WSGA Plans Soph Election

A sophomore senator to WSGA Senate will be elected by the sophomore women sometime next week, said Suzanne Romig, president of WSGA. Several WRA officers will be chosen at the same time and the date will be announced later in the week.

Sophomores should be thinking of members of their class whom they think would best qualify as representative on the senate of the Women's Student Government Association, Miss Romig urged. To be a candidate for the position, the girl must have a 1.5 all-college average and have no major judicial record.

Members of the WSGA Senate will visit upperclass dorms this week to aid in the election of house officers. Janet Lyons will organize these house officers into the House of Representatives of WSGA next week.

In practice, the Maroon mentor was forced to scrap plans for using a T formation because of the lack of a good center and quarterback. Danowski has since reverted to the old Notre Dame box.
