Cabinet Declines To State Opinion On Sunday Movies

All-College Cabinet voted against taking a stand on the question of Sunday movies in State College at its meeting last night because a majority of the voting members felt they were obliged to discuss the issue with the people they represent.

A motion for a straw vote which would express personal opinion only was voted down by a 9 to 5 count. Thus the issue, and the stand that student government will take on it, will necessarily remain a puzzle until Cabinet meets again next week.

Cabinet ratified another motion put on the floor which called for the recommendation to Windcrest students that they vote in the elections on November 9. By failing to participate in the straw vote, Cabinet gave no indication as to how it would like the Windcrest students to vote.

Upon the motion of Edward Banyai, Cabinet members voted unanimously to make student government co-sponsors of the project which will bring Norman Thomas to the campus for a lecture. (Continued on page seven)

World Traveler Speaks in Chapel

Dr. Ruth I. Seabury, educational secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions of the Congregational Church, will be the guest speaker at the Penn State-in-China chapel service in Schwab Auditorium, 11 a.m. Sunday.

A world traveler, Dr. Seabury has visited some 23 countries in Europe, Africa, India, and the near east. In 1938 she was one of the American delegates to the world meeting of Churches in Madras, India.

This is the 35th year that a Penn State-in-China-Sunday has been observed on the campus. In observance of the occasion, all Chinese students on campus will (Continued on page eight)

Communist Arrested

WASHINGTON — The House Committee on Un-American Activities last night ordered the arrest of Hanns Eisler, a Hollywood song writer, and his wife for deportation proceedings.

Hanns Eisler is a brother of Gerhardt Eisler, German communist found guilty of contempt of Congress after lengthy hearings months ago.

Hanns, the Hollywood song writer, was up before the congressional committee a week ago when the House group checked his case to the Justice Department. The committee recommended prosecution of Hanns on charges of perjury and passport fraud. The committee report termed Eisler an international communist agent.

Labor Law Invoked

ALBANY — The Taft-Hartley law was invoked here today to put a halt to a strike of longshoremen.

At New York City, Federal Judge Stephen Brennan signed a temporary order restraining 150 longshoremen in the port of Albany from continuing their walk-out. Region Director Charles Douds of the National Labor Relations Board says the order is similar to the action taken by the government against John L. Lewis in the coal strike last spring.

A hearing on the order is set for October 7 in Syracuse, N.Y.

JOHN FRANKLIN SHIELDS

Ex-Trustee Dies After Long Illness

Death ended many years of service to the College for Col. J. Franklin Shields, president emeritus and long-time member of the Board of Trustees, Wednesday, after a long illness, in his Philadelphia home.

Funeral services are being conducted this afternoon in Germantown for the 79-year-old lawyer. After receiving his B.A. from the College in 1892, Colonel Shields obtained his bachelor of laws degree from the University of Pennsylvania.

Colonel Shields had served since 1905 as a trustee and since 1916 on the executive committee. After retiring from the presidency of the Board in January, 1946, he was named president emeritus in recognition of his 17 years' service as president.

As an undergraduate at the College, Colonel Shields was a student editor, football manager and manager of general athletics. He belonged to the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Press Association and organized the Pennsylvania Intercollegiate Football Association.

New Recreational Area Construction Begins

A new recreation area for residents of Pollock Circle, Nittany dormitories, and Windcrest is now under consideration, D. A. DeMarino, assistant Dean of Men, and Glenn N. Thiel, associate professor of physical education and athletics, said yesterday.

Located just east of the Nittany dormitories, the playground will have a macadam plot 300 feet long and 120 feet wide. In addition ground will be leveled to accommodate touch football, archery, and a golf practice area.

Plans for the macadam area include six tennis courts, two one-wall handball courts, and accommodations for basketball, badminton, volleyball, and shuffleboard, Mr. Thiel stated. He added that the area would also be ideal for outdoor dances.

Half the work is scheduled to (Continued on page eight)

Football Edition

A special football issue, the first Collegian has offered since the war, will be available tomorrow at Student Union and at New Beaver Field before kickoff time, according to Donald Ellis, Collegian business manager. Tomorrow's special edition will be devoted to the Penn State-Bucknell game and will offer starting lineup information. Today's World Series contest will also be covered.

Vets Get Refund

Veterans who have paid the $10 advance registration deposit may obtain their refund of this amount at the Office of the Bursar, 110 Old Main, between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. today.

Bursar Russell E. Clark explained that 4893 checks will be issued. The veteran will need his matriculation card to obtain his check.

Veterans with matriculation Numbers 0 to 2500 should enter the west door of the office; those with numbers ranging from 2501 to 4800 should use the east door to the office.

Dodgers Seek 2nd Win at Brooklyn

BROOKLYN — (AP) — The light went on in Brooklyn last night. Once again the fabulous folk of Flatbush are their merry selves. The streets are filled with strutting, laughing crowds. And in the taverns glasses are being hoisted high in toasts of good-bye. The Dodgers came through yesterday—just like the faithful always knew they would.

The good burgers of Brooklyn had some anxious moments before the Dodgers pulled out the third game of the World Series with a 9-8 victory over the New York Yankees. But, the important thing was that the Dodgers won the game to get right back into the series. The Yankees still lead in the game count, 2-1, but Brooklyn fans are convinced that their Bums now are on the way.

Each team collected 13 hits. Jackie Robinson had a pair of singles and negotiated his second successful stolen base of the classic. DiMaggio had a run-producing single in addition to his homer.

Blue Band Opens Second Postwar Marching Season

The appearance of the Blue Band at the Penn State-Bucknell football game Saturday marks the beginning of the second full marching season for the band since the war. The band's first appearance was at the same game last fall.

Scheduled to perform at all home games, the band will also make two trips to away games but as yet no decision has been reached concerning at which away games they will play.

The history of the band is long and varied. It was first organized as a drum and bugle corps in 1901, largely through the efforts of George H. Deike '03, now a trustee of the College and financial contributions made by Andrew Carnegie.

The last prewar appearance of the marching Blue Band was in the fall of 1942. During the war Professor Fishburn attempted to keep the band going to play at football games but they did not march. High school students, college and high school faculty members, V-12 trainees, coeds, and townspeople turned out to fill the vacancies.

Professor Fishburn directs the band and is assisted this year by James Dunlop who has joined the faculty of the music department.

June Graduates Asked For Yearbook Cards

All sixth semester students who intend to graduate this June, and have not filled out La Vie activity cards are requested to do so next week at Student Union, said Marjorie Mousley, photo editor.

On the basis of these activity cards, photo appointments will be mailed to the students. If students have not filled activity cards, they will not be included in the 1948 La Vie, stressed Miss Mousley.

IMA Fun Nite Tops Weekend

The traditional fall Fun Night sponsored by the Independent Men's Association will be held in Recreation Hall from 8:30 to 12 p.m. tomorrow, Martin Veator, president, said yesterday.

Admission has been set at 30 cents per person including tax, with coeds admitted free, he said. All the usual Fun Night attractions will be available, including table tennis, shuffleboard, badminton, and cards.

IMA is organized this year on the pre-war basis by living units rather than accepting individual memberships as was done during the war years.

Any unit of 10 or more independent men desiring affiliation with IMA should send a representative to its organizational meeting in the social rooms at Old Main, 7 p.m. Monday, Veator said.

The Independent Men's Association is a non-political organization designed to foster closer relationships among non-fraternity men, and to provide for them social, scholastic, and athletic facilities and incentives, Veator pointed out.

Junior Board Meeting

There will be a meeting of the Collegian junior editorial board today in Room 8, Carnegie Hall, at 4:10 o'clock.

Old Main's front steps is the scene of the first Penn State football pep rally of the 1947 gridiron season at 7:15 o'clock tonight. Coach Bob Higgins will speak and will introduce his Nittany Lion football eleven at this pre-Bucknell game cheering session.

A street parade led by the marching Blue Band and the cheerleading squad, headed by Stan Eisman, will leave Phi Sigma Kappa in the 500 block of S. Allen street at 8:45 p.m. and proceed through the fraternity and dormitory section to the rally site.

Students are asked by Hat Societies Council, sponsor of the rally, to join the parade at its starting point as it passes their section of the town or campus.

Thomas J. Lannen, All-College president, is master of ceremonies for the rally and will introduce the cheerleaders, Professor Hummel Fishburn, head of Blue Band, and football coach Bob Higgins. Coach Higgins will speak briefly on the probable outcome of the Bucknell clash Saturday afternoon on New Beaver Field and will comment on the outlook for the 1947 season. Members of the varsity squad will be introduced to the assembled student body by the coach.

Cheers and songs will be led by Head Cheerleader Stan Eisman, assisted by Virginia Gallup, assistant cheerleader, and Susan Bissey, Bill Bonsall, Bob Frankhouse, Gladly Lou Miller, Jim Mitchell and Delores Piccone.

Chief John R. Juba's local police force will assist the progress of the street parade by directing and diverting traffic.

Collegian Meetings

All editorial candidates for the Daily Collegian are asked by Allan W. Ostar, editor, to meet in 8 Carnegie Hall, 7 p.m. Monday.

A short meeting of the advertising staff Sophomore Board will be held in 8 Carnegie Hall, 6:30 p.m. Sunday, said Spencer Scheckler, advertising manager.
