

Intramurals

In last week's intramural basketball games Alpha Chi Omega, Delta Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, and a Town team came out on top.

The Alpha Chi Omega team defeated Philotes 35-5. Players on the winning team were Peg Dejure, Pat Irwin, Sara Nickel, Jean Posey, Katie Powell and Jane Sliffer.

Tri Deltas were trounced by a strong Town team 26-9. Mary Cohan, Marian Deck, Edna Griffiths, Shirley Hackenberg, Jean Israel, and Miriam Whiton made up the winning combination.

The Delta Gams, with Frances Keeney, Betty May Parkhurst, Jeanne Parrish, Elosie Rile, Pat Rodii, and Helen Ward playing, won over Phi Mu 24-13.

In three quarters of close play, the Gamma Phi Beta team and Kappas kept a fairly even score, sinking goal for goal. But in the fourth quarter, the Gamma Phi's took the game 33-17. Members of the winning team were Gertrude Fetzer, Ginny Gallup, Bobby Kieffer, Marian Memory, Elaine Nelson, Dolores Piccone, and Nancy Smith.

Officials for last week's games were Nan James, Daisy Mae Tomich, Petie Kraemer, Joan Cortright, Nancy Romig, Jane McCormick, Babs Knoll and Mary Failor.

Every Coed A Participant Is WRA Ideal, Says Wagner

"WRA's main ideal is to have every coed on campus participate in at least one of its activities."

According to Lee Ann Wagner, president of WRA, this ideal accounts for the present title of the organization. Several years ago, Miss Wagner pointed out, the title, Women's Athletic Association, was dropped and the name Women's Recreation Association adopted in its place.

"We try to provide for the varied interests of the students," Miss Wagner continued. "There are strenuous activities, such as the intramural sports program.

Recreational Clubs
"Other recreational activities come under the subdivision of clubs or social events."

Every activity is set up with both a beginner's and an advanced group, Miss Wagner explained. Under this plan coeds who have never played bridge or held a fencing foil receive instruction and most enter the advanced group after a short period of training.

Miss Wagner is well qualified to serve as president of WRA. A friendly senior in the School of Physical Education, she has been active in WRA since her freshman year.

Mortar Board Member

During her junior year, Miss Wagner was elected vice president of WRA and president of modern dance club. She is a member of Mortar Board, senior women's honorary, and Lakonides, women's physical education honorary.

A valuable member of the swim club, Miss Wagner competed in the telegraphic swimming meets last spring when State's team placed third in the nation.

As president-elect of WRA last year, Miss Wagner attended the convention of the American Federation of College Women at Greensboro, North Carolina.

"At this convention," Miss Wagner commented, "I began to realize the many advantages of our methods of organization here at Penn State.

"Here every College woman is automatically a voting member of WRA, while at most other schools a membership fee must be paid before the franchise is granted."

"Our White Hall is one of the most completely equipped physical education and recreation buildings in the country. Because WRA is granted a generous budget each year by the administration, all supplies for activities can be furnished by this organization."

Coeds To Receive Late Permissions For Henry V Show

Coeds attending the movie "Henry V" Wednesday or Thursday nights may have late permissions if they present their movie stubs to their dormitory hostess when they return, Miss Pearl Weston, dean of women, said today.

Coeds are warned, however, that they must return to their dormitories immediately after the movie.

This will not be counted as a late semester eleven o'clock permission, Miss Weston said.

Cwens Tap Sophs After Thanksgiving

Cwens, sophomore women's honorary, will tap shortly after Thanksgiving vacation, said Sally Henry, president of the organization. The activities, leadership, and scholarship of the sophomores are the points under consideration.

A committee consisting of Madelyn Bush, Helen Dickerson, Terry Klosterman, and Helen Reed, are checking the files in the Dean of Women's office for sophomore women who have a 1.5 average and two activities.

Cwens is also writing the centers for information about the girls' activities last year.

America's foremost authority on young people's problems

One little...two little...six little Indians. Alike as a row of bobby pins. Third from the left...that's you. Following the fad...letting somebody else beat the tom-tom for you.

Yes, it's painless to look like everybody else. "Make mine the same" is no strain on your mental machinery. It's safer, 'too. No sticking your neck out and being scalped with "Isn't she odd?"

But didn't you ever look at yourself in the mirror? You aren't exactly like those other five Indians. You aren't even the image of anybody in your own tribe. Oh, you may have inherited a family nose. But you're still not the duplicate of Mother, sister or dear Aunt Matilda. You're you! Something special...personality...posture...complexion...faults...features. Nobody else's warpaint will quite do for you.

Maybe you can't really see yourself when you do look in the mirror. You can only see yourself as others see you. Those five other Indians admire you in blue. So you're convinced blue's the only color for you. They like your tweed suit. It happens to make your face look bumpy. But they didn't notice that either. So you happily wear your tweeds. You'd never have known how silly you looked in that hat...if they hadn't told you. "What do you think?" "How does it look?" "Do you like it on me?" You fish for "trade lasts". Their compliments decide it. Why not plan YOU yourself? Use your own taste...not theirs. They're not bothered by your problems. They don't really care how you look.

But you do! It's your warpaint! If your final effect wins the gang's applause...that's just the feather that tops the fact that you did it with your own little tomahawk!
