SECOND TD-Bobby Williams, fleet Penn State tailback, plunging over from the three-yard me in the second quarter of the game Saturday at Pitt Stadium. It was also his second touchdown in the first half, and helped the Nittany Lions subdue a tame University of Pittsburgh Panther, 29-0, to end Penn State's first unbeaten, untied season since 1912. Approximately 53,000 fans witnessed the 47th renewal of State's oldest rivalry, setting a new attendance record for the series. The victory marked the third time in the past 22 years that the Blue and White have emerged victorious over the Panthers on their home field.

STATE'S DEFENSE

Most startling fact revealed by All-Eastern Eleven attack was held to minus 23 yards by the rock-ribbed State defense, virtually unassailable all eason via the ground route.

In total defense, the Nittany-en yielded only 43 yards to the Canthers by ground and air. This gure, when compiled with to-als for the first eight tilts, gives Ttate an unofficial sesason mark of 76.8 yards given up per game to the opposition, by far the best efensive record of current col-age elevens across the nation.
