

Appropriation of $8,500,000 for continued operation and research at the Pennsylvania State College was asked today in a measure introduced by Sen. A. H. Letzler (R-Centre-Clearfield).

Carrying out budget recommendations of Gov. James H. Duff, the measure proposed allotment of $8,105,000 for general maintenance of instruction, research and extension during the next two years and these additional allocations:

Research at the school's Agricultural Experiment Station, $15,000.

Experimental investigation of problems relating to petroleum, $50,000.

Studies to discover by-products of anthracite and bituminous coal and develop markets, $70,000.

Research in problems of state industry, $35,000; mineral industries, $40,000; and for matching similar contributions for mineral industry research $50,000.

All coeds will receive 2 o'clock permissions tonight for the IF Ball, the senate of WSGA announced today.

Theme for the dance tonight will be "A Night in Venice," with a huge drop depicting a Venice street scene. Free booths are being provided for each fraternity and refreshments will be served.

Fraternities Hold Dances

Many fraternities are holding houseparties tomorrow night. Alpha Gamma Rho and Beta Sigma Omicron are running an April Showers Dance with Buddy Wills' band; Alpha Kappa Pi and Alpha Sigma Phi are holding a joint Spring Formal with Dick Berge's band at the AKPI house; Alpha Tau Omega is having a Spring Dance with Pat Patterson and his orchestra.

Beta Sigma Rho has a Spring Frolic with Joe Knepper and his orchestra supplying music; Chi Phi and Delta Delta Delta are holding a joint Pledge Dance at the Chi Phi house with Ivan Faux and his orchestra; Delta Chi has scheduled its Annual Ranch Dance with music by Gene Sprague.

Phi Kappa Sigma has an informal Vic Dance planned; Pi Kappa Alpha's Pirate Dance will feature Sonny Royce and his orchestra; Nick Ghezzi will play for the Pi Kappa Phi Rose Ball.

Pi Lambda Phi has Les Stine scheduled to play for a Pledge Dance; Sigma Alpha Epsilon plans an informal dance tomorrow afternoon with Les Stine's Stardusters; Sigma Chi also will hold an afternoon Tea Dance with the music of the Campus Kings.

Paul Grove's orchestra will play for Sigma Pi's Orchid Dance, and Theta Chi has an informal affair planned with music by the Campus Kings; Triangle will have a South Seas Party with phonograph music. Also on tap is "Fun Nite," tomorrow night, at Recreation Hall, with dancing and games sponsored by the School of Physical Education.

Featured with the Raeburn band tonight will be Ginnie Powell on the vocals, Pete Candoli on trumpet and Buddy DeFranco with his clarinet. Others featured are Irv Kluger, Hy Mandel, Dick Noel,
