

Shaffer, Allen Vie For President In Soph Elections

Voting in Armory Caps Ten-Day Campaign

Ken Shaffer, Nittany-Independent, and Ted Allen, State, duel for presidency of the sophomore class tomorrow.

Sophomore elections, from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. in the Armory, climax a ten-day period of personal appearances, campaign speeches, and platform promises. Candidates for the remaining offices are: vice-president—Burt Hays (Nittany - Independent), Nancy Cray (State), and secretary-treasurer—Kay Stephenson (Nittany-Independent), Chuck Beatty Jr. (State).

William Staley, chairman of the Elections Committee, urges all those eligible to vote tomorrow, as the office winners are their direct representatives in student government.

The sophomore president-elect wields one vote in All-College Cabinet. In his absence, the vice-president takes over. The secretary-treasurer automatically becomes a member of the Inter-class Finance Board.

Every third or fourth semester student is eligible to ballot for the candidates. Voters may "split" their votes between the two parties. A positive means of identification, such as a matriculation card, must be presented at the polls.

Senate To Decide Coed Permissions

WSGA House of Representatives voted in favor of blanket permissions for coeds at its meeting in Old Main Lounge last night. The question will now go to the Senate for further investigation of this system on other campuses.

Two blanket permission systems, neither of which has been definitely decided upon, have been presented.

One of these systems would require each girl at the beginning of the semester to send a questionnaire to her parents which they would send back to the Dean of Women's office stating that their daughter has full, limited, or no permission to leave the campus at any time. Under this system the coed would have to sign out in the dean's office each time she leaves the campus and sign in there when she returns.

The other system would require that parents send blanket permission to the dormitory hostess and the girl would sign out with her hostess. She would also sign a postcard stating where she is going, when she will return, and her means of transportation.

Florence Brown, Charlotte Halpern, Joyce Hodgins, Jeanne Parrish, Carol Preuss, and Marjorie Watson were judged the most beautiful seniors at the College, on the basis of the photographs submitted.

The six winners, chosen from approximately 80 entrants, will be featured individually in full page spreads of the book, and in addition will receive a glamour photograph to be taken at the Penn State Photo Shop.

The Belle section will be arranged in an entirely new setting, details of which will not be released until copies of the year book are distributed in the spring.

Cabinet To Vote $1500 If Students Approve

Fate of the proposed campus co-operative store will be decided at noon today.

Six thousand questionnaires testing student support will be circulated in all fraternity and dormitory dining commons. If students favor establishing the store, All-College Cabinet will vote on appropriating $1,500 to back it.

Co-op Committee, Chairman Emory Brown said, voted Monday night to circulate the petitions, at this time in order to have the store plans in the hands of Samuel K. Hostetter, assistant to the president in charge of business and finance, by November 28. Mr. Hostetter will present it to the Board of Trustees, December 5. Cabinet may hold a special session early next week to vote on the appropriation, Brown said.

Distribution Points
The question sheets will be distributed and collected at Pollock Circle, Nittany Dormitories, and all women's dining halls. Fraternities will turn in their questionnaires at Student Union or the Daily Collegian office.

"Cooperation in answering and returning the questionnaires can make or break the cooperative plan," Brown said.

The three inquiries on the questionnaire, prepared with the assistance of the psychology department, require "yes" or "no" answers. They are:

1. Do you think All-College Cabinet should appropriate $1,500 for the cooperative store?
2. Would you purchase miscellaneous supplies at the cooperative?
3. Do you feel that the co-operative will save you money?

Answers will be tabulated by the co-op committee tonight. Results, if favorable, will be given to Inter-class Finance Committee at noon tomorrow. The finance committee will then prepare an appropriation bill for submission to All-College Cabinet tomorrow night.

Constitution Provision

The All-College Constitution requires that bills involving the expenditure of over $100 must be read at one meeting and voted on at the next. Hence, a special session of Cabinet will be necessary to meet the November 28 deadline for presenting the bill to Mr. Hostetter. Further action on the co-op hinges entirely on approval by the Board of Trustees at their meeting December 5.

Would Open in February

If the Trustees approve the plan, the store should be in operation by February, Brown said. (Continued on page two)
