TEA ROOM

In the world of women's and children's apparel, distribution is by CONSUMER PREFERENCE

Through the thousands of store buyers who are the patrons of the apparel production centers of the nation comes the voice of the clothes-consuming public.

The choices of the retailers, transmitted to the manufacturing markets through millions of miles of their own and of salesmen's journeys, are originally the tastes of the wearers.

Designing room and production plan are ever-sensitive to the requirements of the public.
