

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Happy
Cotton
Bowl

The Daily Collegian

WEATHER
Cloudy and Colder

VOL. 46—No. 48

FRIDAY MORNING, DECEMBER 19, 1947—STATE COLLEGE, PENNA.

FIVE CENTS

Dallas Club Makes New Year's Plans

Headed by a pre-game lunch-breakfast on New Year's Day, the Penn State Club of Dallas has planned a series of meetings for the benefit of visiting students to the Cotton Bowl game.

A Penn State football breakfast is scheduled for the Adolphus Hotel, Penn State headquarters for New Year's Eve and New Year's Day, between 8 and 10 a.m. New Year's Day.

Housing for 50 men in a temporary dormitory on the SMU campus is available for Penn State students. The first 50 who sign up at Student Union today as desiring a room in the dormitory will have their names sent to Dallas.

Charge for the room will be 50 cents per night, and individuals will be required to furnish their own blankets and sheets.

The Dallas Penn State Club will fete the Penn State coaching staff and College officials at the Loma Alto Hotel at 8 p.m. Monday, December 29.

Special tables for Penn State students and alumni are available at the annual pre-game Cotton Bowl Luncheon of the Dallas Optimist Club to be held at the Baker Hotel on Wednesday noon, December 31. Tickets are $1.50 each.

College officials will also be honor guests at a New Year's eve party sponsored by the Varsity Club of Dallas.

According to Ridge Riley, executive secretary of the Alumni Association, students, alumni, and townspeople can still obtain reservations including tickets, on the Penn State Cotton Bowl Special, the all-Pullman train that will leave Harrisburg Tuesday evening, December 30.

There are approximately 25 spaces left on the train. Mr. Riley said, and those interested should call the Alumni Association office. The all-inclusive fare from Harrisburg is $133 for an upper berth and $140 for a lower. For those boarding the train at Altoona the cost is $1.00 cheaper.

Late AP News

Courtesy Radio Station WMAJ

Arabs Fight Partition

PALESTINE — A temporary waning of violence in the fighting in Palestine is said by the Arabs to be just a lull before the storm. The Arab league yesterday decided to officially enter the battle against the partition of the Holy Land and said they would fight to a "victorious end."

Gromyko Demands

MOSCOW—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko has charged influential circles in the United States are preventing an agreement on atomic energy control. Gromyko, who spoke at the last meeting this year of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, also demanded that the UN stop "killing time" on what he termed "useless" discussions.

Bevin Charges

LONDON—British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin had strong words yesterday for Russia, who, he said, has been ordering her neighboring countries to stay out of the Marshall plan. He also charged that during the Four Power Conference in London, Russia's hostile propaganda had made it impossible to come to grips with the fundamental principles involved.

Kappa Sigma

The Kappa Sigs recently initiated Thomas P. McConnell and Kenneth V. Wright.

Juba Seeks Hot Clue; Follows Trail of Missing Tree

As members of Chi Phi quickly filed out of their dining room yesterday noon, the waiters wondered what had caused the sudden mass migration in the middle of the meal.

"Santa Claus is probably out in front of the house in his sleigh and with eight tiny reindeer," quipped one of the wiser members of the group.

So they went out to take a look.

Sure enough it was Old Nicholas—only he was in disguise. Instead of wearing his coat of red and having a long white beard, he wore a policeman's uniform and a holstered revolver. Instead of the sleigh, he rode in a police cruiser.

No wonder the dining room had been cleared so quickly. Stepping up to the door, Chief John R. Juba said:

"Do you fellows mind if I come in and look at your Christmas tree?"

Had the Chief suddenly become a horticulturist or a patron of the arts? No, Chief Juba is working on the case of the "Missing Spruce Tree" valued at $500, and the Chief and his cohorts are now searching all the fraternities for it.

If anyone sees a stray Christmas tree...

(Continued on page four)

Watkins Explains Schedule Changes

Students who find it necessary to change their first-phase registration schedules should not use drop-add forms, said Ray V. Watkins, scheduling officer. He explained that special forms will be issued for this purpose.

"Change of curriculum or course failures will necessitate schedule changes, but all changes must be approved by a student's adviser," Mr. Watkins said.

He also issued a final reminder that tomorrow noon is the absolute deadline for reporting final examination conflicts. More than two examinations scheduled for the same day constitute a conflict.

Penn State Club Sets Date For Talent Show Try-Outs

Tryouts for the All-College talent show being sponsored by the Penn State Club will be held January 6 and 7. Fred Peruzzi, publicity chairman, said yesterday.

Exact hours and location of the tryouts will be listed in the Daily Collegian immediately after the Christmas holidays. Announcement of these tryouts is being made now so that contestants may obtain props, music, and polish their acts while at home.

Where possible, aspirants should obtain sheet music and an accompanist. However, in the event an accompanist cannot be found, one will be made available by the sponsors of the show.

Druids Plan Initiation For 19 After Holidays

Druids, sophomore men's honorary, has set up tentative plans for tapping 19 students immediately after Christmas vacation, said John Benglian, president. These men will be initiated the second week in January.

Results of the drive for the lion suit will also be tabulated after the holiday.

Senior Grads

Seniors graduating in January must complete orders for caps, gowns, and graduation announcements at the Student Union desk in Old Main between 2 and 4:30 p.m. today, according to Richard Greenwalt and Edmund Koval, students in charge.

It was pointed out that announcements do not admit holders to the graduation exercises. Tickets will be distributed at a later date.

Commission Plans Aid to Colleges

President Truman's commission on higher education recently proposed federal financial aid in order to double college enrollments by 1960.

The 28-member commission pointed out that the United States faces a shortage of doctors and teachers. The commission also emphasized that there is a fostering of "quota systems" within American colleges.

When the report was released, Mr. Truman urged all citizens to examine carefully the 103-page document.

Criticized by the report was the "quota system" for admission by which many colleges and universities in the United States deny learning to "certain minorities."

"For the majority of our boys and girls," the report pointed out, "the kind and amount of education they may hope to attain depends, not on their abilities but on the family or community into which they happen to be born, or worse still, on the color of their skin or the religion of their parents."

LA Places Gripe Box

Another Liberal Arts Suggestion Box, highly decorated with every color of the rainbow and proclaiming "What's the Word? Got Any Gripes 'bout the L. A. School? Drop 'em Here", has been posted just outside the dean's office in Sparks. Students are urged to use it, Selma Zasofsky, L. A. council president, said.

Milholland Greets Student Delegates Representing Pennsylvania Colleges

JAMES MILHOLLAND

Registration for the joint convention of the Pennsylvania Region of the National Students Association and the Pennsylvania Student Governments Clinic will take place in Old Main from 6 to 8 o'clock tonight, announced Robert Troxell, chairman of the Cabinet committee on the convention.

James Milholland, acting president of the College, will welcome delegates to both meetings at a joint session in 121 Sparks at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Ted Harris, La Salle College undergraduate and president of the regional organization, will introduce Mr. Milholland.

Ralph Dungan, chairman of the Pennsylvania delegation to the NSA constitutional convention in Madison, Wisconsin, last August, and national vice-president in charge of domestic affairs, will also address the plenary session tonight.

All students are urged to take advantage of the unique opportunity afforded by the joint convention's presence at Penn State, Troxell said. Additional plenary sessions at 1 o'clock and 6:45 o'clock tomorrow and 10 a.m. Sunday will also be open to students.

Delegations from 90 colleges throughout the state will total 175, Troxell indicated, with Temple's representation the largest at 14. Penn State is allotted 12. Women among visiting delegates will be housed at the State College Hotel, while the men will stay in College dormitories.

Writing and ratification of a regional constitution will be the most significant business of this first meeting of the Pennsylvania Region. Panels on international and domestic affairs will formulate regional policy, procedures, and integration with the national program on such matters as UNESCO, the World Student Service Fund, the International

(Continued on page four)

Tickets Available For 'Frying Pan'

Only a few tickets are available for the January 17 performance of "Out of the Frying Pan." Seats have been sold out for the January 11 show.

It is advisable to make reservations before Christmas vacation, said Robert D. Reifsnider, director. These may be obtained by calling the dramatic department and picking up the tickets no later than Friday noon preceding the show.

The cast for January 17's show includes Bernard Carbeau, Grant Davis, Herald Fahringer, Irving Feldsott, Lois Hartwick, Mary Alice Hodgson, Laura Johnston, Joanne Kapnek, Theodore Mann, Portman Paget, Frank B. Palmer, Jr., and Sally Searight.

Lowery Wins Yule Art Contest Prize

Robert John Lowery was awarded first prize of $10 in the annual Christmas card contest sponsored by Pi Gamma Alpha, art honorary.

Other winners were George Faddis, second prize, $5, and Nancy Mast and Robert Johnson, third and fourth prizes of books, respectively, announced Jo Marie Jackson, chairman of the contest.

During the Christmas vacation these winning entries will be sent to Herbert Dubler, Inc., a card publishing company, for consideration.

Judges of the contest were Mrs. Helen S. Galbraith, associate professor of applied art, Viktor Lowenfeld, professor of art education and Milton S. Osborne, head of the architectural engineering department.

Pi Kappa Aloha

Pi Kappa Alpha recently initiated Norman Dann, Donald Fuge, George Locotos, William Reichard, James Spade, Theodore Wolfe, and James Wood.

Trip Winners

Winner of two contests for round trip tickets for the Cotton Bowl were announced last night. John R. Connelly, Phi Gamma Delta, won the Chi Omega contest and will receive a round trip ticket on the Cotton Bowl Special. W. L. Barr, a town resident of 732 N. Allen St., received two round trip plane tickets to the game, two 3-day hotel reservations, and $100 in spending money from Phi Epsilon Pi.

News Briefs

Clothing Drive

Lou Frazier, president of Outing Club, reminds all coeds to bring used clothing, toys and other articles to school after vacation which might be donated to the Used Clothing Drive Boxes, placed in each woman's dormitory, will be sent to Europe.

Sigma Delta Chi

Malcolm White was named editor of the Journalism Department Placement Book Monday night.

Sigma Gamma Epsilon

Sigma Gamma Epsilon, national mineral industries honorary, recently initiated David R. Bailey, Fred Daggert, Robert Giles, Kenneth Glessner, Paul Graff, Clai Jewell, George Keller, Monty Mitchell, John Post, Thompson Reio, Owen Ridenour, Donald Stool, Richard Urban, Earl Youtz, and Robert Zeller.

Delta Delta Delta

The pledge class of Delta Delta Delta has elected as their officers, Jane Durkin, president; Lois Dickson, secretary-treasurer; Joan Bergdoll will be ribbon tonight in a short ceremony at the chapter suite.

Phi Sigma Sigma

Phi Sigma Sigma recently pledged Kenye Fogel, Janik Horoff, and Ruthe Taub. Beverly Newman was the local chapter's delegate to the Oh Valley Divisional Conference of the sorority. The conference was held at the University of Pittsburgh's chapter house on November 9 and 10.