

Junior Honoraries Write Constitution

A constitution providing for a National Junior Women's Honorary was drawn-up at the organization conference at the College this weekend and will be sent back to the charter members for ratification, Nancy Ault, president of Junior Service Board, sponsors of the conference, said today.

If the charter members, University of Pennsylvania, Ohio State University, Temple University, Cornell University, and University of West Virginia, ratify the constitution, a petition requesting a National Junior Women's Honorary will be sent to the National Board of Fraternities and Societies. If this board accepts the request, the National organization will be recognized nationally.

Plans drawn up at this conference state that the organization will be known as Chimes. Miss Ault will serve as temporary president and Yvonne Worrell, also of the College chapter, will serve as executive secretary, until permanent officers can be elected at the national convention in June. National headquarters will be located at the College.

The name Chimes was adopted from the local chapter at Ohio State University. The pin was selected to be a bell with three small pearls forming the clapper with the name Chimes written across the bottom of the bell. The colors of the organization are to be white and gold and the official flower a rose. The Chimes Clapper is to be the publication.

Plans to become a national organization can be carried out if one other group beside the one at the College ratifies the constitution and if it is accepted by the National Council. As soon as it is officially national, petitions from other Colleges with local Junior Honoraries interested in joining this organization will be voted upon by the charter members.

Thespians Feature Male Dance Chorus

One of the features of "Hot'n Gold," the Thespian show to be given in Schwab Auditorium at 7 p. m. Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, is the male chorus.

Men dressed as women and taking the parts of women were the excepted thing in Thespian shows until 1930. At that time women began taking a permanent part in the productions and formed the female counterpart of Thespians—Masquerettes.

In the scene "Make Me the King of an Island," from the 1927 show, "Girl Wanted," Wendell (Fuzzy) Lomady takes the feminine lead as a hula hula girl assisted by the male dancing chorus, as hula hula dancers.

Raymond Fortunado is the female lead in "I've Been Looking for Someone Like You" from the 1926 show, "The Kid Himself." Again the male dancers take the parts of women.

This scene was given in the fall by the boy and "girl" of the original production, Roy Nelson and Bob Graham, who flew from his California home to make the show.

Dallas Special—

Harrisburg to Dallas; an upper berth will cost $133, a lower berth is $140, and a compartment for two persons will cost $151 each. A drawing room for two will cost $161 and a drawing room for three will be $145 each.

The tentative schedule of the trip calls for leaving Harrisburg Tuesday, Dec. 30, at 9 p. m., and arriving at Dallas on Thursday, Jan. 1 at 8 a. m. The special is scheduled to leave Dallas that night at 9 o'clock and return to Harrisburg on Saturday, Jan. 3, at 8 a. m.

This Cotton Bowl Special is available to all students, alumni, and county residents, Mr. Riley said, and he again stressed the fact that since there is a shortage of tickets to the game, that by making reservations on the special, Lion football fans can be certain of obtaining tickets.

Froth—

Although the biggest issue in history with more cartoons and jokes than ever before, Froth will sell at its regular price of 25 cents, and subscription stubs will be valid for this special issue, said Stober. Froth will be sold at Student Union, at the Corner, at Graham's and at Rea and Derrick's.

AVC Sponsors Concert Of Hot Jazz in Schwab

Tickets for the Jazz Concert to be held in Schwab Auditorium at 7:30 o'clock Monday night are on sale at Student Union today, said Leo Troy, chairman of AVC, sponsors of the concert.

The tickets at 50 cents, tax included, can also be purchased at the Book and Record Shop, McMullens, the State College Hotel, or from individual members of AVC.

The program is entitled "A Study of Jazz" and will feature the Tru Blu Sextet, which is featured on WMAJ every Friday and Saturday night. There will also be a commentary.

This concert is being given to further the understanding of modern jazz. It is the first of its kind to be sponsored by AVC.

"We anticipate success and are anxious to sponsor more programs of this type, provided the attendance indicates that townspeople and students are interested in and desirous of better jazz," said Mr. Troy.

The Critics Say —

CATHAUM:

"Lured" Wed. and Thur. Variety — "Handsome roster of players plus an equally handsome production . . . misses the jackpot because of familiar and transparent scripting job."

"Escape Me Never" Fri. Sat. and Mon. Motion Picture Association of America—"It is not convincing, though adequately cast."

New Yorker — "Errol Flynn is cast as a musician . . . and he seems to regret the change."

Variety—"Entire film is a notable achievement."

STATE: "Jezebel" Tues. and Wed. Release. Dramatics department recommends for Bette Davis' performance.

"Green Dolphin Street. Sat. Mon., Tues. and Wed. New Yorker—"Lana Turner pouts, Donna Reed sobs, Richard Hart plays Edwin Boothe, and Van Heflin is inaudible."

New York Times—"It's a rambling old rumbling romance, full of old-fashioned cataclysms and old-fashioned torturing of the heart . . . played with all the mawkishness and pomposity that usually goes with this sort of thing."

Variety — "Millions went into this epic. It must depend upon spectacle and cast names to salvage it."

Marines

There will be a meeting of reserve marines and ex-marines in Engineering E at 7:30 o'clock tonight. A movie on radar will be shown and veterans may order victory medals.
