Summer Students Enjoy Four Artist Concerts

There were four artists course concerts held in Schwab Auditorium during the summer.

The opening number on July 10 featured the Yaysnoff sisters, June Tanya and Iris Alexandrovna, composer-pianists. On July 17 the Russian Stars of Opera under the musical direction of Antin Rudnitsky appeared. The following week's performance starred Dorita and Valerno, Spanish Flamenco dancing team.

Susan Reed, who has won considerable renown in New York by popularizing Appalachian mountain songs, brought the series to a close on July 31. Miss Reed also sang lyrics from England, Scotland, and Ireland, playing her own accompaniment on the Irish harp or zither.

All students wanting to take the pre-medical aptitude tests for entrance to the medical schools for 1948 should register for the examination in room 311 Buckhout Laboratory before Saturday noon, according to Dr. A. R. Grove, Assistant Professor of Botany.

PP & L Grants Scholarships

Dr. Ralph Dorn Hetzel, president of the College, has announced that 15 scholarships have been established here by the Pennsylvania Power and Light Co.

According to Dr. Lyman E. Jackson, dean of the School of Agriculture, the scholarships will be available to students living in areas of Pennsylvania served by the power company. They will be awarded on the basis of scholastic standing, need, and interest in agriculture.

Through these scholarships the company hopes to foster interest in agriculture. Six scholarships of $100 each and three of $200 will be awarded during the current academic year. Three awards of $200 will be made next year and three more the year after.

All students wanting to take the pre-medical aptitude tests for entrance to the medical schools in 1948 should register for the examination in 311 Buckhout Laboratory before tomorrow noon, Dr. A. R. Grove, assistant professor of botany, announced.

Station Assists Pacific Expedition

Penn State's short-wave radio station W3YA-ALMA played a major role in communicating with the Kon-Tiki raft expedition this summer when six Norwegians on a raft left Peru April 29 intending to prove a theory of migration to the Polynesian Islands about 500 A.D.

Messages were received and sent daily at 3 a.m. (EDT), the best time for transmission and reception. Messages received in State College were relayed to a newspaper syndicate, the U. S. Weather Bureau, and to the expedition headquarters at the Norwegian Embassy in Washington.

The station was operated by Gilbert L. Crossley, assisted by nine staff members and 21 undergraduate students. Station W3YA-ALMA was also the key station for the second and third Byrd expeditions to the South Pole.

ASCE President Calls Engineers

Engineers majoring in civil, sanitary, or architecture, and architecture students are eligible to join the Penn State Student Chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers, William L. Rider, president, announced.

The purpose of the chapter is to supplement the work of the class room, add to the college social life, encourage good fellowship among the students and provide better student-faculty relationship. Members of the Society receive reduced rates on ASCE publications and Society assistance toward obtaining employment.

Meetings for the coming year include speakers from professional life, movies, and parties and social gatherings. The first meeting of this term will be Tuesday, October 7. Details of the meeting will be announced soon.

VA Reinstatement Time On Insurance Extended

Veterans Administration has announced that reinstatement privileges now in effect for National Service life insurance will be extended to January 1, 1948.

Previously, veterans who allowed their wartime policies to lapse for more than three months, had only until August 1 to reinstate without a required physical examination.

Two monthly premiums must accompany an application for reinstatement of term insurance.

During the past six months more than 500,000 veterans reinstated policies offering upwards of three and one-half billion dollars of insurance protection.

Entering students who missed the Psychology tests may take the make-up examination in room 121 Sparks at 7:30 p. m. Thursday, according to B. V. Moore, head of the Department of Psychology.
