Lion Nine Meets Green Terrors After Blanking Bucknell 2-0

Following Wednesday's 2-0 shut-out over Bucknell, Coach Joe Bedenk will send Ken Yount to the mound at New Beaver Field, as the Lions meet Western Maryland at 4 o'clock today.

The second game of the series will be played at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow with Bob Gehrett as the Lions' starting hurler. The Green Terrors have won four out of seven games.

Gehrett pitched the Bedenkmen to their second straight shutout over Bucknell Wednesday afternoon and set the Bisons down with three hits. Eddie Sebastienelli's single with the bases loaded in the ninth inning pushed across the winning runs, as Penn State won 2-0.

NAILED AT PLATE

The Bisons got to Gehrett for two hits in the first inning, but Johnny Potsklan's fine throw from centerfield to catcher Ed Holler at the plate cut off the Bucknell rally.

Pitching one of the best games of his career, Gehrett didn't give the Bisons another hit until shortstop Halter singled in the ninth.

The Bedenkmen had a hard time solving the pitches of Art

Raynor, star Bison hurler who is being watched by the Brooklyn Dodgers, until the ninth inning when George McWilliams singled with one out. Gehrett also singled and Harold Hackman walked to fill the bases.

Sebastienelli's single to left scored McWilliams and Gehrett with the winning runs.

Netters Encounter Syracuse, Colgate

When the Penn State tennis team faces the Colgate University squad at Hamilton, N. Y., Saturday, all eyes will be focused on the day's feature match when Lion Captain Walt Stenger pairs off against Captain Frank Warren of the Red Raiders.

In this second engagement between the two, the Blue and White number one man will be seeking revenge from last week's grueling match when he lost to Warren, 7-5, 3-6, 15-13.

The Nittany netters departed yesterday for upper New York State, where Friday they will encounter Syracuse and Saturday, Colgate.

The Orangemen from Syracuse were recently dealt an 8-1 defeat by Colgate, and Coach Sherman Fogg of the Nittany Lions points toward the Syracuse match as a better than even bet for the State team to record its initial win.

With Stenger at number one, Greenawalt, Tuttle, Beckhard, Clarkson and Pessolano will more than likely complete the line-up, although their order is uncertain.

Score by innings:

Two-base hits, Williams, MacFarland. Base on balls, off Gehrett 1, off Raynor 5. Struck out, by Gehrett 5, by Raynor 7.
Umpires, Biemenderfer, Hancock.

Karver Takes a Rest as...

Three Nittany Trackmen Out for Colgate Meet

Penn State's track team journeys to Colgate tomorrow seeking its second win, while three Nittany Lion standouts stay at home.

Gerry Karver, IC-4A champion and outstanding college miler in the nation, will not make the trip, nor will half-miler Bill Shuman and sprinter Mitch Williams.

Karver, who will run the Coliseum Mile at Los Angeles next week against the cream of the country's milers, will take a rest this weekend.

The Nittany Lion star ran a 4:11.6, the top college mile in five years, to nose out Jack Dianetti of Michigan State last week.

Shuman aggravated a foot injury last week, and Williams sustained a pulled tendon against Michigan State.

"EVENING UP"

Karver will run next weekend while the rest of the team is inactive, so Lion coach Chick Werner feels that he is "evening up" for the Penn State star who went through the tough cross country, indoor, and outdoor grind since last fall.

Curt Stone will run the two-mile for the Lions while Horace

Ashenfelter will drop down to the half tomorrow.

Soccermen Face Alums

A soccer squad, composed of graduating members of last Fall's team and graduate students, will encounter the booters which will make up Coach Bill Jeffrey's 1947 edition in a game on the golf course field at 2:45 o'clock tomorrow.

Walt Hosterman, Ramsey Gurdway, Paul Bender, Lloyd Black, Boyd Ethers, Bill Dietrich, Dick Nicholas, Bill Jeffrey himself, and several alumni will complete the graduating team's roster.

Lacrossmen Risk Win Streak In Colgate, Hobart Contests

Riding high on the crest of a three-game winning streak, and fresh from a week of claw-sharpening under the tutelage of Coach Nick Thiel, a 19-man Lion lacrosse squad opens a two-game New York stand when it faces-off with the Red Raiders of Colgate at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Coached by Mark Randall, former director of military education at Hamilton College, the Colgate stickmen last met the Nittany lacrossers in 1940 when they whipped the Lions by an 11-3 count.

On Saturday, the Thielmen journey to Geneva for their second weekend encounter with Hobart College. Hoping for a repeat performance of their 14-6 win over Hobart in 1946, the Lions will have to be at full strength to down "Babe" Krause's potent stick-wielders.

Boasting a pair of 200-pound defensemen in Bob and "Tiny" Williamson, the Hobart performers have garnered five wins and two losses in competition this season.

LINE-UP

For the Lions, Coach Nick Thiel will start the same ten that opposed Drexel last week. Captain George Locotos will take over at the center position with veterans Rog Nestor and Ernie Baer on the wings.

On the offense, Art Lorenz, Buddy Thomas and Ken Kerwin will answer the opening whistle at the attack posts, while goalie Bill Hollenbach, John Pfirman, Art Tenhula and Pete Johnson fill in on defense.

Golfers Compete In Championships

Fresh from their victory in the Group III playoffs in Ithaca last week, Penn State's golf squad yesterday afternoon journeyed to Atlantic City for the EIGA finals this weekend.

For the championship matches, Coach Rutherford has chosen the same squad which downed Cornell, Army, and Pitt in the group playoffs last weekend.

This team includes Harper and Smith, Klein and Hart, and Noble and Hack; with Dave See as alternate.

The Nittany linksmen will meet Princeton, Group II champs, on Saturday morning. The winner of this match will encounter the winner of the Brown-Navy tilt for the EIGA championship, in the afternoon. The loser of this match is automatically awarded second place.

Third place will go to the winner of an afternoon match between Saturday morning's two losers.
