

Late AP News

Courtesy Radio Station WMAJ

Vishinsky Attacks Again

LAKE SUCCESS—The United States and Britain were the chief targets of a Vishinsky tongue-lashing yesterday. He accused the United States of gaining full control of the Greek government and transforming Greece into a military base of the United States. Vishinsky rejected the American resolution calling for a Balkans commission. And he demanded the immediate withdrawal from Greece of foreign troops and—as he put it—"all kinds of military and civil instructors and the so-called experts."

Food Drive Supported

WASHINGTON—The White House has received many pledges of support for its new self-denial drive to save food. And President Truman's food committee has mapped out new moves in the campaign to help feed Europe. Meantime, the committee modified its call for eggless and poultryless Thursdays by excepting Thanksgiving, Christmas and New Year's, all of which fall on Thursdays. Its asks, however, that the nation forego these foods on the Mondays preceding the holidays.

Gandhi Lauds Truman

INDIA—Indian Leader Mohandas K. Gandhi says he wishes to congratulate President Truman for advising Americans to eat less bread to help feed hungry Europe. Addressing a prayer meeting, Gandhi also said he wanted Indians to follow Mr. Truman's philanthropic gesture and deny themselves a few meals a week to save their own countrymen from starving.

Directors Announce Casts For Players' Productions

Debate Squad Lists Coed Meet

A preliminary meeting for women interested in debate is scheduled in 111 Temporary building, at 7 p.m., Thursday.

At this meeting, Coach Clayton H. Schug will explain debate procedures at the College. Previous debating experience is not needed to join the squad.

The Penn State women's team participated in 50 contests during the last season. Rutgers, Lehigh, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Temple, Johns Hopkins, West Virginia, Swarthmore, Dickinson, and Washington and Jefferson number among the opponents in "away" matches.

In their two tournament encounters in 1947, the women tied for first place at Shippensburg, and captured second honors at Seton Hall.

Present members of the team are: Mary Louise Coleman, Katherine Courtney, Helen Dickerson, Jeanne Esterman, Jane Fouracre, Jo Fox, Dorothy Lees, Harriet Morgan, and Rose Marie Wagner.

The University of Pennsylvania male delegation have already invited the Penn State women to appear in a televised debate this season, revealed Coach Schug.

Independent Women Register for Rushing

Independent women interested in sororities must register in the Dean of Women's office today and tomorrow. No other rush dates have yet been altered, said Virginia Babbitt, Panhellenic rushing chairman.

Any future change in scheduled rushing activities will be announced in Collegian.

Yanks Win Series In Final Game 5-2

Yankee Head MacPhail Reveals Retirement

NEW YORK — The New York Yankees won their eleventh World Series in 15 attempts yesterday with a methodical, businesslike 5-2 victory over Brooklyn in the seventh and deciding game. At the same time they lost the services of their president, Larry MacPhail.

Immediately after the game ended amid the laughing and shouting and general fun making that follows a World Series championship, a weeping MacPhail announced his retirement from baseball because of "poor health."

Before the series started, they said it would narrow down to a duel between relief pitchers, Joe Page for the Yanks and Hugh Casey for the Dodgers. It did, right to the end.

Yesterday it was Page who was hot so the Yankees won the game and the series. The sturdy Yankee southpaw lived up to his gilt-edged reputation for the first time in the series as he shut the Dodgers out on one measly single in the last five innings.

It atoned for Page's dismal performance Sunday when he was belted freely by the Dodgers, and it also gave him the last laugh over his rival, Casey. Big Hugh had been doing the laughing until today as he won both third and fourth games at Brooklyn.

'Still No Freshmen' Froth Grets Sophs

"Today is the day," the upper classmen shout, as Frothy with boisterous and enthusiastic glee greets all Sophs and transfers in his "And Still No Freshmen" issue.

Froth, campus humor magazine, will be on sale for 25 cents at Student Union or in front of the Corner Room beginning this morning, reported Arthur Stober, editor. Coupon number one is valid for this issue.

Featured in this month's Froth is a story "This Is the Year" concerning Penn State's football team, and its coach, Bob Higgins. Also there is an article on Neil Fleming, recently retired Graduate Manager of Athletics, and his service to the College as an undergraduate and administrator.

On the lighter side appears the short, short story "It's the Hatmen Who Really Suffer" by Frank Philippbar; "The Last Weekend," a colorful report on the activities of a "Big Weekend" by Joe W. Kelly; and "Ganglion," about the first post-war freshman, by Len Weinstein.

Also included are the unmistakable Froth cartoons and jokes, and the "Campus Faces and Places" picture section, as well as book and record reviews.

Fordham Tickets On Sale Thursday

Tickets for the Fordham-Penn State game on Saturday, October 11, will go on sale Thursday at the Athletic Association office in Old Main, Harold R. Gilbert, graduate manager of athletics, said today.

Two hundred and thirty tickets at $3.00 apiece are available for seats located between the 28 and 38 yard line in the upper stands of the New York Polo Grounds.

Other ticket sales for the away games include:

Temple, October 30, at $2.80; Navy, November 6, at $3.75; and Pitt, November 13, at $3.00.

All tickets for home games may be purchased at any time.

Critique Circulation

All students interested in working on the circulation staff of Critique Magazine will meet in 9 Carnegie Hall at 7 o'clock tonight, according to Edward Hinkle, business manager.

LaVie Sets Appointments For Fraternity Photos

Fraternity group pictures for the 1948 La Vie will be photographed, beginning tonight at the Penn State Photo Shop, said Marjorie Mousley, photo editor.

All fraternities have been sent letters of their scheduled appointments, and they are urged by Miss Mousley not to forget them and report to the Photo Shop promptly. The groups will be told when to pick up their proofs and they should return them within a week to the Photo Shop.

Sorority chapters will follow the fraternities in group photographs, and then other activity and honorary organizations on campus, said Miss Mousley.

Clique Meeting

The Nittany-Independent party will hold a clique meeting in 405 Old Main, 7:30 o'clock tonight.

According to Bill Wilson, who was nominated temporary clique chairman on Sunday, the meeting is intended for organization of the former party members and interested sophomores.

Hundreds Pay Final Respects To 'Prexy' in Schwab Services

Hundreds of friends of Ralph Dorn Hetzel said their last goodbye to the late president of the College at the simple public services in Schwab Auditorium yesterday morning.

Represented in the group attending the services were members of the faculty and administrative staffs, students, businessmen, townspeople, and men from other colleges who had worked with and respected Dr. Hetzel.

'Specials' House Returning Alumni

Special Pennsylvania Railroad trains will carry alumni from New York, Philadelphia, Washington, and Baltimore directly to the College on October 17 for another homecoming weekend, stated Ridge Riley, assistant executive secretary of the Alumni Association.

Penn State Homecoming Specials, consisting of two Pullmans (or more if necessary) will leave their respective cities on Friday night and will all join at Harrisburg where they will pick up a well-stocked diner. The last fifteen miles of the trip will be traveled on the famous Bellefonte Central.

In an effort to alleviate the housing and dining problem, the Pullmans will be parked for occupancy Saturday night two blocks from Old Main and will serve six meals to train passengers.

The trains will leave here at 9 o'clock Sunday evening, October 19, and will arrive in the four terminal cities before 8 o'clock Monday morning.

Total fares, including Pullman fare, six meals, all gratuities, and miscellaneous pro-rated stopover charges are: New York, $64.50; Philadelphia, $57.50; Washington, $59.00; Baltimore, $56.00.

Reservations may be made by sending a ten-dollar deposit to William E. Lindenmuth of New York, Robert J. Siegler of Philadelphia, John J. McGinty of Washington, or Charles A. Young, Jr., of Baltimore.

Local AVC Chapter To Choose Officers

Local chapter of AVC will conduct a special election of officers, 121 Sparks, 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening, Earl Kemmler disclosed today.

Nominating committee will turn in a list of nominees but members will be permitted to nominate from the floor, Kemmler added.

Sigma Delta Chi

Members of Sigma Delta Chi will meet in Room 114, Carnegie Hall, tonight at 7 o'clock, according to Joseph F. Rudick, president.

Senior Board

A Senior Business Board meeting is slated for Room 8, Carnegie Hall, 6:45 o'clock this evening.

News Briefs

Theta Sigma Phi

Members of Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary, are urged to attend a meeting at 6:30 o'clock this evening, said Roberta Hutchison, president. The place of the meeting will be posted on the Student Union bulletin board this afternoon.

Collegian Candidates

A meeting of all candidates for the business and advertising staff of COLLEGIAN is scheduled for Room 9, Carnegie Hall, 7 o'clock this evening.

Bridge Club

The Men's Bridge Club meeting scheduled for tonight has been postponed. It will meet in Room 405, Old Main, at 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Students Guard of Honor

Outside Schwab Auditorium thousands of students paid last respects in their own way. As an impromptu guard of honor, they lined the path of the funeral procession for half a mile, and with bowed heads, offered their final farewell to their president. Interment was made at Centre County Memorial Park.

Of Dr. Hetzel's long and distinguished career as a college administrator, Chaplain Frizzell said: "All his life's service... was given to land-grant colleges, in the function and the mission of which he believed with an intensity amounting to a passion. What he has accomplished in bringing about a recognition of the land-grant college in the Eastern states is, in itself, a splendid story."

In describing the late president's personal qualities, Dr. Frizzell said: "... he would not be stampered, and that quality in him, of slow, careful and cautious thinking for the future, he held to in all the vast planning which he carried on till the very moment he left us. Time and again we have been compelled to acknowledge that in the long run, his was the wiser course. He believed in the essential and fundamental rightness of people... and he would not be budged from that belief."

Careful, Cautious

At the services representatives of all groups with which President Hetzel worked-sat in a group including the president of the Borough Council, the town burgess, the president and the secretary of the Commerce Club, members of the Board of Trustees, students of All-College Cabinet, members of the Council of Administration, the president's personal staff, and representatives of the College's 35,000 alumni.

The family of the late president sat in an ante-room of the Auditorium during the services. The unopened coffin of the president reposed on the stage of the auditorium. Pallbearers were his sons, Ralph Jr., Roger, Philip, and his sons-in-law, B. K. Johnstone and J. A. Williams. Because of the illness of his wife, the president's brother, H. C. Hetzel of Sanford, Fla., was unable to attend.

Ushers were members of the Lion's Paw, senior honor society at the College.

Sons Are Pallbearers

Ushers were members of the Lion's Paw, senior honor society at the College.

Ushers were members of the Lion's Paw, senior honor society at the College.

Penn State Club

The Penn State Club will hold a meeting in the club room, 321 Old Main, at 7 o'clock this evening, said Albert Lucas, president. He added that all independent men desiring membership in the club should attend tonight's meeting.

Froth Candidates

An important meeting of all Froth editorial candidates will be held in the Froth office at 7 o'clock this evening, said Arthur Stober, editor.

Collegian Subscriptions

All Collegian candidates are requested to turn in their sold subscription blanks at the Collegian office between 1 o'clock and 5 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.