scribed as "sweet and mellow." He and his band's music-making is noted for its individuality and can be identified whenever it is played as "indubitably Charlie's."

Spivak, who has broken many records, got his first big engagement at the Glen Island Casino in New Rochelle, N. Y., the jumping off place for more than a dozen of the nation's top-flight bandleaders.

He was so successful there that the casino, traditionally a summer spot, broke the precedent by keeping its doors open for the winter season to accommodate Spivak's extended "by popular request" contract.

He later broke Glenn Miller's and Jimmy Dorsey's records at the Hotel Pennsylvania's Cafe Rouge and the Hotel Commodore.

bers of the Debate squad are not permitted to use the current debate topic.

In their assigned rooms at 7:30 p. m., Thursday, entrants will speak for five minutes without notes. One person from each section will speak in the semi-finals in 121 Sparks at approximately 8 p. m. the same evening. The original topic must be used.

The six participants chosen from the semi-finals will speak in the finals in 10 Sparks at 7:30 p. m., Friday. Finalists must select a new topic, in conference with Professor Schug, in his office, 311 Sparks, by appointment. Final speeches will be eight to ten minutes in length and must be delivered without notes.

This event is more than a half-century old. It was recently renamed in honor of Dr. Frizzell, the first head of the speech department at the College, who retired with emeritus rank on June 30, 1946 after nearly 45 years of teaching.

Dugan 'Salute's State In June Magazine

"The Trouble with College" by James Dugan, former Penn State and past Froth editor, gives the College national publicity in the June issue of "Salute" magazine—that's "Yank" with a ruptured duck—now on sale.

Culminating a six month national survey, the report considers inadequate subsistence and housing shortages to be the main student veteran problems. Case
