

Thespian Revue Stars Alumni

Thespian alumni will help to celebrate the 50th anniversary of that organization in a Homecoming weekend show at Schwab Auditorium, 8 p.m. Saturday.

Except for two scenes, the entire show will be made up of acts and routines which the past Thespians performed in former shows. The revue was organized during the summer, when names of the Thespian alumni were compiled from programs dating back as far as 50 years.

Because this show is an alumni production for alumni, tickets will not be sold to undergraduates. The show has only a one-night stand and according to J. E. (Sock) Kennedy, director, Schwab Auditorium may not be large enough to seat even the returning graduates and their families.

If there is any room available at the last minute, an announcement will be made at the football game Saturday afternoon and undergraduates may purchase tickets.

Undergraduate scenes will open and close the revue. The "Gay Nineties" scene will start the talent ball rolling and the "Fertilizer Ball" scene will end it. Both were taken from last year's Thespian show, "Varsity Sweetheart."

The first regular Thespian show which will be produced and staged by and for the students is scheduled for December. Time and place of tryouts will be announced soon.

Clayton Resigns

WASHINGTON — Undersecretary of State William Clayton resigned yesterday after seven years of government service. In a farewell news conference, Clayton said that failure to bolster Europe might lead to disintegration abroad, and this would imperil the economic and political future of the United States.

Bakers Protest Plan

WASHINGTON — The national campaign to save food to save Europe has bumped up against a protest from the American Bakers' Association. A spokesman for this organization said yesterday that chairman Charles Luckman of the Citizens' Food Committee expects too much from the bakers alone. Luckman has called on the bakers to save three million bushels of grain a month.

Wallace Predicts

BALTIMORE — Henry Wallace looked at a crystal ball yesterday and suggested that the Republicans might run General Eisenhower for President and Harold Stassen for Vice-President next year. Given that ticket and no depression, Wallace said, the GOP might remain in control for 16 years.

Three Die in Crash

DENVER — The Iowa National Guard transport plane which smashed against a slope of Pike's Peak has been located by a Colorado Springs deer hunter, 28-year-old Leonard Detherage. He found three crewmen killed and three others injured. A seventh man, also injured, had stumbled down the snowy slope to tell of the crash. He was identified as master sergeant John Knight of Des Moines.

Storm Moves West

SAVANNAH — Extensive, but mostly minor, property damage has been reported in South Georgia which now is taking a beating from a savage Atlantic hurricane. The storm, with winds of 80 to 100 miles, is moving westward after swirling across the Georgia-Carolina coast and slashing at Savannah.

Soph Women Vote In Primary Today

Sophomore women will vote in the primary election for sophomore WSGA and WRA representatives from 9 o'clock this morning to 5 o'clock this afternoon.

Residents of Tri-dorms will vote at a booth in Jordan, and others will vote in Old Main.

Candidates for WSGA sophomore senator are Joan Bergdoll, Joan Frederickson, Suzanne Kirshner, and Ruth Lehman.

WRA candidates for secretary-treasurer are Frances Nichols and Anne Zekauskas, for sophomore representative, Peggy Dejure, Shirley Gauger, Anna Keller, and Virginia Miller, and for assistant intramural chairman, Gertrude Fetzer, Marilyn Gullet, and Patricia Rauterberg.

Final elections will be held Tuesday.

Blue Key Taps 24 Junior Men

Blue Key, junior men's honorary, tapped 24 new members on the steps of Old Main at 7:45 o'clock yesterday.

Men on the Junior Boards of publications, first assistants in all sports, cheerleaders, and general activities men are eligible.

Those tapped included Robert Bench, William Bickford, James Brewer, Richard Clair, Francis Felder, Carl Goldenberg, Clayton Hill, Warren Hicks, Albert Hirshfield, Arthur Jenkins, James Johnson, Brett Kranich.

Donald Myers, Jay Myers, Ross Pillsbury, Philip Reed, Richard Shafritz, Richard Slavin, Richard Smith, Edward Tykowsky, Daniel Veloric, Malcolm White, Robert White, and Thomas Yemm.

Critique On Sale

Critique magazine will be on sale at the Corner Room, near Grange dormitory, at Student Union and at a special booth on Pollock Road at the mall tomorrow, according to Edward Hinkle, business manager.

Tickets On Sale For Cwens' Drag

Tickets are now on sale at Student Union for the Cwens' Dungaree Drag at White Hall 9 to 12 o'clock tomorrow night. They are $1-20 per couple including tax.

This event, an annual tradition, is informal, according to Sally Henry, president of the organization. The accepted attire is a faded pair of dungarees and an old plaid shirt. There are no chairs provided, since those attending are expected to sit on the floor.

Since the Drag is a girl-ask-boy affair, the girls usually call for their dates, said Miss Henry. Many of the coeds make or buy corsages consisting of onions, carrots, string, rubber bands and other junk in a nonsensical vein. Hank Glass and Bill McTurk, Thespians, are working on a new skit to present during intermission. Music will be furnished by the Campus Owls.

A novelty of the affair will be a Balloon Spot Dance. Cwens, distinguished by their grey hats, will sell vari-colored balloons at 10 cents apiece during the first part of the dance. Only those couples holding balloons can compete in this spot dance. A prize will be given to the couple standing on a previously chosen spot on the dance floor when the music stops.

Franklin Auto Relic Sells Critique At Mall

Something new has been added to the advertising campaign of Critique magazine. A relic from the "old days," a 1911 Franklin automobile, will be parked on Pollock Road at the Mall for all to behold.

Critique magazine will be sold right from the car to those students not holding subscription receipts. Subscribers must pick up their copies at the Corner Room booth.

The Franklin, a touring car owned by William Chausey, an Illinois professor, has been in many shows and competitions during its 36-year life. Just 15 years ago it was a prize winner at an exhibition in Philadelphia.

Paul Hauser, who is manager of the nearby Lemont garage where the car has been kept for some time, says that aside from one bad wheel, the car is in perfect shape today, almost as good as new.

Faculty, Townspeople Can Apply For Tickets

Faculty and townspeople may apply at the Student Union desk in Old Main beginning at 7 o'clock tomorrow night for tickets to the Fred Waring broadcast, the committee on arrangements announced today.

Tickets will be issued on a first-come-first-served basis and will admit bearers to the Monday night show only. One ticket will be given to a person.

The Monday night broadcast, sponsored by General Electric, is on the air from 10:30 to 11 o'clock, but Schwab Auditorium doors will close at 10. No tickets will be issued to children.

Bursar Lists in Detail Veterans' Assessments

Non-College-assessed fees, which are to be deducted from veterans' book refund checks, have been listed in detail by Russell E. Clark, bursar.

Class dues amount to $3.25, with women and agricultural students charged an extra $1 for activities. Two-year agriculture students pay only $1 for class dues. Debating and glee club fee for all students is 25 cents.

Mr. Clark added that it is neither necessary nor desirable to pay the assessments in advance, as they will be automatically subtracted from the veteran's payment.

Lines From The Lion . . .

New York City

Dear Gang,

Since the Penn State crowd left New York on Sunday things have been pretty dull. They haven't let me out of this fire-trap since Saturday morning. I don't mind though, the sooner they get me repaired the quicker I'll be back with you.

I'm rooming with a polar bear that belongs to the circus. We get along pretty well considering the big difference in our positions in life.

There's a couple of models working in this joint . . . not bad a t a r. One is named "Spotty" Leopard, the other is Patty Panther.

Tell Lou Bell that I said thanks for the New York telephone number.

I'll write again tomorrow.

For the glory,
THE LION

La Vie To Begin Group Pictures

Group photographs of student organizations for La Vie will be taken at the Photo Shop starting Monday. Men are asked to wear coats and ties, and women are to wear dark jackets.

Each sorority may choose its own apparel, but individual members are requested to dress uniformly, said Marjorie Mousley, photo editor.

Any fraternity that has not yet had their picture taken must notify the Photo Shop immediately, or their group will not appear in this issue of La Vie. Sorority pictures have not yet been completed.

If it is necessary for any group to cancel its appointment, the Photo Shop should be told of the change at once.

Sigma Delta Chi Initiates Seven

Sigma Delta Chi, men's national journalism honorary, will initiate seven undergraduate men Sunday with an initiation dinner at the Nittany Lion Inn.

Initiates are John E. Crouse, Cilletti Frederick, Arnold Ger-ton, James Neiman, Ralph Pearson, Arthur Ward, and Malcolm White.

Three professional newspapermen will also be initiated. They are Royal Dapiel, III, publisher, Pottsville Republican; J. E. Holtzinger, general manager, Altoona Mirror; and Neil H. Swanson, executive editor, Baltimore Sun.

Allan Ostar and Joseph Ruck, as alternate, will attend the annual national convention of Sigma Delta Chi in Washington, D. C., Nov. 11 to 14. President Truman and most outstanding journalists in the country will attend this convention.

Fees Due October 28

Fee payments, postponed from tomorrow because of Homecoming registration in Recreation Hall, will be made Tuesday, October 28, according to Russell E. Clark, bursar.

Student Council Holds Elections

Elections to fill six sophomore seats on the Engineering student council are being held in the second floor lounge of Old Main, between 8 and 4 o'clock today.

The candidates and their respective departments are John R. Wozer, aeronautical engineering; Donald Langer, architectural engineering; Richard Young, civil engineering; Erwin Meyn, Alvin Reiner and Stanley Reisman, electrical engineering.

Raymond Bloom, Alfred Gibson and Robert Hetrick, industrial engineering; and George Besesbaris and William Keifer, mechanical engineering.

It is emphasized that only sophomore engineering students may vote in their respective departments. Matriculation cards must be presented in order to vote.

Guides Meet Coeds

Junior Guide members will meet with all sophomore and transfer coeds in their dormitories at 10 o'clock tonight, Nancy Ault, Junior Service Board president, said yesterday.

In addition to the Orientation Week schedule, meetings will be held in Grange, Southeast Atherton and MacAllister Hall lounges. Transfer students in Women's Building are asked to come to MacAllister Hall.

Alumni To Join Student Rally At Old Main

Action for tomorrow night's pre-Syracuse pep rally, to be held on the steps of Old Main at 7:30 o'clock, will be set off by a student-alumni parade starting from the Phi Sigma Kappa house at 7 o'clock.

The parade will be led by the marching Blue Band and a squad of nine cheerleaders, headed by Stan Eisman. Students and alumni are urged by the pep rally committee to join the procession at any point.

Coach Bob Higgins will introduce the team and perhaps some of the alumni who made names for themselves on Nittany eleven's of the past.

Thomas Lannen, all-college president, will act as master of ceremonies for the program. College cheers and songs, which will be projected on a large screen, will be led by the cheerleading squad.

The nine members of the squad are Eisman, head cheerleader, Virginia Gallup, assistant, Susan Bissey, William Bonsall, Robert Frankhouse, Wilma Grove, Gladly Lou Miller, James Mitchell, and Dolores Piccone.
