Lions Ready to Roar

VOL. 46-NO. 35

FRIDAY MORNING, NOVEMBER 21, 1947-STATE COLLEGE, PENNA

Beatty

State Party Takes Sophomore Elections

State party swept into power in the sophomore elections yesterday by a 271 presidential vote Board in the sophomore elections yesmargin. The results follow: President, vice-president—

State—Ted Allen, Nancy Cray, 538; Nittany-Independent—Ken Shafer, Burt Hays, 267. Secretary-Treasurer-

State—Charles Beatty Jr., 519; Nittany-Independent-Kay Stephenson, 274.

The official results were re liam Staley, chairman of the Elections Committee. "The turn-out was not spectacular," said Staley, "about 800 of the nearly (Continued on page eight)

A board of three citizens, appointed by the court, will open the ballot boxes 10 o'clock this morning. The board will also recount the votes.

Because of petitions filed at the leased at 6:30 last night by Wil-

News Late AP

Courtesy Radio Station WMAJ

Refuse Appeal

WASHINGTON - The Senate pointed. but turned a deaf ear yesterday to President Truman's call for reserve powers to control prices and wages and to reserve powers to control prices and wages and to ration scarce items. Chairman Robert Taft issued a statement saying the G.O.P. leaders have decided to place those presidential sugges-tions at the end of the list. This would indicate that the most for Thanksgiving is going to feature mountain-lion controversial section of the Pressident's anti-inflation program will be held off until the regular record of wins behind them but have two great session in January.

Unconstitutional

CLEVELAND - The Housing and Rent Act of 1947 has been held unconstitutional by a federal district judge, Paul Jones. He declared—in a case brought in the country. by a Cleveland landlord—that Without a declared without a declared. gency when peace has returned.

Britain Declines

LAKE SUCCESS-Britain yesterday declined to share the last days of her mandate over Palestine with a five-country United Nations commission. The British United Nations delegate, Sir Alexander Cadogan, says his government believes a concurconfusion and disorder.

Recounts Movie Ballots

Centre County Court of Com non Pleas has ordered a recoun of the votes concerning the Sunday movie issue. The voting took place in State College at the Nov. 4 general election.

A board of three citizens, ap-office of the Centre County Clerk in Bellefonte, all the votes cast in the three State College precincts will be tabulated.

J. R. Miller, Millheim, J. M.
Curtin Sr., Bellefonte, and Rev. D. A. Sower are the members of the board which the court ap-

Lines From the Lion

Height of Ignorance. Dear Gang,

I was reading the "Pitt News." It said that "Hig's poor little lambs are coming out for their annual shearing." That's the kind of talk they use out here in this inverted mineshaft.

Then they call our crushers the 'wonder boys" for defeating Bucknell and Fordham. And say 'They'll make another futile effort to 'win 'em all for the Hig.'"

I told these Pitts that Clyde Scott, Navy's All-American center, wasn't fooling when he rated On Co-op Funds the Nittany line better than Notre Dame's. And you know what the Irish did to Pitt.

The only way to stamp out all this small talk of the Pitt pussycat is to pulverize them, thrash them soundly. I'll have no milksopping tabby stealing crumbs from the feast of the roaring Nittany Lion.

For the glory, THE LION.

Rumor Spiked

There is no basis for the rumors circulating a round Campus that a holi ay will be declared should the Nittany Lions finish the football season unbeaten, Wilmer Kenworthy, executive secretary to the president, stated yesterday.

Whether a holiday will be declared if State wins Saturday's game will not be decided until Monday, he said.

"Let's think about winning the game first," he added.

The Baily Collegian Smoker, Rally, Ball, Highlight Weekend Of State-Pitt Game

The largest exodus of the gridiron season, almost 5,000 students, will celebrate the Pitt-Penn State game with a weekend of social events highlighted by a smoker, a giant "Beat Pitt" pep rally, and a "Cabaret Ball," in addition to a large number of fraternity parties.

There are still 500 tickets for the Pitt game available at the AA window in Old Main. An all-time record of 10,500

Cabinet To Vote

A special session of All-College

The special session was declared so that the campus cooperative plan could be given to Samuel K. Hostetter, assistant to the president in charge of business and finance, by Friday. Mr. Hos-

Board of Trustees December 5.

All-College constitution ruling.

tickets have already been Football movies of the Navy-Penn State game, numbers by the Blue Band, and speeches by the coaches will start off the smoker to be held on the 17th floor of the William Penn Hotel at 8 o'clock tonight. All students and alumni Cabinet was called for Monday at sold from this office.

5:05 p.m. to vote on the appropriation of $1856.50 for the campus formal Blue Band concest will co-op store at Cabinet meeting get underway in the area across Grant street from the William Penn Hotel at approximately 9:30 o'clock tonight.

Songs and cheers will be led by the cheer-leading squad with Stan Eisman in charge, and Prof. Hummel Fishburn will lead the band. The rally is being sponsored by the Hat Societies Council.

Tomorrow's game, the deciding factor in the Blue and White's untetter will present the plan to the The appropriation figure is defeated season, is expected to based on 25 cents per student; it will be increased later in proporsee a capacity crowd of 60,000 if the weather is clear. All hatmen tion to any rise in the present are requested by Lawrence G. 7428 enrollment. The money bill Foster, president of Hat Societies presented by Inter-class Finance Council, to be on the field at 1:45 (Continued on page four) Committee at Cabinet last night state attorney-general asking if (Continued on page four) Lion Growls Answer

by Mike Levine-Pitt News Staff

Pitt's mighty Panther is licking its chops-here comes Penn State again.

Yes, this is one cat-fight we at Pitt are anticipating with a great deal of pleasure. The bill-of-fare record of wins behind them but have two great obstacles to overcome before they can lick Pitt. For one thing, in a series of 47 games, Pitt has the Indian sign over the Blue and White, winning 28 and

Secondly, Coach Milligan's men are going to be up for this game, having suffered several ignoble defeats at the hands of some of the toughest teams

Without a doubt the Penn State squad has won some games in splendid form; teams in their own to enforce local rent control under the cloak of war emercontenders and has gone down spitting and clawing to losses that are deceiving when the scores are

We are counting on our hoys. We think they will win over State, more our size than the other teams we have played. We expect them to win because State is jinxed. Vordoo, hex, or good luck, call it "hatever you wart. Pitt wins.

Last year Penn State was the favorite: once again hey are the odds-on selection of the bet-makers. Once again Pitt is on the prowl for a win. Our rent administration would create fighting slogan is "Stew State" and we don't expect to be disappointed.

by Art Stober-Collegian Staff

last night.

They're planning to have Lion steaks for Thanksgiving down in Pittsburgh. But from the top of Mt. Nittany it looks as though they better start ordering mustard, for the bill of fare will more likely be pantherburgers.

This week-more than any other time this season-Penn State's mighty, mcbile football juggernaut is in high gear. That nationally-lauded Navy victory last Saturday in Baltimore's put dle-bedecked Municipal Stadium just hinted at the hoard of power stored under those Blue and White jerseys. It makes this week's contest look like an open and shut case for the "Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Small Children." Pitt's team will probably come out of this game looking like their Height of Ignorance fell on

To console themselves, they're talking about having the Indian sign on State. This Saturday cocaptains Johnny Nolan and Potsklan aren't going to spend their time praying to voodoo gods. They're going to be playing football—a tougher, more vicious brand of ball than Pitt's limping Panther has had the misfortune of being ground under in many many a year.

And they needn't pray for rain in the "Smoky City" either. It was once thought that mud was the great equalizer in football. After sloshing through two muddy victories in as many weeks. Penn State's gazelle-legged backfield looks as though it could swrint to TD's in the middle of the Monon-must be voted on at a second meeting in accordance with the Tickets Available A letter has been sent to the For 'Frying Pan'

Tickets are still available at Student Union for Players' arena production, "Out of the Frying Pan." The second weekly performance will be given at Center Stage located at the corner of College and Hamilton avenues, 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

The price, $1.10, includes freshments after the show. William Butler, regional director of the American National Theater and Academy, commented that ne had never seen such an exciting theater after attending the opening of "Out of the Frying Pan" last Saturday night.

Members of the cast for tomorrow night's performance include Bernard Carbeau, Barbara D. Cooper, Grant Davis, Herald Avis Goldberg ihringer. Johnston, Theodore Mann, Harry Natschke, Portman Paget, Frank B. Palmer Jr., Sally Seabright, and Jane Staus.

'Beat Pitt' Tags

More than 2500 "Beat Pitt" tags are still on hand at the Athletic Store for distribution. The Daily Collegian urges students to pick up these tags and wear them to Pittsburgh and the game as a means of ready identification.

Dutstanding Footbal Lineman,

Nittany Lion Coach Bob Higgins last night gave Penn State football fans something to think about when voting for the outstanding Lion lineman and back in Tuesday's Daily Collegian-Centre Daily Times trophy balloting.

The Daily Collegian will print a ballot in Tuesday's issue for all students to use. Only votes cast on the official ballot can

"A team is more than just 11 men," Coach Higgins said. "Just because some player happens to be in the right place at the right time and gets his name in the papers doesn't make him outstanding. It's that steady, dependable work all season that makes a player outstandof 40-is full of such players, and to single out one lineman and one back is a pretty big job, even for most of the student and county fans.

The winners of the polling will be presented with their trophies at the annual football banquet later this year.

The trophies, which will be placed on display in the window of the Athletic Store today, a cup with a miniature player on the top. The lineman trophy is finished in silver while the back award is of copper. Both are mounted on a mahogany base.

Outstanding play throughout the season should be considered before casting the ballots. Each voter should base his selections on his own opinions and not on newspaper writeups so that the will indicate a true cross-section of the fans' ideas.

Boxes for receiving the ballots will be placed at downtown eating establishments, College Dining Commons, Student Union, and the offices of the two newspapers.

Final results will be announced in the December 2 issues of the Daily Collegian and the Centre Daily Times.