Campus Patrol Warns Coeds To Avoid Rush

Coeds were warned today by Captain Philip A. Mark of the campus patrol to get in a few minutes early from Friday and Saturday night dates in order to avoid traffic jams around the dormitories.

Having to park quite a distance from the dormitory because of the traffic jams will not be accepted as a legitimate excuse for being late, Captain Mark said.

Alumnae Notice

Alumnae women returning this weekend will be entertained by various campus organizations. Sorority presidents ask that alumni members contact them as many groups have planned special events. Tomorrow's Collegian will carry a list of the organizations and their plans.

Chairman Rice Defines Job Of Coed Judiciary Committee

"Judicial is not a police force," remonstrated Mary Kay Rice, chairman of the Judicial Committee of WSGA.

"To the contrary it is an efficient method of enforcing and maintaining the high standard and ideals the coeds have set for themselves."

Miss Rice conceded that the tribunal punishes women who violate rules. "But," she added. "We also grant special late permissions to coeds."

Request blanks for special permissions may be obtained in the dean of women's office and must be placed there at least one day before the permission is desired.

The coed forfeits a Friday or Saturday night one o'clock when she takes a late permission some other night of the week. "This is only being fair to the other coeds," Miss Rice explained.

Another function of the committee is the interpretation of dormitory regulations and WSGA rules. They also hear defenses of women who violate college rules.

Present members of Judicial are Mickey Barnett, Lois Heyd, Phyllis James, Marian Memory, Jean Moul and Joan Seltzer.

Judicial held its first meeting of the semester last night in White Hall in the WSGA room. No appointment has as yet been made to fill the vacancy left by the recent resignation of Jane Spicher.

WRA Entertains Coeds at Play Nite

Traditional Saturday play nite for coeds is scheduled for White Hall from 7 to 9 p.m. tomorrow.

Miss Dorothy Briant, physical education staff member, and Polly Globish, WRA club chairman, will be in charge.

The swimming pool will be open and badminton will be set up in the gym. Table tennis, cards, and two pianos will furnish entertainment in the play room.

Free refreshments will be served between 8:30 and 9 p.m.

Sorority Scoop

By Harriet Singer
Past Panhellenic President

With sorority rushing season in its second week, sophomore and transfer women are confronted with the problem of whether they should join a sorority and if so, which one.

A sorority gives a coed the opportunity to cultivate a broader interest in campus and social activities.

However, do not think that such opportunities are open only to sorority women, for many independent women have been outstanding in campus and social life without the assistance of a sorority.

If you are doubtful about pledging, don't let yourself be swayed by the idea of either "belonging" or being "left out." You won't be left out of anything as long as you, as an individual, have something to offer the College.

Above all, learn to distinguish between sales-talk and sincerity of women who are rushing you.

If you are interested in becoming part of a sorority group, whether you are being rushed or not, it is wise to attend Panhellenic functions and sorority open houses, for only through them can sorority women know of your interest.
