

'Prexy' Would Have Liked It This Way

The Hetzel Memorial Drive which has recently been launched is more than just another fund-raising campaign. It offers the Penn State student body an opportunity to pay tribute to the man who believed in the students—a man who won the admiration and respect of the students because of his faith in them.

Because he regarded students as something more than just people who go through a four-year educational production line, the title of "Prexy" was bestowed upon Dr. Hetzel. He valued this honor more than any of his academic titles.

Now an opportunity has presented itself whereby the students can establish a living memorial to their "Prexy." All-College Cabinet is trying to reach a goal of $5000 in the campaign, to establish a memorial library which will contain books for recreational reading. Most of the books will be sea adventure stories which "Prexy" enjoyed most.

This is consistent with past desires of "Prexy" to aid the recreational welfare of the students. Actually a memorial of this type will best serve students, and will, therefore, be the best to commemorate Dr. Hetzel's name. —LGF

Letters from the Editor's Mailbox

Cabinet Agenda

TO THE EDITOR: Following is the agenda for the next All-College Cabinet meeting January 15, 1948:

- ROLL CALL
- MINUTES OF PREVIOUS MEETING
- REPORTS OF OFFICERS
- ADOPTION OF AGENDA
- OLD BUSINESS

Four reports from delegates to National Student Association
 Report from Hetzel Memorial Committee
 Report from Committee on Sunday Entertainment

NEW BUSINESS

Orientation for incoming sophomores in Spring Semester.
 —Thomas J. Laxnen, All-College President

Roll Out the Prayer Rug

TO THE EDITOR: Let us all kneel before our Lords and Masters—the trustees of our fair college. This is no more than fair, since it is they, who, being so conscientious and judicious in caring for our best interests, thrust aside the co-op plan. Truly, they must certainly be righteous men to so promptly rescue us from the evils of the co-operation plan. Our great nation is in dire need of good men such as they; men who are endlessly guarding us against foolish moves, for example, the saving of money. As most of us are in the high income bracket, why should we adopt a plan that would save us money—that's downright foolishness.

The co-operation plan, if put into operation, would stretch our inflated dollars considerably, allowing the small minority of students in our midst, who belong to the "forgotten consumer" class (veterans trying to exist on $65 a month), to enjoy an occasional new tie or maybe a shirt. I'm willing to bet my entire bankroll—four pennies and a two-headed nickel—that our local business friends would still manage to eat three hearty meals each day, which is more than that "small minority" is doing.

It's really too bad there are so few in need of the co-op system. Why, if there were, say four thousand students, willing to have a mass boycott on the local bazaars, in no time at all our winged dollars would, like Newton's apple, start gravitating earthward. Where, during the "walk-out," would you get vital necessities, you ask? There's a little town ten miles from here, Bellefonte by name, where the merchants would be ever so happy to fill your needs. The guys and gals with cars could take orders once or twice a week and shop for the others. But, as I said, we have no need for the co-operation system, and furthermore, those few who are in need of such a system, are much too lazy and uninterested to gather their forces. There's strength in numbers! Too bad they haven't the numbers.

In conclusion, let me again thank our board of trustees for their sincere and unselfish guidance. We don't realize how fortunate we are to have such faithful servants directing our college lives. With great anticipation I await the day, in the not-too-distant future, when as a result of our individualism and lack of co-operation, the whole country shall be managed by such veracious men. Then what!!

Letters are written by fools like me
 But only you can scare a trustee.

—Stan Alprin

Editorials and features in The Daily Collegian reflect the opinions of the writer. They make no claim to represent student or College opinion. All unsigned editorials are by the editor.

NSA Credit Plan—

(Continued from page one)

students for increased GI subsistence is necessary to push this bill through Congress before it is to die the lingering death imposed upon it by the politically wise leaders in the House of Representatives.

National and State clinics are endeavoring to eliminate the weaknesses in student governments, and to support their progress.

International Affairs

The concern of students toward International Affairs is little above a complete state of apathy in times when international understanding and cooperation are of the greatest necessity. In order to combat this apathy and arouse the interest of students in other than domestic affairs, the NSA is sponsoring several projects in which students may have an opportunity to observe the cultures, backgrounds, and educational systems of Europe, South America, and the other continents of the world. It is an acknowledged fact that scientific progress the world over is far in front of the educational and cultural advances of the past century.

For this reason, students have the responsibility of bettering human relationships among nations and continents if they wish to benefit the world. The fear of Communism and its fellow travelers can only be dispelled through the process of education, and the betterment of the democratic governments. The National Student Association offers this education, and it is Penn State's duty to accept it.

THE DAILY COLLEGIAN

Successor to the Free Lance, est. 1877

Published Tuesday through Friday mornings during the College year by the staff of the Daily Collegian of the Pennsylvania State College. Entered as second class matter July 5, 1934, at the State College, Pa., Post Office under the act of March 3, 1879. $2.50 a semester; $4.25 the school year.

Man. Ed., Lawrence G. Foster; News Ed., Dick Sarge; Sports Ed., Ted Rubin; Feature-Photo Ed., Dave Adelman; Women's Ed., Kay Badollet; Ass't Women's Ed., Marjorie Mousley.

Allan W. Ostar - Editor
 Donald W. Ellis - Bus. Mgr.

STAFF THIS ISSUE

Managing Editor - Elaine Nelson
 Assistant - Shirley Teper
 News Editor - Bennett Fairforth
 Assistant - George Vadasz
 Advertising Manager - Vance Klepper
 Assistants - Joy Stewart, Pauly Moss, Ray Benfer.

AT PENN STATE

JOHN CROUSE

smokes
CHESTERFIELDS

JOHN SAYS:

"It is the only brand of many I have tried that does not lose its flavor during continuous smoking."

A nation-wide survey shows that Chesterfields are TOPS with College Students from coast-to-coast.

College Calendar

All calendar items must be in the Daily Collegian office by 4:30 p.m. on the day preceding publication.

Wednesday, January 14

- BASKETBALL Game, West Virginia, Rec Hall, 8 p.m.
- AG Student Council, 100 Ag, 6:30 p.m.
- ETA Kappa Nu, 1111 EE, 7 p.m.
- SIGMA Phi, 110 New Physics, 7 p.m.
- HOME Ec Club, 110 HE, 6:30 p.m.
- MUSIC Club, 200 CH, 8:15 p.m.
- WRA Bowling, 2 WH, 6:30 p.m.
- CHESS Club, 7 Sparks, 7 p.m.
- PROTH Editorial candidates and sophomore board, for women's page, Office, 4 p.m.

At the Movies

- Cathaum—Pirates of Monterey.
- State—Stone Flower.
- Nittany—Bad Men of Missouri.

College Hospital

Admitted Monday: James Moore, Esther Helfman.
 Discharged Tuesday: Malka Hoffman, Robert Harbison.

Placement Service

Equitable Life Insurance, January 10, eighth semester men, C&F, A&L.
 Liberty Mutual Insurance Company, January 16, eighth semester men, C&F, A&L.
 Carnation Company, January 20, eighth semester men, CE, EE, ME, C&F, San Eng.
 Arrangements for interviews should be made at once in 204 Old Main.

SENIOR

"Sheepskin Serenade"

... in ...

Schwaab Auditorium

Sunday, January 18

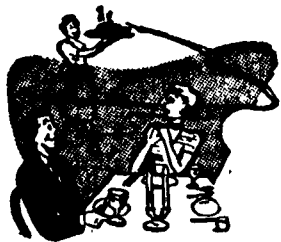

2:15 P.M.

Admission FREE

A Date That Rates

Dinner at the Allencrest

Isn't she a lucky girl! Her date takes her to dinner at The Allencrest.

For the best, dine at

THE Allencrest
 TEA ROOM

You're Not Too Late

But Don't Hesitate

Bargains are waiting for you at MARY LEITZINGER'S. Gloves, dresses, lingerie, coats—all reduced to make way for spring merchandise.

SALE CLOSING FRIDAY

mary leitzinger

NOW AT YOUR WARNER THEATER

Cathaum

Maria Montez
 Rod Cameron
 in
 "PIRATES OF MONTEREY"
 In Technicolor

State

The International Film Club presents
 "STONE FLOWER"
 Foreign Language Film

Nittany

Wayne Morris
 Dennis Morgan
 "BAD MEN OF MISSOURI"