John H. Frizzell, Chaplain emeritus of the College, will speak on "Why Be Thankful" at chapel service in Schwab Auditorium 11 a.m. Sunday.

At the service Boyd Bell, tenor soloist, will sing "My Soul Is Athirst for God" from "The Holy City" by Gaul. Appointed College Chaplain in 1928, Frizzell held that position until his retirement in 1946. Since 1905 he has been a licensed lay leader in the Episcopal Church. Frizzell graduated from Amherst College in 1902. The same year he was appointed instructor of English at the College. Until 1912 he was in charge of public speaking and intercollegiate debate.

In 1926 Frizzell was made associate professor of public speaking. He also organized the department of speech at that time. Frizzell is the only living founder of the Pennsylvania Debating League, from which grew the Debating Association of Pennsylvania Colleges. He is also the founder and first president of the Pennsylvania Speech Association.

Frizzell is the author of "Notes on Public Speaking" and the "Chapel Prayer Book." During World War II the "Chapel Prayer Book" was used by many chaplains in the armed forces.

Vets Urged To Report Non-Receipt Of Checks

Veterans who have not yet reported the non-receipt of their subsistence checks for October should do so immediately at the Veterans Administration in the Old Zoology Building, said Robert Stroud, senior training officer. Special inquiry will be made to the regional office to determine the cause for delay in the receipt of the checks.

Equipment replacing that which was damaged has been ordered from supply points all over the nation, some to be shipped by air freight, Mr. Wilson said. Meanwhile, the Steel-Bilt Construction Company has agreed to start construction of a new transmitting station on the site of the destroyed one, in Ferguson Township, on the outskirts of State College. Until the station can resume operations, announcing personnel have been given vacations.

Columbia U. Press Praises Booklet, 'Your Library'

Favorable comment was awarded by the Columbia University Press in its bi-weekly mimeographed news sheet, "The Pleasures of Publishing," to the College's new pamphlet, "Your Library."

The pamphlet tells by word and diagram just how a person should go about getting a book from the library.

"We hope," the Columbia University Press comments, "the students of Pennsylvania State College are at least as proud of their library as they are of their football team. They certainly should be."

"(Remembering our own Freshman days, we hasten to assure any scholars or librarians, who may have forgotten, that a library can be the most baffling and insurmountable obstacle on the road to academic progress.)"

"Penn State not only shows samples of catalog cards but even has drawings of the first floor plan of the library. We trust the alert Penn Staters have enough copies so that any other college librarian can secure a sample—and then go and do likewise. We suspect this intelligently-written booklet makes life easier for librarians as well as for students."

Nearby Stations Carry Pitt Game

Radio Station WMAJ will be unable to broadcast the Pitt game, since the transmitting equipment which was damaged in the fire early Wednesday morning cannot be replaced in time.

However, Robert L. Wilson, station manager, yesterday listed five nearby stations which will carry the game. They are KDKA, Pittsburgh, 1020 kilocycles; WCHA, Chambersburg, 800; WMSW, Altoona, 650; WMRP, Lewistown, 1490; WHGB, Harrisburg, 1400.

Cabinet To Vote—Revue Marks Half Century

Sunday movies held on campus would violate the borough ordinance prohibiting film showing in town. This action was taken, said Martin Baum, junior class president, after an investigation revealed local lawyers uncertain as to whether the ordinance applied to the College which is a corporation.

All other entertainment is permissible on Sunday. Work on campus movies will be continued in spite of legal flurries, Baum said. If the final legal interpretation bars Sunday showing, an attempt will be made to show them Fridays and Saturdays at a lower rate than is charged at local theaters.

Cabinet voted to sponsor a rally for the football team Monday. Hat Societies Council was delegated to plan it.

William Staley was appointed Cabinet representative to the Committee on Racial Equality.

Committee Lists 275 for Who's Who

Approximately 275 names received final approval by the selection committee to appear in Who's Who.

Those who have been selected will be notified on or about December 10. David Adelman, co-editor, said.

"As near as we can approximate, he said, "there will be about 25 more names in this year's issue."

The Who's Who staff is trying to publish early in January so that copies of the book can be sent out to all leading colleges, universities and newspapers in the commonwealth.

o'clock tomorrow afternoon. They will make a double line to cheer the team onto the field.

All inactive hatmen are invited to wear their hats and join in for a mass showing of support.

Tomorrow night's events will be highlighted by the "Cabaret Ball" in the ballroom of the William Penn Hotel. There will be dancing from 9 to 12 o'clock to the music of Joey Simms and his orchestra.

Tickets at $3.60 per couple will be on sale at the William Penn Hotel from noon today until tomorrow noon. They may also be purchased at the door.

Fraternities will be giving parties tonight and tomorrow night at the different hotels, night clubs and Pittsburgh chapters.

"Hot 'n Gold," Thespians' first student production of the year, will mark the 50th anniversary of that organization on campus. The show, a musical revue, is slated for Schwab Auditorium, December 11, 12, and 13.

Under the direction of Sock Kennedy, the revue will feature the best of the past songs and skits from the time Thespians began.

The show marks the return of the Male Chorus. Famous before women took an active part in Thespian productions, the Chorus is made up of men taking the part of women.

Bea Stern will direct the dancing and Ray Fortunato the songs. Production manager is Pepper Birchard; business manager, Ted LeFevre; and advertising manager, Jack Saling.

Elaine Mittelman is in charge of the program committee and Beatrice Silverstone heads the costume crew.

Chem-Phys Board Slates Elections

Election of sophomores to the Chemistry and Physics Student Council will take place in the foyer of the New Physics Building between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday. Robert Schock, president, said today.

Only sophomores enrolled in the School of Chemistry and Physics are eligible to vote. A matriculation card or other means of identification relative to the voter's class standing and school enrollment must be presented.

Two members will be selected from the following group to represent the chemical engineering department: George Herold, Harold Stetson, John Cooner, Albert Podolsky, Frank McElroy and Vernon Richens.

The chemistry department will be represented by two members to be chosen from among Hans Schneider, John Bruckner, Erwin Lesser, Ethelmae Miller is the only candidate representing the physics department.

Representing the pre-medical department, one to be selected, are Stanley Levick, Anne Mertens, and Russell Sadker.

Election results will be announced in Tuesday's Collegian.
