

Exams Begin
Tuesday

The Daily Collegian

WEATHER
Cloudy and Showers

VOL. 45—No. 57

FRIDAY MORNING, MAY 23, 1947—STATE COLLEGE, PENNA.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

Big Weekend Includes Senior Ball, Carnival

College Resumes Orientation Week

Upperclassmen at the College probably remember their Freshman Week as one of combined amazement and bewilderment along with lots of fun and new friends. Well, this fall, there won't be any freshmen but the College is planning an Orientation Week for transfers that will be comparable to previous Freshmen Weeks.

The week will officially begin with an informal welcome mass meeting September 21. In the past the freshman enrollment seldom exceeded 1400 and Schwab was used for all activities, but with the expected 300 new students in the fall, Rec Hall will probably be the scene of the mass meetings.

Members of Junior Service Board, junior women's honorary, will act as junior sponsors to the new women. They will meet buses and be assigned to the living units of the transfer women to be more or less "big sisters."

There will be councillor meetings for the men sponsored by the Christian Association. Fraternity rushing will also begin during this Orientation Week.

During the week there will be our hours of school meetings at which the new students may become acquainted with the heads of their chosen departments. Four courses of psychology aptitude tests are also on the schedule.

English and mathematics placement tests, and also a complete

(Continued on page eight)

Dr. F. E. Reinartz Speaks at Schwab

Dr. Frederick E. Reinartz of the Lutheran Church House, New York City, will speak on "A Worldly Spoken" at the Chapel service in Schwab Auditorium at 11 p.m. Sunday.

The speaker was the first secretary for the promotion of the United Lutheran Church in America. He also has been pastor of the Holy Trinity Church in New York.

Dr. Reinartz attended Gettysburg College and did graduate work at Harvard. As a graduate fellow, he studied at Lutheran Theological Seminary in Gettysburg.

Class Day Set For June 8; Seniors To Receive Awards

Class Day exercises will take place on Old Main lawn at 7:30 p.m., June 8. At that time Fred Kecker, valedictorian, and Joan Harrington, salutatorian, for the Class of 1947 will make their addresses.

Awards will be presented to the 20 outstanding seniors named by All-College Cabinet and also to the Senior Honor Men and Women who include Curtis Stone, Spoon Man; Robert Foote, Barrel Man; Bronco Kosanovich, Cane Man; and Michael Blatz, Class Donor. Charles Pilegor will make the Pipe Oration.

Honor women include Mary Lou Waygood, Bow Girl; Jean Nelson, Slipper Girl; Lynette Lundquist, Fan Girl; Margaret Martin, Class Poet and Nancy Harrington, Class Donor. Florence Ratchford will make the Mirror Oration.

The gift to the College of approximately $6000 from the Class of 1947 will be presented to President Ralph Dorn Hetzel by Charles Pilegor, senior class president. This will be split among three projects, $5000 of which is to be used for a banquet

Senior Picnic

All seniors planning to go to the senior picnic must sign up at Student Union by May 29, said Lynette Lundquist, chairman. Buses will leave the Corner at 1:30 p.m. June 7, and will return at 5 p.m. and 7 p.m.

Cabinet Elects New Committees

All-College Cabinet, led by newly-elected prexy Thomas J. Lannen, named and approved appointments and committees for 1947-48, in its first post-election meeting last night.

Greatest dispute arose over the selection of delegates to represent Penn State at the National Student Organization Convention at the University of Wisconsin in August. According to the rules set up by this organization, which is dedicated to organizing students to better solve their varied problems, Penn State is allowed four voting delegates.

Six nominations were received from the floor by Lannen. A half-hour debate followed which finally resulted in the electing of Jane Fouracre, Eugene Fulmer, Allan Ostar, and Robert Troxell for the trip.

In further Cabinet voting, Harris Gilbert was named the new parliamentarian; Public Occasions appointees were Claire Parks and John L. Sigler.

To assist the newly-named chairman of Tribunal, Alan Hack, Cabinet voted in Jeff Hathaway, Richard Morgan, William Reimer, Ted Rubin, Robert Sankey, George Schantz, and Steve Yuhas.

Jane Spicher will head next year's Womens Judiciary Board. She will be assisted by Mary Margaret Barnett, Lois Heyd, Phyllis James, Marion Memory, Jean Moul, Mary K. Rice, and Joan Seltzer.

The Elections Committee will be led by William Staley. Other members elected to his committee are David Adelman, Charles Bushnell, Nan James, Creston Ottmiller, Mary Pennel, J. Arthur Stober, and Marion Swetlick.

Jane Weigle will be chairman of the Book Exchange Committee, assisted by Joanne Hobbs, Eleanor Kelly, Joseph W. Kelly, Anne Lantz, Frank Rugh, John Zora and William Walker, who volunteered to serve on the committee without compensation.

Members of the Forensic Council

(Continued on page eight)

Guest Conductors Lead Blue Band

Eleven guest conductors will each lead a selection in the Blue Band, Outdoor "Pop" concert on the front campus at 3:30 Sunday. In advent of rain the concert will be in Schwab Auditorium.

A lighter type of music than the indoor concert will comprise the program. Many marches and semi-popular pieces will be presented.

Marjorie Rex will conduct a number from the last Blue Band concert, "Eighteenth Century Drawing Room" by Raymond Scott. Other numbers from the last concert are "Pavanne" by Morton Gould, Jo Rotili conducting; and March of the Pioneers" by Carleton Colby, E. Joanne Broberg conducting.

Cole Porter's "I Get a Kick Out of You" will be under the baton of William Barwis. R. Penn Miner will direct the love scene from "Boris Godunov" by Mos-sorsky. "Grandioso" by Seitz will be conducted by Leonard Dileanis and "Amparita Roca" by Frank Hess.

Among the marches on the program are the "March of Youth" directed by Fred Swingle, the "Gloria" march by James Beach, and "Worlds Events" march by Ernest Rotili. E. Carol Broberg

(Continued on page eight)

Daily Collegian

Last edition of the Daily Collegian will be published Tuesday, not today, as previously announced. All stories and advertisements should be turned in at the Collegian office by 4 p.m. Monday.

La Vie Appoints Hutchison Editor

Robert Hutchison has been named editor-in-chief of the 1947-48 La Vie staff reported Seymour Rosenberg, present editor today.

Other appointments on the new staff are Stanton Roth, managing editor; Marjorie Mousley, photo editor; Lois High, Alan Ostar and Jean Posey, associate editors.

Barbara Jelen, and Mary Kathryn Rice, assistant photo editors; Harriet Morgan, woman's editor; and Robert Widder, art editor.

Those on the Senior Board include Martin Brill, Eleanor Fehnel, Donna Outman, Louise Smith, Elizabeth Watts and Selma Zasofsky.

This year's La Vie, the first printed since 1944, won't be available before September, said Rosenberg. All graduating seniors will be mailed copies of the yearbook at their home address as soon as it is published.

PSCA All-College Cabin Party Slated Tomorrow

An All-College Cabin Party will be held at the PSCA cabinet tomorrow, according to Barbara Keefe and Scott Rhoades, co-chairmen of the cabin committee. Those planning to attend should sign up at 304 Old Main before noon tomorrow.

The party will leave from the rear of Old Main at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon, and will return Sunday morning. Cabin party activities will include a doggie roast, hiking, and a square dance.

Committees in charge of the party are Billie Blair and Louise Conte, advertising; Ruth Gilmore and Jean Moore, food; Warren Myers and Earl Sherwood, transportation; and Betty Hemphill, program.

Last Dance Features Spivak; Mortar Board Backs Festival

CHARLIE SPIVAK

Pa. Publishers Hear Seltzer

Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Cleveland Press, will be one of the guest speakers at the annual Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association press conference to be held at the College starting tomorrow.

At the opening session this afternoon, a panel discussion will be conducted by three graduates of the American Press Institute. They are John C. Calpin, assistant city editor, the Philadelphia Evening Bulletin; Edward Johnston, city editor, the Chester Times; and Stuart S. Taylor, picture editor, the Bulletin.

The annual PNPA banquet will be held in the Nittany Lion Inn at 6:30 tomorrow night. Prof. Franklin C. Banner, head of the journalism department, will preside.

Principal speaker at the banquet will be the Honorable Clarence J. Brown, Congressman from Ohio. Mr. Brown will speak on "The Washington Picture."

Tonight at an informal banquet newspapermen will hear Editor Seltzer speak on "The Newspaper and Its Community."

(Continued on page seven)

Application blanks for deferment of fees for the 1947-48 fall semester are now ready at the office of the bursar. Applications may be filed without fee up to and including August 26, according to the bursar's office. Fall semester fees will be paid October 17.

Senior Ball with Charlie Spivak, and the Mortar Board Carnival will feature the weekend activities as campus social events draw to a close for the semester.

The Mortar Board Carnival site has been changed to the area behind the Phi Delta Theta house, and will continue from 2 to 5 p.m.

Charlie Spivak, his trumpet and orchestra, will provide the music at the Senior Ball in Rec Hall from 9 o'clock tonight until 1 a.m. Coeds have been granted "two o'clocks" to attend the dance.

The advance sale, limited to 1,500 tickets at $3.60, will begin at 8 o'clock this morning at the AA windows in Old Main, according to dance co-chairmen William Dietrich and John Matternas.

Students are urged to purchase their tickets as early as possible to insure entrance to the "no corsage" dance which features a Spring theme.

Extra dancing space has been provided by abandoning the fraternity booth system. Added chairs will also be located throughout Rec Hall to increase the seating capacity for Senior Ball guests.

Featured with "the man who plays the sweetest trumpet in the world" are the Stardreamers.

Spivak, before forming his own band, was rated as the most sought-after free-lance trumpeter in the country.

After forming his own outfit,

(Continued on page eight)

Biography Book Appears at SU

Initial issue of "Who's Who in the News" at Penn State will be released Tuesday, according to Stephen Sinichak, editor of the new book published by Sigma Delta Chi and Theta Sigma Phi.

Students whose biographies appear in the book and who are eligible to receive the book may pick up their two copies at Student Union on Tuesday by signing for them.

Details for purchasing extra copies of Who's Who will be mentioned later, the editor added.

Distribution will be made to all departments of the College, to the leading newspapers of the Commonwealth and to all colleges and universities of the state.

Copies will also be mailed to each fraternity and sorority in State College and to those students who are entitled to copies and have left the College.

The publication, which lists 249 students, serves to give recognition to them for their efforts in campus activities.

(Continued on page eight)

News Briefs

ROTC Absentees

All absentees from Wednesday's Army ROTC common "R" formation must present a military letter of explanation to Major Powhida by 10 a.m. Monday.

Sigma Delta Chi

All members of Sigma Delta Chi, National Journalism Professional Fraternity, are urged to attend a meeting in 115 Carnegie Hall, 7 p.m. Monday. Elections will be held.

Room Keys

All women students, as soon as they are through with exams, may turn their room keys in to Miss Mobus at Atherton Hall and receive a certificate for $5 which can be collected at the Office of the Bursar.

Engineering Lecture

Probst Elliot Dunlop Smith of the Carnegie Institute of Technology will speak on the topic "Personnel Management" at the Senior Engineering Lecture in 121 Sparks at 4:20 o'clock today.

Gamma Phi Beta

Gamma Phi Beta celebrated its fifteenth anniversary on campus last week-end. Activities included an alumnae open house, a banquet at the Allencrest, a Yacht Party, and a buffet luncheon.

Far East Talk

"The Bible and Archeology" will be the subject of a talk by Dr. Francis Steele at 304 Old Main, 4 p.m. Sunday. Dr. Steele, an authority on archeology in the Far East, will be the guest of the Penn State Bible Fellowship.