

Rally Sets Off Weekend

Coeds to 'Drag' Males to Dance, Dungarees, Plaid Shirts, Odd Corsages in Vogue

Dungaree Drag, the Cwens' annual girl-ask-boy affair, is scheduled for White Hall 9 to 12 o'clock tonight.

Hank Glass and Bill McTurk, Thespian comedy team, will present their new mind-reading act during intermission.

As Professor Glass said when interviewed in his quiet studio, "I am going to call upon the spirits to hypnotize the Swami McTurk who has just arrived from the mysterious country of Bellefontia."

Dungarees In Style

Admission requirement for this act are a ticket, a faded pair of dungarees, an old plaid shirt, a nondescript corsage—and the most important item, a man. This item can be secured for a telephone call costing five cents plus a touch of the leap-year spirit, said Dorothy Park, chairman of the dance.

Shortly before intermission the Campus Owls will swing out on a number for the Balloon Spot Dance. Anyone who buys a balloon for 10 cents from a Cwen may enter this contest. Dancing ability is not required, just the gambler's luck to be standing on

Fraternities Dine Pennsylvanians

Dinner arrangements for Fred Waring's Pennsylvanians have been made for Monday, Willard Agnew, IFC President, said yesterday.

Fraternity houses have been turning in bids to have as their guests two to four members of Fred Waring's organization. The various fraternities will be notified as to whom their guests will be and are to contact them as soon as possible, he stated.

Robert Koser, IFC vice-president, and Ray Fortunato are in charge of dividing the singers so that no one house will get two basses, or three altos, in case the dinner guests are called upon for a little entertainment.

Pennsylvanians who are fraternity men will probably go to their respective chapter houses. The names of the women vocalists will be picked out of a hat by the fraternities to insure no partiality.

Clique Meetings

State and Nittany-Independent campus political parties will meet Sunday night for the election of sophomore class clique chairmen for each group.

State party will hold its meeting in 121 Sparks. Nittany-Independent party will meet in 10 Sparks. Both meetings are scheduled for 7:30 p.m.

Blue Key Defers Initiation Rites

Initiation ceremonies for Blue Key hat society have been temporarily postponed, according to Lawrence G. Foster, acting chairman of Hat Societies Council.

Foster explained that the Council is investigating reported taping irregularities by the junior class honorary.

Robert W. Tomlinson, society president, was informed last night of the Council's decision to investigate the alleged violations of the society's constitution and stated that initiates would not be required to wear their signs after today pending clarification by the Council.

Bob Higgins To Present Grid Squad

Homecoming alumni will join students in the first pep rally of the 1947 gridiron season on the steps of Old Main at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Coach Bob Higgins will speak and introduce his Nittany Lion football eleven at this pre-Syracuse cheering session.

A street parade led by the Blue Band and the cheerleading squad will leave from the Phi Sigma Kappa house in the 500 block of S. Allen street at 7 o'clock. The procession will pass through the fraternity and dormitory section, down College avenue, and to the rally site.

Students Join Parade

Students are asked by Hat Societies Council, sponsors of the rally, to join the parade at its starting point or as it passes their section of the town or campus.

Thomas J. Lannen, All-College president, is master of ceremonies for the rally and will introduce the cheerleaders, Professor Hummel Fishburn, head of the Blue Band, and football coach Higgins.

Cheers and songs projected on a large screen will be led by a squad of nine cheerleaders, headed by Stan Eisman. The rally program will be carried by a public address system.

Chief John R. Juba's local police force will assist the progress of the street parade by directing and diverting the traffic.

Rallies were begun again last year for the first time since the war. Before the war, pep meetings were held on the Jordan fertility plots, present site of temporary buildings and women's dormitory construction.

Bonfires, a part of pre-war rallies, have been discontinued because of the fire hazard.

Late AP News

Taft Candidacy

COLUMBUS — Senator Taft says he will announce his decision whether to seek the presidential nomination next Wednesday.

Appearing at a party rally here, Taft described the Truman administration's foreign policy as what he called a "riot of inconsistencies." The Ohio senator added, "Neither the people nor Congress have been advised what the real facts are" and "we do not know whether the administration is leading us to peace or war."

Grain Gambling Charged

WASHINGTON — President Truman yesterday blamed high food prices largely on what he termed "gambling on the grain exchanges," and he disclosed that Attorney General Clark is investigating.

Although the President suggested that the Justice Department might have details about the investigation, officials there declined to comment.

Eisenhower Campaign

NEW YORK — An official spokesman for General Eisenhower says that the General had no prior knowledge of any plans to organize presidential nomination campaigns for him. But, according to an official of the Draft - Eisenhower-for-President League, the General had been informed by letter of the League's purpose.

Attention, Hatmen

All hatmen and hatwomen are asked by Hat Societies Council to participate in tonight's football pep rally and parade wearing the hats of their respective honorary societies.

Hatmen are also requested to meet at the southwest gate to the playing field on New Beaver Field at 1:45 p.m. tomorrow to form the traditional double-line.

FRED WARING

No Tickets Left For Broadcasts

The last of the tickets for the Fred Waring broadcasts from Schwab Auditorium on Monday and Tuesday were distributed at 9:15 o'clock, the Student Union stated yesterday.

For those unable to obtain tickets to the broadcasts, the committee handling them arranged to have all three shows broadcast locally.

WMAJ to Beam Show

By special permission of the National Broadcasting Company, and with the consent of Mr. Waring himself, State College Radio Station WMAJ has been granted the privilege of broadcasting all three shows.

Station WMAJ will air the morning shows at 10 a.m. both Monday and Tuesday, and the Monday evening show at 10:30.

Fred Waring travels with his full organization of 110, including such standout vocalists as Jane Wilson, Stuart Churchill, Joan Wheatley, Joe Marine, and entertainers known to Waring radio audiences such as Daisy Bernier, Poley McClintock, "Lumpy" Brannum, Joe Sodja, and Mac Perrin.

Waring Background

A former student of the College, from 1918-1920, Mr. Waring was born June 9, 1900, in Tyrone, Pennsylvania. While a student of

Student Leaders Meet Alumni at Luncheon

Homecomers Arrive Today

Student leaders, sports champions, and campus personalities will be introduced to homecoming alumni at the Alumni Luncheon in Rec Hall at 11:30 o'clock tomorrow, said Ridge Riley, executive secretary of the Alumni Association.

The Association, said Mr. Riley, has never tried to serve a buffet luncheon to as many guests as are expected tomorrow.

Alumni will register in Recreation Hall today starting at 2 o'clock. Thespian alumni will have a special registration at the same time.

Executive Board Meeting

The Penn State Alumni Association executive board will meet in the Nittany Lion Inn at 6 o'clock. Lions Paw alumni will be served dinner at the Inn at that time.

Saturday morning will feature exhibits, tours, and sports for homecomers.

After the football game there will be a cider party and smoker for the returning graduates in Rec Hall. Last event of the formal program is Thespian Alumni revue, in Schwab Auditorium at 8 o'clock.

In the student program designed to last more than an hour,

Troxell Proposes Cabinet Change

Robert Troxell rekindled discussion of proposed additions to the Student Union Committee in Cabinet last night, when All-College Cabinet approved his proposal to substitute the sophomore vice-president-elect for the AVC representative.

Samuel K. Hostetter, assistant to the President in charge of business and finance, advised that the Co-op committee submit a memorandum of their proposed campus co-operative to the Board of Trustees for consideration, reported Emory Brown. This method was used by Windcrest residents in securing their co-op.

Five thousand "Beat Pitt" tags strung and printed on both sides, will be ordered for student and alumni use at the Pittsburgh game. The entire project is being financed by the Athletic Store, Frank Tidona stated. Cabinet voted to act on Allan Oster's recommendation to contact the American Heritage Foundation in an attempt to bring the Freedom Train to the College. Oster expressed hope that this invitation would lead to an organized tour of American colleges.

Elections Code was submitted by William Staley and amended in cabinet by moving the sophomore election date back to November 20. All other election campaign dates were moved back a full week. Members believed this would bring a better turnout at the polls, since the original election date was the Monday following Pitt weekend.

Lines from the Lion . . .

New York City

Dear Gang,
What a dull town this is.
They tell me that you don't have to be here for long before you get to be a part of the place. Don't you believe it.

The offer dey we went down to thoity thoid street to see how the rest of residence survive. Believe me, dey don't do bad. Haven't gotten over to da zoo park as yet to see me relatives.

Yesterday, some guy insulted me. He said I had an old mans. I told him, I sez to em, "Where I come from everybody has an Old Main."

It doesn't look like I'm going to make the game on Saturday. Transportation to the Valley is rough these days.

For the glory,

The Lion

P.S. Don't know where I'd even sleep if I did come up in time for the weekend.

Thespian Alumni to Stage 50th Anniversary Show

Graduates of more than 25 years ago will take part in the 50th anniversary Thespian alumni revue at Schwab Auditorium, 8 o'clock tomorrow night, and anything can happen, said J. E. "Sock" Kennedy, director.

Alumni must register with their class at Recreation Hall before they can purchase tickets for the show at the Thespian booth in that building. Thespian alumni who bought their tickets through advance sale may pick them up at the booth any time before the football game.

In the program which is still tentative, Fred Waring will do a routine from a 1921 Thespian show and perhaps a black-face, banjo number.

Graham in Skit

Bob Graham, of Graham's A.C., with Roy Nelson will do an act from the 1926 show "The Kid Himself." The comedy team of Bims and Edwards will do their own version of "The Boy Stood on the Burning Deck" from the 1926 show.

Hummel Fishburn, head of the department of music, will also be a member of the cast taking part in a piano trio.

Some of the performers haven't

Special Issue

A special Alumni Homecoming issue of the Collegian will be distributed tomorrow, according to Allan Ostar, editor. Copies will be available at Student Union and at New Beaver Field.

Line-ups for the Penn State-Syracuse football game will be listed on the front page.

Fraternities Unveil Lawn Exhibitions

Students will be treated to the best that fraternity ingenuity can devise when over a score of houses unveil their Pennsylvania Week motif lawn displays late this afternoon.

Although oil wells and coal cars seem to have captured the imaginations of Greek display chairmen throughout the fraternity sections, several variations on the two fuel industries are sure to capture the student's fancy.

Judging of the displays will take place both late this afternoon and tonight by a three-man committee from the art department. A cup will be awarded to the winning fraternity by IFC.
