

-From the Editor's Mailbox

ONE'S CONSENT

TO THE EDITOR: Is paper so scarce that the College cannot display a few simple instructions on the procedure of dropping and adding courses?

I spent an morning attempting to drop one course, add another and make two section changes, but it isn't finished yet. I had my adviser's consent; I had talked to each of the instructors concerned and obtained his consent, but upon presenting my Drop-Add card to the registrar, I was told that I had to obtain Mr. Watkins' signature.

There I was told that I must have the instructor's initials opposite each course being dropped, added, or changed. Now I must go to each instructor the second time, wasting both his time and mine. Had I known, this could have been done the first time.

Incidentally, does one file a Drop-Add card for section changes? The registrar says "Yes!" Most instructors say "No!" Whom does the poor student believe?

—Name Withheld

• You believe the Recorder's Office. They tell us that you must file a drop-add for all section changes.

We Hear from the East

TO THE EDITOR: It seems that the sun has to rise and set on Pittsburgh according to State College; how about trying Philadelphia or Baltimore for a change?

For those who don't know what we mean, we are referring to the decision of the All-College Cabinet to declare the Saturday of the Pittsburgh game a holiday.

We don't blame the All-College Cabinet for their decision, but we feel that they have misjudged the opinion of the majority of the students. First of all, this is the second consecutive year in which the Pittsburgh game has been declared a holiday. It is about time the East be given a chance. Secondly, while Pitt is a big rival, the Temple game is just as important to the people of Philadelphia. Also, the Penn State vs. Navy game is one of the biggest games of the East. Finally, after taking a tally of the people in the student directory whose last names begin with A, B, and C, we found that seventy-six (76) live in Philadelphia proper while only forty-five (45) live in Pittsburgh proper. It is time to switch to the East.

The Penn State Alumni of Philadelphia have already made preparations for the Temple weekend. A smoker and a dance are to be held at the Bellevue-Stratford Hotel Friday and Saturday nights respectively.

We realize that this letter will bring opposition, therefore we suggest that Collegian run a poll to decide according to democratic tradition which defend the student body desires.

Sincerely yours,

Strohm, Pi Kappa Phi, and other signers.

Collegian Key

Collegian regrets the printing of an erroneous statement under the name of Alex Gregory in the article "The Inquiring Reporter" which appeared in Friday morning's edition.

This unfortunate incident occurred when another student told Collegian's reporter that he was Mr. Gregory and presented a quote unfavorable to pep rallies in an effort to present the Critique editor in bad light.

Collegian, therefore, extends its apologies to Alex Gregory and prints his actual statement as presented to a member of the staff Thursday afternoon.

Alex Gregory—third semester—art education: "Yes, I'm going. With all the hard work the Blue Band, the cheerleaders and the football team put into each game, the least we students can do is put in an appearance and lend our verbal support to our gridmen. I certainly hope every student turns out."

Thank You

TO THE EDITOR: Don't duck—no brickbats this time. Posies to you and yours for a job well done. The speed and understanding with which you covered "Prexy's" sudden death was a notable, warm and personal tribute from Collegian.

Sincerely,
Ann Stolts

College Calendar

All calendar items must be in the Daily Collegian office by 4:30 p.m. on the day preceding publication.

Wednesday, October 8

- WRA FIELD Hockey, Holmes Field, 4 p.m.
- WRA BOWLING, WH, 6:30 p.m.
- WRA BADMINTON, WH, 7 p.m.
- MODERN Dance, WH, 7 p.m.
- HILLEL Governing Board meeting, 8:15 p.m.
- MEN'S Archery, Rec Hall, 4 p.m.

College Hospital

- Discharged Monday: Robert Abernethy, James Frezenman.
- Admitted Monday: Jean Homan, Margaret Seybert.
- Discharged Tuesday: John Baker, Daniel Reese.
- Admitted Tuesday: Samuel Boyd Challinor, Robert Duffield, Hugh Hackett.

At the Movies

- Cathaum: Millerson Case.
- Nittany: Possessed.
- Center: Last of the Red Men.

Attention, Cabinet

TO THE EDITOR: I see articles appearing in the Times and Collegian about the movie vote to be taken next month, and think now is the time for some vigorous action on the part of the students.

To acquaint newcomers to the campus with the situation, perhaps I should say that, if you haven't already found out, State College does not permit movies on Sunday.

It seems that the question comes up for a vote every once in a while, but certain organizations strongly oppose Sunday movies, and sway the vote, while the students sit on the sidelines and have no say-so in the matter. Thus certain individuals and organizations have set themselves up as authorities on "How to Spend a Pleasant Sunday" and succeed in forcing their own narrow views on the unwilling majority.

The members of the student body can climb Mt. Nittany, listen to the Shadow, read Flash Gordon, play chess, or go out to the Radio Corral, but there is something degrading about going to the movies on Sunday. Try to figure that one out.

The people who oppose movies, and they are townspeople, since the voters make the decision, for the most part own or rent homes. They can spend comfortable Sundays there. A greater percentage of them own cars and can travel on weekends than is true among students. Most are businessmen and women who are free during the evenings (professors excepted).

Thus they do not understand the plight of the average student on Sunday. He is away from home, perhaps living in a single room, has no car, and has spent most of his evenings hitting the books. Those who are better off then should not have the privilege of depriving Mr. Average Student of his well-earned pleasure and relaxation.

So, if you want Sunday movies, better organize now. Let people know what you want. As for me, I will refuse to belong to, support, or participate in any group which opposes this question.

—Name Withheld

Here and There

By Dick Sarge

Paying the Piper

Charlie Barnet will collect $1750 for his musical chores at the Junior Prom, October 24. This is a welcome change from the past situation. A year and a half ago, a well-known singer-leader was "racing with the moon" in his asking price of $4000 plus a percentage of the box office receipts. The Penn State Interclass Finance system isn't able to handle such a risk normally, and Prom committees are to be commended for picking up a good band at a reasonable price.

Penn State's "TUB"

The label "TUB," for Temporary Union Building, has been tagged onto the USO building recently acquired from the city of Lebanon. The idea is to keep strong the student move for a large permanent Student Union structure.

The administration, particularly Mr. Samuel K. Hostetter, the College treasurer, moved fast to take possession of the building for campus use despite competition from other interested groups.

Rest Easy, Defense—Or, Tears on My Pillow

He became interested in this column, but, said he, "this interest was limited to the one article 'They Play for Pay'." OUCH!

Then, "Mr. Sarge destroys school spirit." Better, perhaps, Name Withheld become better informed. Next, "hardly a man on the Penn State squad... would not be very glad to 'pick up $50 a game'." The answer is—hardly. Their loyalty and performance for the Blue and White is highly commendable. Most could play pro ball now if they so desired. I'm sorry you even mentioned the subject.

Name Withheld wants to know, "Is he inciting State players to leave for Altoona and cash?"

That's ridiculous! No one is prouder of Penn State's mighty eleven of this season.

And, Ray, when it comes to the amount they are receiving for playing pro football (I take it that's your point, or is it?) my source is one of the Penn Staters who is playing for the Altoona club and for whom I have the most respect. Naming him would be to betray a confidence.

This Changing World

Appearing in a recent edition of the Philadelphia Inquirer was this rebuttal to a "letter to the editor" from a salesgirl which was derogatory to waitresses.

"I am a waitress in one of Pennsylvania's leading restaurants. . . what training and skill are necessary to become a salesgirl? The qualification that goes the longest way toward being a good and profitable waitress is a pleasing personality and a willingness to wait on customers. Some of you salesgirls could use some of that."
Naaaaaaah!

THE BREW THAT MADE THEM FAMOUS

This word comes straight from the bartender, which is practically from the horse's mouth. Moguls of the State College Legion post are considering a three-dollar yearly admittance fee for out of town Legionnaires. An addition to the present post home is now being constructed—paved with Penn Staters funds for a goodly portion. Sound business heads might ponder over this new economic move. Will students pay three bucks for out-of-town cards or stay out of the Legion entirely? They'll probably go elsewhere.

La Vie Photos-

(Continued from page one)

Instructors have been given permission by Arthur R. Warnock, dean of men, to excuse students from class showing a La Vie photograph appointment card.

If students have already had pictures taken at the Photo Shop and want to use them for La Vie, they may do so by paying a $25 reprint fee. Only pictures taken by the Photo Shop may be used.

Reappointments will be given students who were scheduled to be photographed from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Monday.

Seniors who have not already received their photo appointment cards will get them within the next two weeks.

News Briefs

(Continued from page one)

Hillel Seeks Talent

All persons interested in writing, acting, or producing for radio are urged to attend the meeting of the Hillel Foundation radio committee at the Foundation at 7:15 tonight.

Home Ec Club

The Home Economics Club will meet in 5 Home Ec at 7 o'clock tonight. The short business meeting will be followed by an informal get-together. Refreshments will be served.

Treble Singers

Tryouts for Treble Singers, women's choral group, will be held in 117 Carnegie Hall, 7:30 o'clock tonight, said Guy Woods, director. All old members of Treble Singers are requested to meet in the same room at 7 o'clock tonight.

THE DAILY COLLEGIAN

Successor to the Free Lance, est. 1877

Published Tuesday through Friday mornings during the College year by the staff of the Daily Collegian of the Pennsylvania State College. Entered as second class matter July 5, 1934, at the State College, Pa., Post Office under the act of March 3, 1879. $4.50 a semester; $4.25 the school year.

Represented for national advertising by National Advertising Service, Madison Ave., New York, N.Y., Chicago, Boston, Los Angeles, San Francisco.

Allan W. Ostar - Editor
Donald W. Ellis - Bus. Mgr.

Man. Ed. Lawrence G. Foster; News Ed. Dick Sarge; Sports Ed. Ted Rubin; Feature-Photo Ed. Dave Adelman; Women's Ed. Kay Badollet; Ass't Women's Ed. Marjorie Mousley; Wire Ed. Roberta Hutchinson; Senior Board: Howard Back, Eleanor Fehnel, Ben I. French, Helen Lewis, Joan Peters, J. Arthur Stober; Ad. Dir. Spencer Scheckter; Local Ad. Man. Barbara Keefer; Ass't. Bus. Mgr. Jack Strickland; Circ. Mgr. Robert Kranich; Sec. Mary Lou Callahan; Class Ad Mgr. Lucille Martin.

STAFF THIS ISSUE
Managing Editor: Selma Zasofsky
Assistant: Mac White
News Editor: Peter F. Warner
Assistant: Jane Peol
Advertising Manager: Nancy Wilson
Assistant: Mimi Pomarine

PAUL GROVE AND HIS ORCHESTRA

No Change in Personnel
PHONE 4048 OR DU HOUSE

Glee Club-

(Continued from page one)

wood, Robert McLean, Robert El-dridge, Warren Yenny, Richard McCown, James Vuncannon, William Clark, Richard Trumbore, A. C. MacDonald, James Leocca, Richard Goodling, Don Brutout, Frank Hees, Anthony Palumbo, Charles Margolf.

Wally Weaver, Paul Wannemacher, Luther Drumgold, Leon Finker, Paul McBeth, James Fluke, Samuel Henry and Fred Braun.

Baritone

Baritone selected are David Doan, Paul Margolf, Ernest Rottill, Nicholas Holowatch, Robert Koser, John Mapes, Leonard Dileanis, Robert Gelhard, John Bellis, Robert Sandy, Paul Holder, Floyd Eberts, William Hymes.

William Shadé, Ronald Kane, Myron Sloan, James Kocher, Richard Baraker, Charles Bolter, John Schoening, Thomas Neff, John Krusen, Caleb Morris, Fred Swinkle, Robert Boedecker, Paul Adam.

Basses

Basses are Ross Pillsbury, Ralph Cromleigh, Virgil Neilly, Bob Glenn, Ralph Veverka, Richard Smith, Rod Engstrom, George Dorrance, Paul Shaeffer, Howard Atwell, Ted Mann, Don Meyer, Louis Goss.

Jerome Kapkanoff, Paul Kossman, George Armstrong, George Rhoad, Malcolm White, Raymond Caton, Gerald Frailey, James Swab, James Johnson, John Williams, John Opro, John Becker, Richard Bytheway, Robert Moore. This list of singers includes regular members and alternates.

Editorials and features in The Collegian reflect the opinions of the writer. They make no claim to represent student or University opinion. All unsigned editorials are by the editor.

Get on the BALL

USE THE

COLLEGIAN CLASSIFIEDS

FOR RESULTS

Available for Bookings

Campus Owls

(The Traditional Campus Band)

HEAR THE BAND IN
REC HALL OCT. 11th

CONTACT
GEORGE WASHKO
Business Manager
TELEPHONE 4838