Miss Kirk, late professor of elementary education at the College, was one of the founders of the campus chapter and was its adviser from 1936 to 1943.

Don't Forget Bows, Sophs, Warns WSGA Prexy

Incoming sophomore women students are reminded by WSGA President, Suzanne Romig, to wear blue and white hair bows and name cards from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. during the first week of classes.

According to Miss Romig, the customs are not to be considered a punishment, as were Frosh customs in past years. The distinctive bows and cards are to aid new students in becoming acquainted with upperclassmen, professors, and each other.

Bows and cards of the prescribed size and style may be purchased in the local five and ten cent store.

WRA Stages Co-ed Frolic

The only strictly female building on campus, White Hall, will be the scene of much merry-making tonight from 7 to 9, according to Lee Ann Wagner, WRA president.

Women's Recreation Association invites all incoming sophomore and transfer women students to participate in the activities planned.

Proposed entertainment includes a modern dance and swimming demonstration, a tour of the building, and demonstration of various equipment.

Refreshments and chatter will complete the "ladies night," according to Miss Wagner.
