

Pacific Veterans Remember Artists' Course Opera Singer

Veterans attending the Artists' Course presentation of "Madame Butterfly" tonight may recognize Lucy Kelston, who plays the title role, as the dark-haired girl who became famous for her singing of "Ava Maria" during a USO tour of the Pacific Theater.

Miss Kelston and Jon Crain, who will sing the B. F. Pinkerton role, are the only changes from last night's cast.

Tickets for tonight's performance will be available at Student Union from 1:30 to 5 o'clock this afternoon and from 8:30 to 8 o'clock tonight, said Dr. C. E. Marquardt, chairman of the committee.

Born in New York City, Miss Kelston gained her first operatic experience with the San Carlo Opera Company, and sang opera leads at the Paper Mill Playhouse, Millburn, New Jersey.

(Continued on page three)

Group Plan Giant Pittsburgh Rally

Plans for a giant "Beat Pitt" pep rally to be held in Pittsburgh Friday evening are being drawn up by a special student committee headed by Richard Sarge.

"Beat Pitt" tags are available at Student Union. Frank Tidona, chairman of the tag committee, urges all students to show to their spirit by wearing the cards.

The pep rally will be the first event of a weekend in Pittsburgh crowded with social events and keyed, of course, by the Pitt football game Saturday afternoon.

Tickets for the game are on sale at Student Union, said Harold R. Gilbert, and all orders will be filled at the tickets are received by the Athletic Association.

Tickets for the dance at the William Penn Hotel on Saturday night are still available at Student Union, according to Ray Kelly, chairman of entertainment for the weekend. Music for the dance, to be held in the main ballroom of the hotel from 9 to 12 p.m., will be supplied by Joey Sims and his orchestra.

Room reservations for the weekend are still available. Information and reservations may be secured at Student Union or by calling Jack Cameron at 3938.

Late AP News

Courtesy Radio Station WMAJ

WASHINGTON — President Truman's address to Congress at the opening of the special session last night covered both emergency foreign aid and inflation at home.

Major points in this program included a request that Congress give the President authority to restore limited controls over wages and prices and limited rationing. Mr. Truman added that these and other steps in his program need not be taken if voluntary methods of combating inflation work.

The president added that he does not envision blanket price ceilings over major items which account for basic living costs. Nor, he said, does he envision such widespread ceilings over scarce items basically needed for industrial production. Rather, he added, the controls would be selective. He mentioned grain and steel as vital items.

Inflation Threatens

The president asked for 597-million dollars to tide France, Italy and Austria through the winter. He said that inflation at home is a threat to the foreign aid program.

Sophomore Class Votes Thursday

Election of sophomore officers will be held in the Armory from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. Thursday. Candidates vying for the class offices are:

President—Ted Allen (State State), Ken Shaffer (Nittany-Independent).

Vice-president — Bert Hays (Nittany-Independent), Nancy Cray (State).

Secretary-treasurer — Chuck Beatty Jr. (State), Kay Stephenson (Nittany-Independent).

Positive identification, preferably a matriculation card, must be presented at the polls. Third and fourth semester students are entitled to vote.

The three elected officers will serve on All-College Cabinet for the remainder of the fall semester, and the entire spring semester. The sophomore president-elect will vote on all Cabinet issues. In case of his absence, the vice-president will exercise this voting power.

The secretary-treasurer will have a seat on Inter-Class Finance Board. All inter-class funds, consisting of class dues and dance profits, are controlled by this board. The All-College secretary-treasurer serves as chairman.

Election of both political parties is governed by the Elections Code, a set of rules compiled by All-College Elections Committee. William Staley, committee chairman, reminds the cliques that any violations of the code are punishable by the removal of no less than 9 or more than 45 votes.

CORE Wants Barbershop

A barbershop for both negro and white students here at the College has been proposed by the Council on Racial Equality in a letter to Samuel K. Hostetter, assistant to the president in charge of business and finance.

Since the new Student Union building will be a number of years in arriving, the Council proposes that such a barbershop be included in the frame building now being constructed and locally known as the "Tub."

The Council has also written to Thomas McKean Chidsey, Attorney General of Pennsylvania, as to whether local barbers, in their refusal of service to the colored students, are violating the state law.

Rose Chats While Writing Evening Bulletin Column

"Stuff and Nonsense" by the Philadelphia Bulletin columnist Don Rose can make sober, serious sense.

"There are too many columnists sounding off today, painting a gloomy picture of the future," Mr. Rose told a reporter yesterday in the Daily Collegian office while banging out his column for Wednesday.

"Recently I made a study of columnists' predictions of 20 years ago," Mr. Rose said, running his black pencil through the copy paper in his typewriter.

"They made the world ahead look like a bright place and didn't see the depression less than two

Contest Honors Nittany Gridders

Penn State's football fans will name the outstanding Lion back and leading lineman in a contest to be conducted next week. Sponsored jointly by the Daily Collegian and the Centre Daily Times, the contest will be handled for the sole purpose of adding honors to a team which ranks among the outstanding in Nittany Lion history.

Ballots will appear in both newspapers throughout the week. County fans will be expected to vote through the Times, and Collegian will draw the choice of the 8,400 campus students.

Trophies will be presented to the winners at the annual football banquet. Every member of the Lion squad will be eligible to receive votes.

Bob Higgins, Nittany Lion coach, has endorsed the contest, declaring it will "give added recognition to the two members of our squad who win and to the others who are sure to win a lot of votes."

Daily stories will report the progress of the drive after Monday.

Education School Elects Council

Names of fifteen members of the Education Student Council elected Wednesday have been announced by Dr. Marion Trabue, dean of the Education School.

Elected from the psychology department were James Lotz, Larry Shamback, and Joan Bisey. Home economics: Margaret Paxton, Joanne M. Snyder, Sally Ann Rowe, Geraldine Hindenback, and Jean Hunger.

Secondary and elementary education: Jack Bohm, Robert Stover, Lois Resler, Helen Dickerson, and Jean Posey.

Music education: Barabra Gillet. Industrial education: Eugene Maelhorn.

Anyone wishing to see the ballots may do so after getting the consent of the council. Ballots are at the office of the dean.

Candidate pictures which have not been returned may also be obtained at the office.

All members of the council are to have their pictures taken at the Photo Shop at 7:15 o'clock tonight. A meeting will follow in 17 Sparks.

Collegian Meeting

There will be a compulsory meeting of the entire Collegian business staff in 1 and 2 Carnegie Hall at 6:45 o'clock tonight. Candidates will meet in room 1 and sophomore and junior boards in room 2. The senior business board will meet in the business office at 5 o'clock.

Milholland Promotes 113 Faculty Members

James Milholland, acting president of the College, announced yesterday the appointment of two department heads and 111 other faculty promotions.

Dr. Raymond Swift, professor and acting head of animal nutrition, was named head of that department, and Dr. John H. Ferguson, professor of political science, was named head of the department of political science.

Local Gift Joins Friendship Train

State College's contribution to the Friendship Train in Altoona Saturday was composed of $1,267.17 worth of flour and 200 pounds of dried beans.

Contributions of students from the College are included in the donations by the State College Commerce Club, sponsor of the local drive.

The Friendship Train, which started east from the Pacific Coast last week, picked up so many carloads of food along the way that it had to be split into three sections. The second section stopped at Pittsburgh, Johnstown, and Altoona, where the Centre County car joined the caravan.

The paths of the Freedom Train and the Friendship Train met for the first time in Harrisburg yesterday since the special trains started their transcontinental journeys early in the month.

The Freedom Train carries more than 100 historic documents, many of them priceless. Its cars are stainless steel and the documents are guarded by thick glass paneling.

Men Debate Mount Mercy

The adage that "two can live as cheaply as one" was upheld by Royce Nix and Eugene Fulmer in their affirmative stand in the debate with Mount Mercy College Friday evening.

Mr. Nix and Mr. Fulmer, of the Men's Debate Squad, defended the proposition that undergraduate marriages should be encouraged against the negative team of Joan Schmidt and Margaret McGill.

The affirmative stand was based on three points. Undergraduate marriages are biologically sound, socially useful, and academically wise.

In pointing out the biological soundness, Mr. Nix said that promiscuity would be greatly reduced. He added that half the men and one-fourth of the women in their junior and senior years have had pre-marital relations.

That it is socially useful was emphasized by the fact that coed marriages have the lowest divorce rates in the country, according to Dr. Clifford Adams, the College marriage expert.

Nix proved early marriages are academically wise with the recent Dean's List figures. Nine and four-tenths per cent of the College enrollment made Dean's List. Sixteen and two-tenths per cent of Windcrest had the necessary average. Married students are the best students and those with children are even better.

Undergraduate marriages were proved financially safe when Mr. Nix quoted Dr. Adams as saying that two can live one-third (Continued on page three)

Senior Photos

Seniors graduating by June who have not yet had pictures taken for La Vie must do so by tomorrow noon, Marjorie Mousley, photo editor, announced. No appointment is necessary to have the photograph taken at the Photo Shop. Seniors who have not returned their proofs to the Photo Shop are asked to do so by Thursday.

Professors

The following associate professors were promoted to the following positions: William G. Mather, professor of rural sociology; Robert W. Stone, professor of bacteriology; Newell A. Norton, professor of wood utilization; Milton T. Lewis, professor of plant breeding;

Joseph Keith Thornton, associate professor of farm crops and acting superintendent of the College farms; Rosalind M. Jewett, professor of home economics extension; George F. Johnson, professor of agricultural extension; Lora M. Pinder, professor of home economics extension;

David H. Rank, professor of physics; Harold K. Schilling, professor of physics; Leland S. Rhodes, professor of civil engineering; Pierce G. Coperous, professor of engineering research; R. Burton Power, professor of engineering research; Charles H. Tindal, professor of engineering research;

Winona L. Morgan, professor of home economics; Jabir Shibli, professor of mathematics; William H. Gray, professor of Latin-American history; Paul D. Kry-

(Continued on page six)

News Briefs

Addresses Club '50

Tom Lannen, All-College president, will introduce sophomore candidates at the meeting of Club '50, PSCA sophomore group, in 304 Old Main at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

After the introduction of the candidates, Ski Club slides will be shown and the club's activities explained.

Critique Circulation

Critique circulation staff will meet in 9 Carnegie Hall at 7 o'clock tonight, said John Hunter, circulation manager.

Collegian Meeting

There will be an important meeting for all members of the Collegian editorial candidates, sophomore, and junior boards in 8 Carnegie Hall at 6:45 o'clock tonight, said Allan Ostar, editor.

Agriculture Forum

"Better Rural Life" is the subject of the address of Dr. Richard D. Comfort to be given in 100 Hort at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Dr. Comfort's audience will be the Agriculture Student-Faculty Forum.

Dr. Comfort is Dean of the Warren H. Wilson Institute of Rural Church Work, Swannanoa, N. C. He will be available for individual conferences today in the Hugh Beaver Room of the PSCA.

Skull and Bones

All members of Skull and Bones are requested to attend a meeting in 106 Temporary building at 7 o'clock tonight, said Larry Foster, president.

Baking Lecture

All students and townspeople are invited to a talk on the "Baking Business Today" in 121 Sparks at 7:30 o'clock tonight. The speaker will be William E. Manbeck, manager of the Manbeck Baking Co. in Harrisburg. The talk is presented by Delta Gamma Pi, commerce and finance honorary.

(Continued on page seven)