GRANDVIEW, Mo.—The President's 94-year-old mother, Mrs. Martha Truman, is said to have become momentarily stronger last night. The President will be joined in Grandview by his daughter Margaret, who cancelled her scheduled concert in Pittsburgh tonight.

LAKE SUCCESS—The first of the major Axis partners, Italy, has presented a formal bid for membership in the United Nations. But the main work of the UN yesterday took place in the UN's sub-commission on freedom of information.

WASHINGTON—The President sent a message to Congress appealing for at least a start on a nation-wide health plan. Senate-House conferees forecast that the compromise labor bill will not contain an outright ban on health and welfare funds. However, Congressional leaders Taft and Lucas agreed that there's practically no chance of the President's health plan going through at this session.

WASHINGTON—The United States Supreme Court handed down two decisions yesterday. The tribunal held that the Constitution gives newspapers freedom to criticize the way in which judges conduct a case. The court also upheld the unionization of industrial plant guards in the same unions which represent production workers.

Thirty-three Debaters Participate in Annual Public Speaking Contest

Thirty-three of the College's best debaters will compete against each other in the annual term-end public speaking contest tonight, according to Harris Gilbert, new men's debate team manager.

The contest provides debate squad members with a final opportunity to demonstrate their improvement as public speakers, in both subject matter and delivery, said Gilbert.

The subject for discussion is the national collegiate debate topic, as reworded, "Should labor be given a direct share in the management of industry?"

The squad will be divided into three sections, in which each man will speak 10 minutes. The judges will choose two men from each section to compete in the finals.

The judges for the preliminaries are Section A, Joseph F. O'Brien, chairman; William Hamilton, and Lucretia Kennedy; Section B, Holle G. DeBoer, chairman; Jeanne Hann and Milton J. Bergstein; Section C, Coleman C. Bender, chairman; Mildred B. Fee, and Grace Williams.

The finals will be held in 121 Sparks at 7 o'clock tomorrow.

MI Students Elect New Fall Council Today

Elections for representatives to the MI Student Council for 1947-48 will take place today from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the vestibule of the MI building according to Fred Nicholas, chairman of the MI Student Council.

Opera to Open Artists' Series

Puccini's "Madame Butterfly," will open the 1947-48 Artists' Course Series at Schwab auditorium November 17 and 18, Dr. C. E. Marquardt, chairman of the Artists' Course committee said yesterday. The advance sale by mail begins Thursday and will continue until June 10.

Jon Crain, an American tenor, and Nino Scatolini, Italian tenor, have been selected to play Lt. Pinkerton, Desire Defrere, stage director of the Metropolitan for the past 16 years, will be the artistic director, while Edwin MacArthur will conduct and serve as music director for the performance.

Other programs included in next year's series are Carol Brice, contralto, January 12, 13; the National Symphony Orchestra, March 15, 16; and William Kappell, pianist, April 22, 23.

Application blanks for tickets are now available at Student Union and must be mailed before the June 10 closing date, Dr. Marquardt said. Tickets will cost $6.90 and $8.10, tax included.

Each number of the series will be presented on two successive nights, so applicants are requested to indicate which night they

Army Activates College Hospital Ship Platoon, Combat Engineer Bn

The Organized Reserve Corps will activate the 455th Hospital Ship Platoon and the 1453rd Engineer Combat Battalion at the College 7 o'clock tonight, Col. James B. Carroll, senior instructor, Organized Reserve Corps, Eastern Penna. Military District, said yesterday.

Activation ceremonies will take place at 212 East College avenue, with Col. Lester R. Albert, assistant senior instructor, ORC, officiating.

Capt. William L. Welsh, 903 Willard street, and Capt. John H. Light, 317 Gill street, have been assigned to the hospital ship platoon.

State College residents assigned to the Engineer battalion are Lt. Col. Hugh B. Rice, commanding officer, 1125 South Atherton street, and Major George S. Denithorne, executive officer, 701 West College avenue.

Captain Welsh, who will command the hospital platoon, served in the Asiatic-Pacific theatre during the war. He saw service in New Guinea, Philippine Islands, and Japan, and was awarded the Combat Medical Badge. He is a graduate of the College and Jefferson Medical College.

Time Tables

Time tables for the Fall Semester are now on sale at 15 cents per copy, according to Ray V. Watkins, College scheduling officer.

Broken Appeal About Broken Typewriters Lures Donations

Managing-Editor Foster's broken appeal emanating from a broken typewriter achieved instant results yesterday.

A collection was taken up in the Daily Collegian office after Managing-Editor Foster's dire need was made known.

Managing-Editor Foster now has $18 and four IOU's totalling $83.02, which is obviously enough to buy a new typewriter.

Penn Staters have once more risen to the challenge of a great cause.

Handbook Names Staffs

Editorial and advertising staffs have been selected for the 1947-48 issue of Student Handbook, announced Richard Sarge, editor-in-chief, and Jack Strickland, advertising manager. This issue of Student Handbook will serve to orient newcomers to the campus next fall.

Benjamin French and Arthur Stober will serve as associate editors, and Fred Hazelwood as business manager.

The editorial staff is composed of Dale Eberle, Joan Fox, Billie Grove, Marion Holmes, Winifred Imhof, Elaine Mittelman, and Harriet Morgan.

Caleb Morris, Lorraine Munz, Nancy Parent, Ted Rubin, Rosemary Squillante, Ralph Temples, Dorothy Ward, Jane Weigle, and Mac White.

Those on the advertising staff are Bob Drucker, Raymond Galle, Alice Hecht, Barbara Hellman, Charles Horn, Jr., and Melba Kleinberger.

Froth Presents Semester Finale

Froth's final issue of the semester, "Parting Is Such Sweet Sorrow," commemorating graduating seniors and the coming Senior Ball, went on sale this morning.

One of the highlights of the issue is a picture of Miss Mimi Hart of the University of Iowa, John Robert Power's choice as Miss American Coed, 1947.

Among its many features, this final issue contains a one-sentence paragraph story by Harold Philpott entitled "Harold" and a hypothetical argument, "Local Pastime," by Kunin and Ward, between two taxi drivers on the relative merits of New York and Chicago.

In addition to the regular "Mug & Jester" and "Campus Faces at Places" features, there are articles on men's and women's fashions and a special Wax Impression column by Jim Frakes.

Hospitals, Industry Give Psychology Experience

Positions in hospitals and in industry are available for psychology students interested in gaining work experience during the summer, Bruce V. Moore, professor of psychology, said today.

The salaries paid for such positions are not very impressive, but the experience to be gained is of considerable value, Prof. Moore declared. Students interested should contact any professor in the department.

For those who plan to attend school this summer, the psychology department is offering a new course in advanced projective techniques for analyzing personality. Rosen Zwiieg of the Western State Psychiatric Hospital has been selected as instructor for the three-credit course, which will be given during the intersession.

Officials Request Immediate Fall Semester Registration

MacArthur Names Wilson Ag Head

Dr. Harold K. Wilson, vice-Dean and Director of Resident Instruction in the School of Agriculture, has been appointed head of the Agricultural Research Branch of the Agricultural Division of Military Resources under General of the Army Douglas MacArthur, Dean Lyman E. Jackson said today.

The appointment for a year leave from the College faculty has been approved by the Board of Trustees and will become effective July 1.

Dean Wilson said he will choose two assistants to accompany him, an expert in experiment work and one in extension. Neither of the assistants will be from the College.

Returning recently from Williamsport where he received immunization inoculations, Dean Wilson said he did not know who his successor on the faculty would be.

An expert on crop production and soil utilization, he will coordinate the experiment and extension services of the Japanese Department of Agriculture and attempt to achieve maximum production from the limited area of the five Japanese Islands.

Dean Wilson will succeed Dr. Will M. Myers, professor of cytogenetics, who returned from Japan last March after six months as head of the Agricultural Research Bureau.

Dr. Myers said today that the biggest problem: the Allied Powers faced in Japan was the production of enough food to support the population which is growing at the rate of 1,000,000 persons per year.

The Americans are on the best of relations with the Japanese who look up to them for raising their production and living standards, he said.

The Allies have the best opportunity in history to sell democracy and peace in Asia and the world by proper administration and education, he said. They will be able to accomplish this job if they are supplied with sufficient funds.

YPCA Elects Officers For Summer; Presents Constitution to Senate

Election of temporary officers to serve over the summer will be the main business at a meeting of Young Progressive Citizens of America in 417 Old Main 8 o'clock tonight.

The constitution was approved Sunday night and will be presented before the Student Welfare Senate Friday. Prospects of publishing a newsletter were also discussed. It would include national PCA news as well as social, economic and political highlights.

This organization stands for uniting progressives for year round action on educational and political problems. It is independent of all political parties.

Campus Sororities Top Goal in Cancer Drive

Campus sororities are the second group to top their quota in the present cancer drive, Constance Micelli, campus cancer drive chairman, said yesterday.

Topping their goal by $18, the sororities contributed $118. Yolanda West served as chairman of the sorority drive.

To date, the sororities and Pollock Circle are the only two campus groups to top their goal. These two groups have donated $240 towards the campus goal of $1000.

All undergraduate students and all graduate students taking undergraduate courses are asked to register for the 1947 Fall semester starting tomorrow, it was announced by College officials today.

Continuing until next Tuesday, registration will include only the filling out of schedule cards. Students are instructed to report to their department heads for details of the plan. No payment of fees will be required at this time, said Registrar William S. Hoffman.

"In the past," explained Registrar Hoffman, "two weeks and more have been lost adjusting sections at the beginning of each semester. Next year there is reason to believe that the situation will be even worse unless we take measures now to reduce confusion to a minimum."

Because of an expected 8000 students on campus next Fall, Mr. Hoffman pointed out, it will be necessary to utilize every available classroom and laboratory, and that the use of such facilities necessarily requires planning before the beginning of the semester.

It is the hope of College officials to adjust overcrowded sections and to iron out other problems during the summer months so as to be able to furnish each student with "an assured schedule" at the opening of the new term.

Mac Dining Room Open for Summer

MacAllister Hall dining room will be open for all students during the Main Summer Session, revealed the office of the purchasing agent, today.

Meal tickets at $9 per week will be sold for the six week period. It was announced that there would be no dining facilities at all during the Post Session. However, plans are subject to change.

This move was taken primarily because the Pollock Circle Dining Commons will not be open during the summer. Also open will be Old Main Sandwich Shop, serving a la carte meals and, for women living there, the Atherton Hall dining room.
