NEW ORLEANS—Al Chittenden, president of the New Orleans A-F-of-L Longshoreman's Union, says that labor chiefs will meet next week to consider a possible one-day general strike. The demonstration, if approved, would be planned as protest against labor legislation now being completed by Congress.

WASHINGTON—The Senate, by a 68-to-24 majority, went on record yesterday for an all-purpose bill considerably tougher than the one written by the labor committee of the upper chamber. However, the House labor bill is tougher, and the two must be brought into agreement before the measure goes to the president for his signature or veto.

WASHINGTON—Senate voting for a $350,000,000 measure for foreign relief has been set for 2 p.m. (EDT) today, and observers say the measure will be approved. The House also has okayed the bill, but reduced the figure to $200,000,000.

WASHINGTON—The Senate Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce heard a warning yesterday of a threat to the freedom of the press and to a man's right to use hair tonic. This double-barreled hazard, the Senators were told, lurks in a bill introduced by Kansas Republican Arthur Capper to forbid interstate transmission of liquor advertising. Witnesses in favor of the bill declared that the public is being duped into believing that liquor is essential to scholarship, ideal romance and wholesome family life.

There was no committee comment on the freedom of the press issue, but one senator did admit that the present wording of the bill—which would affect high-proof hair tonic—is, indeed, a little too broad.

Coed Singers Give Concert

Treble Singers will present its annual free concert in Schwab Auditorium, 8 p.m., Friday. This affair leads off co-ed weekend for which the Mortar Board Carnival and the Pan-Hel Sing are also scheduled.

Patricia Lloyd, Jeane Nye and Josephine Stanley compose a trio which will sing several numbers. Among these is a medley of two popular songs, "I Don't Know Why" and "It's the Talk of the Town."

The chorus offers a variety of selections from popular songs to folk songs. "All the World's in Love" by Woodman-Dies will open the program. The chorus will form the background for Ann Reese Cline who will be soloist in "Sylvain" by Sinding-Branscombe.

Two of Cole Porter's most famous compositions, "Night and Day" and "Begin the Beguine," will be offered as a piano duet by Miss Ethel Pittman and Guy Woods, assistant professor of music and director of Treble Singers.

Public Affairs Committee Shows Delinquency Films

Movies on juvenile delinquency will be shown in 10 Sparks at 10, 2:20 and 4:20 o'clock tomorrow by the Public Affairs Film committee. According to Miss Jean Moore, chairman of the committee, the titles of these films will be announced tomorrow.

This will be the last showing of the Public Affairs films, which have been presented in the interest of a better informed student body.

Trustees List Appointments

Appointment of five new faculty members was among the personnel changes approved at the weekend meeting of the executive committee of the Board of Trustees at the College.

Dr. Paul W. Bixby was appointed associate professor of elementary education effective September 1. George F. Deasy will join the faculty September 16 as associate professor of geography, and Dr. John C. Garey on August 1 as associate professor of bacteriology.

Effective September 1, Dr. Vernon E. Scheid will assume his post as associate professor of economic geology. Dr. William M. Smith Jr., formerly of the University of Illinois and the University of Arkansas, was appointed associate professor of home economics effective July 1.

The executive committee also approved a number of retirements. Effective June 30, retirements were approved for Gustav E. Cohen, associate professor of chemistry, and May D. Kemp, assistant professor of home management extension.

Cecil J. Irvin, who has been associated with the College for 25 years, was granted retirement from his post as assistant professor of experimental agronomy and superintendent of farms, effective June 30. On August 31, Eureka E. Nitzkowski, home economics extension representative in Luzerne county, will retire.

Promotions approved included Dr. Russell E. Larson, from associate professor to professor of plant breeding, and Dr. Stephen Gordeuk Jr., from assistant professor to associate professor of animal pathology research.

WSSF Collects $471 Of $3000 Quota

Of the $3000 quota for the College's World Student Service Fund campaign, only $471.41 has been collected to date. Solicitors will continue to contact fraternities, sororities and independent houses.

Miss Jean Stiles, assistant to the Dean of Women, stresses the importance of student contributions to the fund.

"Through the World Student Service Fund, we, as students and faculty, are given the opportunity of sharing our privileges with less fortunate individuals," said Miss Stiles.

"Our contributions will help 400,000 students in Europe to continue their education and, thereby, contribute to a united future world," she concluded.

The following are totals to date:
Faculty ..... $136.12
Fraternities ..... 237.92
Independent Men .... 22.60
Women's Dormitories.. 74.77

Pershing Rifles Win Recognition

Company B-5 of the College Pershing Rifles won second place in rifle marksmanship and in drill competition, and was given special recognition for outstanding rifle and marching drill at the Pershing Rifles convention at the University of Maryland on Saturday and Sunday, Bernard Rudnick, commanding officer, said yesterday.

Other companies of the Fifth Regiment that competed were City College of New York, Cornell, Maryland and Lehigh universities.

During the convention, officers for the Fifth Regimental staff were elected. These include Cadet Col. Bernard H. Rudnick, regimental commander; Cadet Lt. Col. Edward T. Cohee, Jr., executive officer; and Cadet Major Theodore Bacha, adjutant.

Pollock Circle Tops Quota

"Pollock Circle is the first campus organization to go over the top in the present cancer drive," said Harry Patchin, representative of the College Health Education Service, yesterday.

The Circle's goal was $100, and they contributed $122, the donations being collected in the dining hall by members of Council who volunteered their time for the cause.

To date, no other organizations have reported on their donations toward the campus goal of $1000. Mr. Patchin said that for the past four years Penn State has led all colleges in the nation in the fight against cancer.

'New Vet' Author, Bolte, To Speak

Charles Bolte, AVC national chairman and author of "The New Veteran," will speak in Schwab Auditorium at 8 p.m. Monday. He is now speaking in New England on the subject of "The Veteran's Place in the American Scene." Earl Kemmler, College chapter chairman, said yesterday that it is quite possible that Bolte will speak on the same topic when he appears here.

Publicity chairman, Melvin Katsinsky said that there will be no charge for the talk by Bolte. Sponsoring Bolte's talk are AVC, Common Sense Club, IFC, IMA, ISC, Mortar Board, Penn State Club, PSCA, WRA, WSGA, and X-GI Club.

In December, 1946, Bolte introduced the resolution barring Communists from AVC. Along with Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and Harold Stassen, he has been active in organizing the Americans for Democratic Action, a progressive organization of the nation's outstanding liberals.

General Omar Bradley described Bolte as a leading veteran of World War II. L. K. Neidlinger, dean of men at Dartmouth, said that he was a typical American college student.

Four Flyers Attend Meet

Four members of the Penn State Flying Club will compete in the National Inter-Collegiate Air Meet at the University of Michigan, May 30, 31, and June 1.

Henry S. Myers Jr., assistant in petroleum refining at the College and president of the Penn State club will be accompanied by Reginald Eggleton, graduate student, and Wyn Entis and Howard Maxwell, undergraduate members.

They will fly to the meet in the Club's two planes, a Taylorcraft and a Piper Cub. They will leave State College, Friday, May 30, and will return sometime Monday, June 2.

The meet, which is sanctioned by the National Aeronautical Association will feature competition in spot landings, bomb dropping, and safe flying techniques.

Block and Bridle Club

At a recent meeting of the Block and Bridle Club, James Work was elected president; Tom King, vice-president; Maria Hughes, secretary; Robert Houston, treasurer; and James Shriver, marshal.

Common Sense Meeting

Common Sense Club will meet in 107 Main Engineering at 7:30 tonight. According to Leo Troy, president, nominations and elections of next semester's officers will be held. All members are urged to attend as this is the last meeting of the semester.

Coeds To Re-Vote On Senior Women

A re-vote will have to be taken, said Janet Lyons, chairman of the Senior Honor Women committee. Previous voting has resulted in a triple tie within the first six places and a double tie in the last place.

Graduating women may vote in the Dean of Women's office today and until 5 o'clock tomorrow, she said. Ballots will be provided on which each co-ed may check six choices from a list of twenty who received the highest number of votes in the last election.

Candidates Listed

Those whose names will appear are Lois App, Ann Baker, Jean Dalton, Carol Deickmann, Phoebe Forrest, Catherine Garrett and Rosemary Ghantous.

Joan Harrington, Nancy Harrington, Sally Holstrom, Lynette Lundquist, Margaret Martin, Jean Nelson and Florence Ratchford.

Marie Schanbacher, Jeanne Schrumph, Vera Slezak, Janet Taylor, Patricia Trester and Mary Lou Waygood.

Honor Titles

Of this group, those placing among the first six will receive traditional honor titles of Bow Girl, Slipper Girl, Fan Girl, Mirror Girl, Class Poet and Class Donor. Co-eds filling the next ten spots will be recommended for All-College Cabinet Awards.

"I can't remember anything like this ever happening before," said Pearl O. Weston, acting dean of women, yesterday. "A re-vote is certainly the fairest way of settling the problem."
