FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 9, 1947—STATE COLLEGE, PENNA.

Engineer Council Sponsors First Post-War Open House

For the first time since the war, the School of Engineering will open its doors to the public with an "Open House" program from 2 to 10 o'clock Saturday.

Sponsored by the Engineering Student Council and operated by the combined efforts of the faculty and students, the "Open House" is held so that the public will get a better understanding of what the various curricula offer in the field of engineering.

There will be no conducted tours through the buildings, but visitors can see all the demonstrations by following the red arrows which will be put at appropriate places.

The circuit starts in Main Engineering at the Architectural Engineering exhibits on the third floor. There a series of interiors of buildings and construction drawings of different types of buildings will be shown. An exhibit of water colors, oils, pencil and charcoal drawings will be presented by the fine arts department.

All mechanical engineers interested in the "Open House" are urged to report to the Main Engineering Laboratory anytime tomorrow morning.

In the basement of Main Engineering the civil engineering department will have displays concerning the treatment of water pertaining to public health. In Engineering A they will have a transportation section showing bituminous and non-bituminous testing equipment and samples of road paving materials.

The industrial engineering displays will be shown in Engineer-

Council Adds 24 Members

Twenty-four students were elected to next year's Chemistry-Physics Student Council, according to John Branigan, chairman of All-College Elections Committee, which supervised the balloting.

Successful candidates will be installed Tuesday and will serve for the 1947-48 semesters, according to Raymond Shibley, now president of the Council. He added that new officers will be chosen from among the group after the installation.

Senior Council members include Edward Holler, John Keller, Robert Schrock, Garth Seavy, Gladys Stryker, Richard Tarbox and Jay Tenzer, representing the three chemistry curricula.

Physics seniors will be David Barron and Paul Wilkins. Annette Lanning was uncontested for the senior science post. Winning the senior pre-medical seats were Howard Fugate, William Jaffurs and Joseph O'Tousa.

Chemistry curricula juniors will be Douglas Brace, Malcolm Johnston, Jeane Nye, Robert Sankey and Robert Stokes. Martha Kremers was the only junior science nominee.

James Deets and Russell Waddell represent the physics juniors, while Abram Bosler and Michael Kutsenkow gained the junior pre-medical posts. James Fessler, a sophomore pre-medical student, will also serve on the Council.

Pershing Rifles

The College Pershing Rifles Company will pay tribute to the man for whom the national society was named, General of the Armies John J. Pershing, at the Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D. C., on Sunday, Col. Ben-Hur Chastaine said today.

Dairy Club Holds Mother Day Show

Demonstrations in ice cream manufacture, tours of the College creamery and a coed milking contest will be among the events on the Dairy Science Club program at the College Stock Pavilion 1:15 p. m. tomorrow.

Stages in the manufacture of dairy products and tests used in manufacturing will give variety to the fitting and showing classes in five breeds.

Following the Dairy Show, students will join in the annual Dairy Science Club banquet at the Presbyterian Church.

The College's three-generation Holstein trio of pure bred cows, which will be on display, are the only three-generation trio to be classified as "excellent" in the Holstein-Friesian Association.

Ag-Home Ec Picnic Plans For 300

The Ag-Home Ec picnic committee is making plans for three hundred guests at the student-faculty outing in Hort Woods 1 to 6 p.m. May 17, Dorothy Sherwood and Frank Campbell, co-chairmen, said today. Dinner will be served at 5 p.m.

Reporting to the Ag Student Council, F. Rudolph Brannaka, president, said two hundred couples paid in $290.74 and expenses were $372.80, leaving a net loss of $82.06.

Penn State Club To Honor Michael Blatz With Trophy

Michael A. Blatz, former Collegian editor, has been chosen by the Penn State Club as this year's outstanding independent senior man. The winner will receive a cup on Class Day and his name will be engraved on a plaque in the club room, Albert Lucas, president, said yesterday.

Blatz won the ninth annual award, revived after a lapse of three years, for his outstanding work in extra-curricular activities, according to Hugh Odza, publicity chairman.

The eighth semester journalism major was chosen for the highest non-fraternity man's award by a committee composed of Arthur R. Warnock, dean of men; George L. Donovan, Student Union manager; and Fritz Lloyd, former Inter-Fraternity Council president.

Blatz has been a member of All-College Cabinet, Blue Key, Skull and Bones, Lions Paw, Penn State Club, and Sigma Delta Chi.

He also held the positions of Froth feature editor, a managing editor of La Vie, and head cheerleader.

Previous winners of the Penn State Club award were Johnson

Seniors Limit Ticket Sale

"Only 1500 tickets will be sold for the Senior Ball," said dance co-chairmen William Dietrich and John Matternas today.

Tickets will be placed on sale at the Athletic Office in Old Main at 8 a.m. Friday, May 23. All persons who wish to buy tickets, which are priced at $3.60, are urged to get them there, as there may not be any left for sale at the box office that night.

Fraternities are encouraged to make every possible effort to find lodgings for their imports as early as possible.

If it is impossible to find rooms, they are asked to notify John Matternas, telephone 881 or 3118. Problems will be discussed after facts and figures are assembled on housing needs.

In order to allow maximum dancing space, there will be no fraternity booths, said the co-chairmen. All available chairs on campus will be used to afford the greatest possible seating capacity under the balconies.

Charlie Spivak's music, which will be heard on May 23, is de-

Best Speaker To Win Award

The John Henry Frizzell Extempore Speaking Contest will be held Monday through Friday, next week. All under-graduates, except previous prize winners, are eligible.

Awards of $50 and $25 will be given respectively to the first and second place winners. Both champions will receive the John Henry Frizzell award of merit in extempore speaking.

According to the committee, to be eligible each entrant must register in 10 Sparks at 7:30 p. m. next Monday. At this time, topics will be chosen and elimination section assignments will be made. Subjects may be picked from the list provided at the meeting, or may be of the contestants own choice, subject to the approval of the committee in charge. Mem-

Knox Crowned May Queen, Mothers Honored at Teas

May Queen

JEANNE KNOX

A colorful May Day procession, climaxed by the crowning of the May Queen, the Player's show, "I Remember Mama," Mother's Day teas in campus dormitories, and the annual concert by the College Symphony Orchestra are among the events scheduled for May Day weekend.

Jeanne Knox, attended by her court, will be crowned May Queen in a ceremony in front of Old Main, 4:30 Saturday.

Heralds Sara Levings and Clemens McMahan will announce the beginning of the procession from the steps of Old Main. Marion Hall and Barbara Keefer will perform as court jesters.

Camilla Lovett, Maid of Honor, will be preceded in the procession by Nancy Harrington and Phyllis Schmeizle, senior attendants. Joyce Hodgins and Elizabeth Fitzgerald, are junior attendants and Louise Brice and Jean Terry, sophomore attendants.

A hemlock chain of fifty senior women will form in two lines, and senior honor women will bear the arch under which the May Queen will pass.

Crowning of Queen

Miss Knox will be crowned by Jean Nelson, WSGA president. Ann Baker, WRA president, will present the leaf covered world, and Phyllis Janes, PSCA vice-president, will present a sceptre.

The Modern Dance Club and May Pole dancers will perform before the Queen and her court. Phi Mu Alpha will play the processional and recessional music, and the Louise Homer Club will sing.

Mother's Day teas, honoring all visiting mothers, will be held 2:30 p. m. Saturday. Information concerning the teas may be found on page 3.

I Remember Mama

"I Remember Mama" will have three performances this week-

VA Office Asks Veterans to Report

Veterans who plan attendance at summer school must report immediately to the Veterans Administration campus office, John H. Bone, Sr. VA Training officer advised today.

He said that those failing to report prior to May 15 will be interrupted without leave as of the last semester day.

Meanwhile the VA again urged all veteran students planning to transfer to other schools for the summer session and who have not made transfer arrangements through VA to declare their intentions as soon as possible.

Mr. Bone said that subsistence cards will be mailed within the next few days to veterans who have reported subsistence problems to their office. Veterans receiving these cards are asked to complete and return them to VA so that prompt action may be taken to clarify and adjust individual situations, Mr. Bone said.

Alpha Delta Sigma Plans Dinner

James W. Egan, advertising manager of the Toledo Blade and president of the National Newspaper Advertising Executive's Association, will be the speaker at the annual banquet and initiation of Alpha Delta Sigma, national professional advertising fraternity, in the State College Hotel, Sunday.

Before the dinner Mr. Egan will be initiated into the fraternity as an honorary member. At the same time 12 under-graduates of the College will also be initiated.

Players Stage Show By Popular Request

Because of popular request, one more performance of the Penn State Players arena production, "Skylark," will be staged May 16 at the State College Hotel, according to Kelly Yeaton, director.

Tickets will go on sale at Student Union, 8 a. m. Monday. The price, which is $1.10, includes after-theater supper.

"The last performance, a week ago, was scheduled as the end of 'Skylark's' season. However, we had to turn so many people away that we decided to give one more showing," Mr. Yeaton said.

WEATHER

Sunny and slightly warmer.

LONDON—Winston Churchill has decided to resign from the House of Commons Privileges Committee. He said the withdrawal of Prime Minister Attlee and Deputy Prime Minister Herbert Morrison weakened the committee's authority.

WASHINGTON—The administration's program of aid to Greece and Turkey received a series of test votes in the House yesterday. Republican George Bender of Ohio offered a motion to eliminate the enacting clause of the bill. The motion was defeated 127 to 37 by a standing vote.

NEW YORK—Settlement in the long lines phase of the nationwide phone walkout was up to the nine-member executive board of the American Union of Telephone Workers. The board has before it the proposed settlement for ratification. The increase in base pay for long distance operators would range from two to four dollars a week in most parts of the country.

WSS Fund Campaign Collects First $300

The College's World Students Service Fund campaign, which began Sunday and will continue through tomorrow, has so far realized only $300 of the campus goal of $3000, according to Charles Miller, general chairman.

However, Miller pointed out that these were only the first receipts, and that later receipts probably would bring the total near the desired goal.

Phi Kappa Sigma has been the largest contributor to date, having donated $38. Miller said that solicitors will contact residents of dormitories, fraternities and private homes.
