

Military Dept. Offers Active Duty

A blanket offer of two years of active duty will be made to all 1948 R.O.T.C. graduates at the College, Col. Ben-H. Chastaine, professor of military science and tactics said today.

He also said higher headquarters have advised that in addition, 400 to 500 vacancies may be available for honor graduates to be appointed in the Regular Army and Air Forces on July 19, 1948.

For this program, an honor graduate was defined as a person designated by the professor of military science and tactics who is scheduled to complete the Advanced Course Senior Division R.O.T.C., who will be graduated in the upper third of the male enrollment of his class, and who possesses outstanding qualities of leadership, character, and aptitude for military service.

Colonel Chastaine also explained that it is expected to fill 1500 vacancies annually in the Regular Army and Air Force from R.O.T.C. graduates of educational institutions of the country, from persons serving on competitive tours of active duty, and from the ranks of the enlisted men.

College Offers Teacher Examinations Next Month

National teacher examinations of the American Council on Education will be offered in State College Saturday, February 7 and February 14, according to Dr. Willis E. Pratt, local examiner.

Applicants for the examination should apply to Dr. Pratt, head of the education department, before January 10. No applications will be accepted after that date.

The common examination battery, consisting of general education and information tests, will be given in addition to special examinations covering the subject matter to be taught.

Students in the department of education, as well as other candidates in the State College area, may apply for the examination by contacting Dr. Pratt, examiner.

Correction Please

It was stated in last week's Collegian that the WSGA collected $240 for the Christmas Fund. The correct amount is $340.

Art, Etchings On Display In Library

Many prize-winning works are included in an exhibition of signed, original etchings and lithographs now on display in the lobby of the College Library.

The exhibition was loaned from the Associated American Artists Gallery, of New York and will continue through January.

Many of the works being shown were in the selection made for exhibition in the American Library in Montevideo, Uruguay, at the request of the Department of State. The exhibit has been chosen to give a representation of the fine print-making being done by contemporary American artists living and working in this country. It includes etching, lithography, wood engraving, and aquatint.

Many of the artists represented in the exhibit hold top awards in national art competitions. John Stuart Curry, of Wisconsin, won the $1500 prize in the Artists for Victory exhibition at the Metropolitan Museum; Aaron Bohrod, Carnegie prize winner, also is holder of five major awards from the Chicago Art Institute; and Joseph Hirsch holds two Guggenheim Fellowships for painting.

Other artists represented are Thomas Benton, Ernest Fiene, Luigi Lucioni, Howard Baer, Raphael Soyer, John de Martelly, Doris Lee, James Chapin, Robert Philipp, Georges Schreiber, Dale Nichols, Marion Greenwood, William Gropper, and Joseph Margulies.

Clements Offers Course On Romance Criticism

A new course dealing with literary criticism in France, Spain and Italy will be offered for the first time at the College next semester. It will be taught by Prof. Robert J. Clements, head of the Romance Language department.

Literary theory from the past to the present in Romance countries will be studied and discussed in seminar fashion, if the enrollment is small enough. The Renaissance period will be treated in detail with brief summarizations of less important periods.

Prerequisite for the course, French and Spanish 496, is a passing mark in either French 4, Spanish 4 or Italian 4.

If you don't want it, sell it—"Collegian Classifieds."

Forms Available For Fellowship

Application forms are now available in 132 Sparks for five fellowships worth approximately $2400 each for study at either Oxford or Cambridge University in England during 1948-49.

Qualifying American students will be awarded the fellowships under the terms of the Charles and Julia Henry Foundation. Both men and women are eligible.

Applicants must present a definite scheme of study or research. They must be unmarried and prepared to devote their whole time to the objects of the fellowship. Applications close February 16.

Preference will be given to recent college graduates of distinction or to students who will receive a bachelor's degree cum laude before July 1 of this year.

Earth Sciences

The Earth Sciences Research Colloquium will be held in 202 EE, 4 p.m. Monday. Dr. Hans Neuberger will report on "Research Work in the Division of Meteorology."

tions, Brown reported. He pointed out that any suggestions or action taken to further a campus co-op should be referred to that committee for integration.

Reports on the campaign of students contacting Trustees personally over the Christmas holiday are incomplete, Brown said, but about three-fourths of the Board was assigned.

Football Trophies

In another action by Cabinet, the purchase of 52 trophies to be awarded to members of the football team, the coaches, the head manager, and team physician at a cost of about $700 was approved.

The suggestion that the tennis courts be flooded for ice skating was turned over to the Athletic Association and WSGA for action, with the request that matriculation cards be used for admittance instead of the fee charged last year.

Thomas Lannen was designated to see that the student book exchange is given whatever aid is possible in obtaining permanent space for its activities in the Temporary Union Building.

Appointments by Cabinet included Herbert Wittman to fill the vacancy on Tribunal; Richard Morgan as Chairman of the UNESCO Fellowship Committee, and Ted Allen as Cabinet representative to the World Student Service Fund.

Highlight of Broadcast

The town's toasting of the footballers will also highlight Bill Brandt's "Inside Sports" broadcast over Mutual at 7:45 p.m. Monday. The sportscaster will publicize the ceremonies during his program which will be relayed over a loudspeaker in Rec Hall.

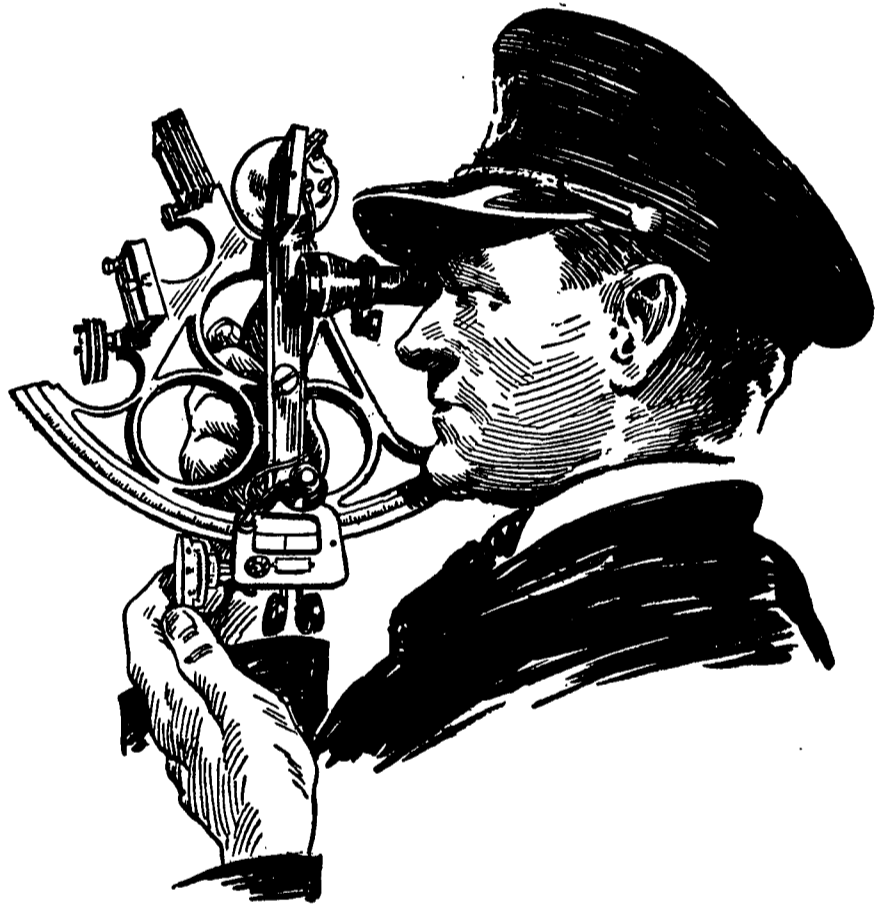

Wives of the married gridders and dates of the single players will be guests of the Commerce Club.

Winners of the Collegian-Centre Daily Times poll for outstanding lineman and back will receive their trophies during the evening's proceedings. Ted Rubin, sports editor of the Collegian, will present one statuette, and an unannounced representative of the Times will make the other award. All players will receive awards and gifts.

Trophy on Display

An eight-foot enlargement of the football team will be hung behind the raised speakers' table. The Cotton Bowl trophy will adorn the center of the speakers' table. The hall will be decorated with palms and potted flowers.

The campus patrol will be on guard to combat any unexpected emergencies or fire. Daniel de Marino of the dean of men's office is in charge of setting up platforms, chairs, and the public address system.

Business, too, must have expert navigation

IN the telephone business, much of the knowledge of "where we are" and guidance as to "where we are headed" comes from the analysis of statistics.

Telephone statisticians and engineers are constantly studying trends and figures. They assemble the facts, analyze them, correlate them, discover their significance, draw guidance from them.

The work of these men is vital to our never-ending task of improving telephone service. In such work many college-trained men have found satisfying and rewarding careers.

And this is but one of the many interesting phases of the telephone business.

There's opportunity and adventure in telephony.
