NSA Report No. 3...

NSA Constitution Presents Students With Bill of Rights

By Eugene Fulmer, NSA Delegate

This section of the report concerns itself with the compiling of basic policies to be followed by the National Student Association in regards to Student Rights as it appears in the By-Laws of the Constitution. Since in this panel more time was spent on this particular subject than any other, it appears only fitting that a part of the By-Law should be reprinted here.

By-Law III. Bill of Rights

In order to preserve and extend these conditions indispensable to the full achievement of educational objectives, and with full cognizance of the responsibilities and obligations which ensue from any assertion of fundamental rights, the National Student Association holds the following rights essential to the full development of the student as an individual and to the fulfillment of his responsibilities as a citizen.

1. The right of every student to a college education.
2. The right to conduct research freely and to publish, discuss and exchange any findings or recommendations, whether individually or in association with local, national, or international groups.
3. The right of students to a clear and concise statement, before entering college, of the contractual rights, obligations, and responsibilities pertaining to educational and extra-curricular activities. (According to the misunderstandings that exist here on this campus we certainly can benefit greatly by instituting a policy in accordance with this paragraph.)

Rights as Citizens

4. The right of every student to exercise his full rights as a citizen in forming and participating in local, national, or international organizations for intellectual, religious, social, political, economic, or cultural purposes, and to publish and distribute their views.
5. The rights of recognized student organizations to use the institution's name subject to its regulations with respect to off-campus activities.
6. The right of students and recognized student organizations to use campus facilities, provided the facilities are used for the purpose contracted, subject only to such regulations as are required for scheduling meeting times and place.
7. The right to invite and hear speakers of their choice on subjects of their choice. (At this institution we have been fortunate)

Yanks Not Coming

WASHINGTON — President Truman said yesterday that he has no intention of sending American troops to Palestine. The President's statement was in reply to a question at his news conference. In that connection, Mr. Truman said there probably will be a United Nations force available in the future to enforce U-N mandates.

Save Fuel

WASHINGTON—With winter riding high, wide and handsome, interior secretary Krug has called on the public to cooperate in saving fuel. He told an emergency conference of fuel coordinators from twenty states that a 15-percent reduction must be effected.

Winter's Worst Wave

CHICAGO—From the Rockies all the way east, the worst cold wave of winter whipped across the nation yesterday. Forecasters believe the cold air will go as far south as Texas and Florida and that the mercury may go to 25 below zero in Minnesota and Wisconsin tonight.

Loman, Sororities Discuss Suites

Mona Smulyan, president of Pan-Hel, has called for all sorority presidents to meet with Mr. Harold W. Loman, director of dormitories and dining commons, to discuss arrangements for sorority suites which are to be provided in the new women's dormitories. Time of the meeting will be announced in Tuesday's Collegian.

A questionnaire, which was drawn up by Mr. Loman and issued to the sororities, explained the details of the suites and requested the sororities to state whether they wanted to be considered for these suites. In returning these questionnaires, the sororities included detailed specifications for their particular suites.

The specifications concerned furnishing the decorating arrangements which cannot be guaranteed at the present time. Provisions for the construction of the chapter room must be acted upon, however, and sororities will be asked at the meeting if they will accept the proposed suite plans with the provision that

Glass To Emcee PSC Talent Show

Tonight at 8 o'clock the curtain goes up on the seventh annual All-College Talent Show, a two-hour variety program sponsored by the Penn State Club. Scene of the show is Schwab auditorium.

Twenty-one participants, presented in 15 acts, will perform in scenes ranging from comedy skits and satires to serious piano solos and group singing. Headlining the show as master of ceremonies will be Henry Glass, star of Thespians and Players.

A special guest act will star the winners of last year's Talent Show, the "Bar 3 Boys." The trio composed of Marvin Fisher, Louis Goodfarb, and Howard Kleidman present a musical-comedy number.

Gene Witmer and his Skytoppers will furnish the pre-show and intermission music.

Tickets for the show are available at Student Union up until curtain time. Contrary to previous information, tickets will not be sold at the door prior to the performance.

As in the past years, preliminary judging will eliminate all but the five top contestants. From this select group of five, the winner will be selected by audience applause.

Cash prizes will be awarded to the top three contestants, and records will be made of each act on the stage and given to the entrants as souvenirs.

Thespians, Masquerettes

A joint banquet for all members of Penn State Thespians and Masquerette Club will be held in the ballroom of the Hotel State College, 6:30 p.m. Friday. A dance for all who participated in the recent production, "Hot 'n' Gold," will start at 9 p.m. Paul Grove's orchestra will provide the music.

Co-op Committee Sets Up Booths For Second Drive

Supplies Post Cards, Trustee Addresses

Second round of student action for the establishment of a campus co-op swings into action today with students requested to mail postal cards to members of the Board of Trustees, announced David Malickson, chairman of the contact committee of the joint cooperative committee.

Booths have been established in the lobby of Old Main and Sparks where post cards and the trustees' addresses are available. When writing to a trustee, students are asked to:

1. Write to the trustee nearest your home town.
2. Sign your name and home town address.
3. Return the instruction sheet and postal card to the booth.
4. Mention you want the co-op at The Pennsylvania State College.

Drive Lasts To Tuesday

Sponsored by All-College Cabinet and the Joint Co-op Committees, the postal card drive will continue until Tuesday. Both booths will be open from 9 to 5 o'clock, Malickson said. Some campus organizations and fraternity houses will also be solicited.

This drive gives students a direct opportunity to participate in the attempt to establish a Co-op on campus. This is a concrete way for students to let the Board of Trustees know how they feel about the recent rejection of the co-op plan.

Other members of the contact committee include Roni Prosterman, Cecil Goodman, and Elliot Rosengarten.

Distribute Petitions To Fraternities, SU

The joint co-op committee has completed the final draft of a petition for the revival of the co-op movement and is circulating the petition at fraternities and Student Union. The petitions are to be signed, with name, State College address, and home town included, and returned to Student Union not later than Wednesday, Jan 21, said Emory Brown, chairman.

The context of the petition is: "Whereas: the executive committee of the Board of Trustees of the College, on December 5, 1947, rejected the request of the All-College Cabinet for permission to establish a co-operative store on campus for the sale of used books, school supplies and toilet articles; and

"Whereas: The Pennsylvania State College, as a land grant college, plays a vital role in providing low-cost college education to the residents of the state; and "Whereas: the cost of many incidental items have increased so greatly in the past few months as to make their purchase an additional burden to many students, especially veterans who incomes are barely sufficient to meet the cost of food and housing; and

"Whereas: Co-operative stores established at other schools have succeeded in materially reducing these expenses; and

"Whereas: A recent poll taken at the College showed that the above mentioned proposal had the support of over 93% of the undergraduate students;

"Therefore: We, the undersigned students at the Pennsylvania State College, do petition the Board of Trustees of this College to reconsider at their next meeting, the decision of their Executive Committee with regard to the establishment of a co-operative store on the College grounds."

Eastern Grid Champs Receive Cabinet Awards

As a final tribute to the fine efforts of the 1947 football team in their completion of an undefeated season, Thomas J. Lannen, All-College president, will present trophies to each member of the traveling squad in Rec Hall following the boxing matches tomorrow night, said Frank Tidona, chairman of the committee for football trophies. Trophies will also be presented to the five coaches. Bob Higgins,

Joe Bedenk, Al Michaels, Earl Edwards, and Jim O'Hara; Dr. Griess, team physician; Dave Barron, student manager, and the team's two trainers, Chuck Medlar and Jackie Tighe.

The presentation, authorized by All-College Cabinet, will be made in behalf of the entire student body, and every student is urged to be present to add his cheers and applause to the presentation of trophies.

DIFFICULT TASK

"The task of deciding who was eligible to receive the trophies was the only unpleasant aspect faced by the committee appointed to give these gifts.

A line had to be drawn somewhere. In deciding the exact meaning of the term "traveling squad" it was defined as including all players who at any time traveled with the team," said Tidona.

LANNEN

The trophies are not small as was reported previously in Collegian, but are sixteen inches high.

'Serenade' Stars Campus Comics

The list of performers for the "Sheepskin Serenade," senior class entertainment which will take place in Schwab, 2:15 Sunday afternoon, has been definitely decided upon, according to C. Frederick Troutman, show director.

The cast includes seven Thespian performers and several amateurs. Thespian headliners include singer Adele Yablon, Jimmy Ambordos, who will do a comedy skit, and Hank Glass, now emceeing at the Club Skytop, who will be master of ceremonies for the show.

A "Farewell" song will be presented by Virge Neilly and Virginia Gallup, the words and music of which were written by Neilly and arranged by Bunny Rotill. "Ginny" will also appear with "Fuzzy" Lomady in a dance routine from the last Thespian show.

One of the top features will be a surprise singing and comedy act done by four coeds, who will give their interpretation of "Real Gone."

Other numbers in the show include the Bar Three Boys, a Black Face dance by the Cotton Bowlers, and a song by Prudence Root.

Music will be provided by Paul Grove and his band, Ed Banyai, senior class president, will give a short talk before the show.

The committee for the show is composed of Ann Wynosky and C. Frederick Troutman, co-chairmen, and Dee Limber.

March of Dimes Campaign Begins in Men's Dormitories

Cabinet Approves NSA Group Report

All-College Cabinet last night approved reports from delegates to the National Students Association, paving the way for Cabinet action to ratify the NSA constitution and establish a chapter at the College.

Robert Troxell, delegation chairman, submitted the constitutional report, while Eugene Fulmer reported on NSA activities in fostering student governments, Allan Ostar on international activities, and Jane Fouracre on educational opportunities.

Ostar's report, which drew the most discussion, explained that affiliation with the International Union of Students was desired by NSA only with certain reservations.

Communist domination of the IUS has been advanced as a reason against NSA affiliation, he reported. The national convention felt, Ostar said, that the advantages of joining the IUS far outweighed the disadvantages, if any.

The March of Dimes campaign is in full swing at Pollock Circle and Nittany Dormitories, said Harry Patchin, who is in charge of collecting funds from these units. The goal for each unit is $100.

The campaign is being conducted through the dining commons. Thermometers denoting the progress of the drive are posted on the bulletin boards and two coin containers have been placed in each of the commons.

Students are also being canvassed as they pass through the waiting line. Patchin is being aided in the drive by Nicholas Supron, president of the Nittany Council, and James Maccallum, president of the Pollock Circle Council.

The College campaign, which has set $1000 as its goal, is the first that has been conducted by a campus group—the division of health education in the School of Physical Education and Athletics. It is headed by Dr. Arthur R. Davis.

The campus drive will end January 24, but the national campaign continues until January 30. This is the tenth annual drive against infantile paralysis which was founded by the late Franklin D. Roosevelt.
