Alum. Office Calls For Reservations On Bowl 'Special'

Plans for a "Penn State Cotton Bowl Special" went forward today as the Alumni office at the College received phone calls from those interested in making the trip.

Nittany Lion football fans desiring to board the special train which will go to Dallas for the New Year's Day game with Southern Methodist University are asked to leave their names at the Alumni Office—State College 711—to determine the extent of the demand.

Reservations will be called for at a later date.

Estimated cost of the all-expenses-paid trip is $130 per person.

The tentative schedule calls for leaving Harrisburg Tuesday, Dec. 30, at 9 p.m. and arriving at Dallas on Thursday, Jan. 1, at 8 a.m. The train would leave Dallas that night at 9 o'clock and return to Harrisburg Saturday, Jan. 3, at 8 a.m.

The $130 would include train fare, all meals enroute, a sight-seeing tour of Dallas the morning of the 1st. lunch and dinner at a Dallas hotel and the ticket to the game.

The "Cotton Bowl Special" is available to all students, alumni and Counties interested in making the trip.

WSGA Initiates Christmas Drive

WSGA's Christmas Drive will start tomorrow and last until December 15. Each coed will be contacted through her dormitory president and is asked to contribute ten cents to each of the three projects to which the funds will be contributed this year, or a total of thirty cents.

The three funds which WSGA hopes to contribute are the Mifflin County Children's Aid Society in Lewistown, the American Women's Hospitals, and the local Estelle Hetzel Emergency Fund.

The Mifflin County Children's Aid Society assists children who have been adopted into families that are unable to provide more than the bare necessities of life. All the money contributed by Penn State women is used by the society to provide a happy Christmas for these adopted children by giving them toys, clothing, and little spending money.

The American Women's Hospitals, which carried on medical relief work in France during World War I, is today participating in the relief of suffering among the civilian population of Europe. Disease prevention, child health, and maternity work are important phases of its Home

Tickets are already on sale at Student Union and at any of the agriculture fraternity houses. Cost per couple is $1.50, with the dance being semi-formal.

Biographical questionnaires to be used by Who's Who will be mailed to students today and should be returned by those selected no later than December 10, said David Adelman, co-editor.

Who's Who In The News is published to give much-needed recognition to the students of the College for their meritorious achievements and to point out the individual leaders of daily college life.

Biographies appearing in Who's Who are based on the judgment of the selections committee. The aim of the publication is not to make reputations, but to search out those individuals who have already made them.

The sketches used in the publication will be compiled according to the biographical requirements of persons and institutions who will make use of the book.

Recognition will not be restricted to the College but will be sent to the colleges, universities, and leading newspapers of the state.

PSCA Finance Drive Extended One Week

The Finance Drive of the Penn State Christian Association has been extended to include this week, said James Smith, general secretary of the PSCA.

In a report yesterday, Mr. Smith said that $2823 of the goal of $6300 has been turned in, and that the only section which has completed the drive is Atherton Hall.

Of 218 men solicitors, 78 have reported with collections of $990.

Among the women, 79 of 99 solicitors have reported with contributions of $836.

Almost half of the faculty goal of $2100 has been reached, slightly more than $1000 having been reported.

Theodore Bunnell of Central Extension is chairman of the faculty drive, and Robert Drick and Phyllis James are chairmen of the student drive.

The drive was originally scheduled for November 10-20, but due to numerous bluebooks and the Navy Weekend the drive was extended for one week.

That week was highlighted by the Pitt Weekend and a football holiday. Consequently, says Mr. Smith, we are extending the drive through this week in hopes the goal will be met.
