Yount, Benyish to Start
As Lions Meet Hoyas Twice

It will be up to pitchers Ken Yount and Bill Benyish today and tomorrow as Joe Bedenk's Lion nine tries for its second and third victories of the season against Georgetown on New Beaver Field.

Today's game will begin at 4 o'clock and tomorrow's tussle at 2:30 p.m.

Bedenk stated that Yount, holder of the Lions' only win this season, will take the mound today to stop Georgetown's eight-straight win spree.

Yount injured his back in the Dickinson game and was unable to take his turn on the mound last week. He did, however, go in as a pinch-hitter last Saturday and scored one of Penn State's two runs.

POWERFUL HITTER

A powerful hitter at the plate, Yount will bat in the cleanup position. Before the war he roamed the outfield for the Lions and was converted to a pitcher when Bedenk found himself without a hurling crew last year.

Benyish is also a converted outfielder who started his first game as a pitcher last Saturday and limited West Virginia to six hits. The Lion coach is also considering using Benyish and Yount at first base as he searches for find more power at the plate.

AT SECOND

Eddie Sebastianelli will play at second base and will be lead-off man in the batting order unless Bedenk has another restless night and decides to make last minute changes.

Captain Gene Sutherland has been working out all week at shortstop, but will probably start at his regular third base position.

If Sutherland plays shortstop, Whitey Kurowski will play at third for the second straight time. Kurowski handled the "hot corner" last Saturday as Sutherland served as third base coach.

Bill Shellenberger will be at first base again. Shellenberger took over Chuck MacFarland's spot last Saturday when Bedenk moved the heavy slugger to right field.

HOLLER BACK

Ed Holler, who caught the first two games this season and then retired with several broken ribs, has recovered and will catch today's game with Don Herb or George McWilliams behind the plate tomorrow.

Holler's return to duty will give the Lions' tail end of the batting order a boost and his arm should pick off stolen base seekers.

Pete Berletic will play at shortstop today under the present Bedenk plans and will bat seventh in the lineup.

The outfield will remain the same as last Saturday with Don Stark, Bill Davis and Chuck MacFarland roaming the outfield.

Stark is currently leading the Lions at the plate with a .500 average. The small leftfielder has 11 hits including a good assortment of extra base hits, but he connected for only two out of eight times at bat against West Virginia.

It is doubtful if the Lion mentor will be able to continue using two different sets of centerfielders in the Navy contest because of the injuries and the shifting of Tenhula to defense. The probable lineups:

Practices Monday and yesterday were halted by the weather, and with only two matches under their belts the Fogmen are decided underdogs.

Intra-squad playoffs have as yet failed to uncover Fogg's starting lineup. The only slot definitely occupied is the number one position, with Captain Walt Stenger again in that rung.

Bob Tuttle, Dick Greenawalt, Dick Clarkson and Herb Beckhard will fill-in numbers two to five, with the order as yet undecided.

The last berth is wide open, with Frank Pessolano, Ray Fink, Lyle Johnston, Dan Moses, Dave Miller and several others still waging battles to determine who will see action.

Lion Gridders to Scrimmage Against Washington and Jefferson

Penn State's gridders will wind up their first post-war spring training period with a practice scrimmage game against Washington and Jefferson at New Beaver Field, 1:30 o'clock tomorrow.

Football practice will resume August 18 when the Lions prepare for the Washington State game at Hershey September 20.

Lion coach Bob Higgins will not use any definite lineup against W&J, but will shift his 50-man squad around so as to give each man maximum amount of scrimmage experience.

OUTSTANDING

Outstanding on the President's team is Dan Towler, 210-pound fullback who was all-state scholastic fullback at Donora two years ago.

W&J end coach is former Nittany Lion star Bob Davis. Davis played end for the Pittsburgh Steelers last fall.

The Lions traveled to West Point earlier this spring for a scrimmage with Army. The Cadets outscored Penn State two touchdowns to one.

Higgins expressed satisfaction with his boys' performance during the spring campaign and said that practice scrimmage against a strange team would do wonders for his 1947 team.

The Lions have been experimenting with the T-formation to supplement the traditional single wing attack. However, Higgins stated that the plays were still too new to be used with any great degree of success as yet.

NEXT FALL

When training is resumed next fall, Penn State will be bolstered by a host of candidates from the various state teacher's colleges.

It is hoped that Johnny Chuck-ran, ace wartime tailback, will be in top form. He hasn't seen action this spring because of an shin injury incurred in the gym.

IM Softball Leagues
Begin Competition

Cheerleaders

All sophomore girls interested in trying out for cheer leaders should report in front of Old Main 6:30 o'clock Monday evening, according to Hal Benjamin, head cheer leader.

Mr. 'Soccer'

Penn State's Bill Jeffrey is intercollegiate soccer's most aggressive champion.

On Alien Soil

Five of Penn State's nine football games next Fall will be played on foreign soil.
