

"Beat West Virginia"

The Daily Collegian

WEATHER
Continued Warm and Fair

VOL. 46—No. 18

THURSDAY MORNING, OCTOBER 23, 1947—STATE COLLEGE, PENNA.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

College Enrolls 3012 Freshmen

A total of 3012 Penn State freshmen are enrolled at undergraduate centers, state teachers' colleges and other colleges, reported William S. Hoffman, registrar. Men outnumber the coeds 2551 to 461.

The number of students at each institution varies from the 2 at St. Francis to the 320 at Swarthmore. Enrollments of first semester students at undergraduate centers are Altoona, 267; Du Bois, 196; Hazleton, 227; and Schuylkill, 243.

State teachers' colleges account for Bloomsburg, 76; California, 190; Clarion, 128; East Stroudsburg, 81; Edinboro, 143; Indiana, 10; Kutztown, 185; Lock Haven, 67; Mansfield, 133; Millersville, 158; Shippensburg, 67; and Slippery Rock, 82.

At other colleges are Dickinson Junior, 79; Gannon, 25; Keystone Junior, 58; Mont Alto, 171; St. Francis, 2; Swarthmore, 320; and York Junior, 104.

Cafeteria Varies Meatless Days

The Home Economics cafeteria and Maple Room which opened Monday, will observe a different meatless day each week, Miss Esther A. Atkinson, associate professor of home economics, said yesterday.

This plan will be used so that all students in hotel and institution administration, who take daily turns as cook, will get experience in the preparation of meats, Miss Atkinson explained.

A new walk-in refrigerator, she added, has been placed in operation to enable the management to buy and store larger quantities of food than it could in previous years.

Schedules of the cafeteria and Maple Room serving hours are posted on the Old Main bulletin board and in the Home Economic building.

Race Equality Promoters Plan Meeting on Campus

Thirty-eight campus and town groups that are affiliated with the Council on Racial Equality will send representatives to a meeting at 304 Old Main, 8 p.m., Wednesday, William G. Mather, chairman of the steering committee, announced.

At the close of last semester the CORE was investigating Negro discrimination in State College barber shops and possibilities of beginning a non-discriminatory shop.

Attendance at the meeting next Wednesday night will determine the activity of CORE for the coming year, Mather added.

Prof Substitutes Thurber Stories For Speaker

Ten Sparks was filled yesterday afternoon with students and faculty members awaiting David K. Harris' talk on "Oxford University." But he never appeared.

Professor Paul R. Beall of the speech department, however, was present and took the situation in hand. After warning the audience that "if you like this, it's Thurber's fault, not mine," Professor Beall went on to tell a few anecdotes by the famed humorist.

The old story of Little Red Riding Hood was given a new twist when instead of falling for the wolf's disguise, the little girl realized it wasn't her grandmother and shot the wolf. The moral of that story is that it isn't so easy to fool little girls nowadays as it used to be.

The last story the speech professor told dealt with a woman who was convinced her husband should be put away in a "booby hatch" when he told her he had seen a unicorn in the garden eating a lily. When she told this story to the police and a psychiatrist, they decided that it was she, and not her husband, who was insane. Thurber's moral revealed that "You shouldn't count your boobies until they're hatched."

Soft Drink Firm Gives Fellowships

Twenty-six graduate fellowships with full tuition and $750 per year for three years have been added to Pepsi-Cola's scholarship program, according to a recent announcement by the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board. The Board also sponsors four-year undergraduate scholarships.

Fellowships will be awarded to college seniors on the basis of financial need and the promise of outstanding achievement in later life as evidenced by their undergraduate records and recommendations as to character, personality, and leadership. Any student who is scheduled to graduate during the school year 1947-48 from a U. S. college or university is eligible.

Winners, who may choose any field of study in any accredited graduate school in the U. S. or Canada, will be selected by regions. Six awards will go to students attending college in each of the four geographical zones and two to graduates of Negro colleges. Negro graduates of other schools, however, are also eligible for fellowships in their respective regions.

Application blanks and further information may be obtained from the dean of each school or from the Pepsi-Cola Scholarship Board, 532 Emerson street, Palo Alto, California.

Oxford Debating Team Defeats Penn Staters on Alliance Issue

World peace can best be achieved through the United Nations, and an Anglo-American alliance can only split nations into two armed camps of communism and capitalism, declared the Honorable Anthony

N. W. Benn for the visiting Oxford team which won the formal debate in the Schwab Auditorium last night.

Carrying the strength for the British negative side, Benn pointed out Russia must protect its interests against unfriendly nations whether by use of the veto or the newly-revived Comintern. In the summing up, he outlined the hopeless conflicts of the Balkans and indicated that aid to Europe would accomplish more than an Anglo-American pact.

Sir Edward C. G. Boyle also argued the uselessness of the proposed alliance.

English-speaking peoples must join forces to stem the insatiable Soviet designs for world power, stressed Harris Gilbert for the local squad. Richard Hill, the second affirmative debater, helped support the affirmative's resolution.

Harris Gilbert

Lines from the Lion . . .

Morgantown, West Va. Dear Gang:

The Hig got kinda worried about Saturday's game with West Virginia so he sent me down here to do a little scouting.

I had trouble understanding just what the assignment was. When the Hig mentioned scouting, I sez, "which is your desire Mr. Higgins, Girl or Boy scouting?"

I have taken up residence in a tree which is located on a hill overlooking the West Va. campus. Through my lionescope I have been watching the Mountaineers practice all week. After studying them closely I uncovered some valuable information which you can pass along to the Hig.

There's a cheerleader named Sally who we should keep our eye on. Be prepared for plenty of passes . . . from the team, that is. One vital fact was uncovered by an engineer down here. He says that they're going to start eleven men, and the guy we have to be careful of is the one who carries the ball.

I also found out that their triple threat star has a wart on his back. Now if we could figure out some way to keep him from wearing a jersey during the game, the wart would serve as a sure means of identification.

Your Foreign Lionnaire,
The Lion.

Job Office Moves

Faculty and staff members interested in obtaining student help are requested to call the newly located student employment office in 420 Old Main.

Requests for help should be called through extension 109. The office is in charge of Allan Reece.

Club Seeks Photos For Queen of Hop

Photographs of contestants for Queen of Belle Hop should be submitted by sponsoring organizations before Tuesday, said Daniel A. Botkiss, publicity chairman of the Junior Greeters Club.

Botkiss asked that the pictures be mailed or brought to the club's office in the basement of the Home Economics building. The contestant's name and that of her sponsor should be included.

Before the Hop, which is set for November 1, pictures of five finalists will be displayed in the window of the Athletic Store.

The Queen will be given two tickets to the Pitt-Penn State game and a reservation at a Pittsburgh hotel.

Three judges, two of them members of the Pennsylvania Hotel Association will select the Queen. They are Richard Bower, professor of hotel administration at the College, Charles Heinze, manager of the Carlisle Inn, and Lee Merriman, manager of the Anthony Wayne Hotel, Waynesboro.

LA Council Elects 20 New Students

Twenty students were elected to the Liberal Arts Student Council in its all-day election yesterday according to Jean Moore, election chairman.

The seniors elected were Janet Adler, Nancy Hoffman, Donald Miller, Bunny Rosenthal, and John Stevenson.

Juniors named are Bernard Ashner, Jerome Cooper, Joan Fox, Barbara Keefer, David Malickson, Jean Moore, Peter Prifti, Philip Schumacher, Jane Weigle, and Selma Zasofsky.

Elliot Krane, Larry Lapidus, Thomas Morgan, Donald Orr, and Charles Weiss are the sophomore members.

Student Council will meet in 415 Old Main at 7:30 p.m. Sunday to elect officers.

Britisher to Visit ASAE Convention

The British Embassy will be represented at the dinner meeting this evening opening the annual fall convention of the Pennsylvania section of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers.

The international visitor, P. J. Macfarlan, assistant agricultural attache to the British Embassy at Washington, will "make a few remarks," said Ralph E. Patterson, instructor in agricultural engineering, and secretary-treasurer of the group.

Mr. Macfarlan is spending a few days on the campus inspecting various research projects in agriculture.

The principal speaker for tonight's dinner meeting will be
(Continued on page six)

Student Parade To Precede Rally Tomorrow Night

Cheerleaders Direct Songs, Cheers, Talks

"Beat West Virginia" is the theme of tomorrow night's pep rally which will be preceded by an all-College parade through the fraternity section and up the Mall to the steps of Old Main, the rally site.

The parade will begin at 6:45 o'clock at the Tau Kappa Epsilon house. The time has been set early, so that students planning to attend the Junior Prom later in the evening may first participate in the rally, said Stanley Eisman, chairman of the rally.

Cheerleaders will direct songs and cheers that will be projected on a large screen in front of Old Main. Thomas J. Lannen, All-College president, will act as master of ceremonies during the program.

Harold R. Gilbert, graduate manager of athletics, will speak to the students, and efforts are being made to have James Millholland, acting president of the College, present at the rally.

Members of the "Beat West Virginia" pep rally committee are Stanley Eisman, chairman; Horace Ashenfelder, Ray Dieterich, Robert Frankhouse, Myrna Hinkle, Richard McAdams, Lois Ressler, and George Schwartz.

Ticket Sale Begins For Junior Prom

Sale of Junior Prom tickets will begin at the Athletic Association window in Old Main tomorrow at 8 o'clock and close at 5 o'clock.

Saluting the class of '49 and starring Charlie Barnet, the Prom will be held in Recreation Hall from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. tomorrow. Coeds have been granted special 2 o'clock permissions by WSGA.

Alternate stripes of green and white fabric will camouflage the gymnasium walls. A false ceiling of the same material will stretch from balcony to balcony. At the end of the floor opposite the door will be a large cut-out football emblazoned with silver letters '49. Special emphasis will be given to this class throughout the dance.

Streamers of colored lights and scenic footfalls will be suspended above the heads of dancers. At each end of the dance floor goal posts will be erected to create the illusion of a football field. Painted set-pieces of corn stalks, fall foliage, and pumpkins, will be attached at regular intervals around the side walls.

Late AP News

Courtesy Radio Station WMAJ

Byrnes Urges Peace Talks

COLUMBIA, S.C. — Former secretary of State James Byrnes proposed last night that the United States, Britain and France plan now for a full-dress German peace conference, regardless of the attitude of Russia.

Meanwhile Soviet deputy foreign minister Andrei Vishinsky added Byrnes and two American cabinet members. Secretary of Commerce Harriman and Defense secretary Forrestal to his list of alleged warmongers today.

Poultryless Thursdays

WASHINGTON — Charles Luckman and members of his citizens food committee are discussing by telephone possibility of polishing the poultryless Thursdays. Luckman is said to lean toward cancellation of the chickenless and turkeyless days.

Forest Fires Rage

BOSTON — Millions of dollars in damage have been caused by forest fires raging in ten states. The situation is worst in New England, where property loss from the fires is estimated at three million dollars. Kennebunkport, Maine, is threatened by a fire which has swept a five-mile stretch of coastline.

Movie Investigation

WASHINGTON — Actor Robert Taylor told Congressional investigators yesterday that he has seen plenty of things on "the pink side" in the motion picture business. But, he added an opinion that studio heads are doing their best to rid the movie capital of communists.

News Briefs

Castore Reads Paper

George F. Castore, assistant in psychology at the College will read a paper before a conference of physics teachers at Juniata College, Huntingdon, tomorrow. The paper is entitled "A Preliminary Report on Aptitude Tests for Incoming Physics Students."

Brother Rats Meet

"Brother Rats" an organization of former ASTP students at Virginia Military Institute will meet in 415 Old Main at 7 p.m. Monday. Lewis Scherer, chairman of the group, announced that plans for participation in intramural sports and social events will be discussed.

Skull and Bones

Skull and Bones, senior honorary, voted recently to pay a share in the cost of repairing the Lion suit, announced Larry Foster, president of Hat Society Council.

Ag Eng Convention

The Pennsylvania section of the American Society of Agricultural Engineering will hold its annual fall convention in 105 Ag Eng Building today and tomorrow. Officers for the coming year will be elected.

Fairmount Fellowship

Former members of the Fairmount Fellowship House are requested to contact Alvin Kaufman, or William J. Rubin Room 3, Dorm 44. A reorganization of the house is planned and a time for a meeting must be set.

Football Movies

Earl Edwards, end coach of the football team will be narrator for the showing of movies of the Syracuse game tonight. There will be two showings in 119 New Physics, one at 7:30 o'clock and one at 8:15 o'clock.

(Continued on page two)