

Cagers Battle Orange Quintet

With a high-scoring, fast-breaking Syracuse team coming to Rec Hall this Saturday. Coach John Lawther will have to put the blocks to his skidding squad in order to stop the Orangemen in a battle slated for 8:30 instead of the usual 8 o'clock starting time.

Should the Nittany coach decide to use Milt Simon, who missed the last three games because of illness, the Lions' chances of upsetting the highly favored visitors will take a definite upswing. Simon, who was injured in the final quarter of the Bucknell game, sat out the next two games which Penn State lost by large margins.

Although they suffered a 63-56 loss to Temple Wednesday night, Coach Andreas' squad is still ranked among the Eastern giants.

Featured on the visitors' squad list is Bullet Bill Gabor, a former All-American, and 6-foot 8-inch Royce Newell, who specializes in getting rebounds from both bankboards.

Lacrosse Call

Coach Nick Thiel's lacrosse squad will open spring practice Monday afternoon. All interested candidates, experienced or not, are asked to appear at the lacrosse room, Rec Hall, after 3 p.m. Monday. A physical exam is required prior to reporting.

Candidates for second assistant managerships may report to the lacrosse room or contact Reggie Kimble, head manager, by telephoning 4908.

Boxers Seek Third Against West Point

Seeking their third win, Coach Houck's undefeated boxers trek to West Point today to meet Army's Cadets. The meet will be one of the East's top fistic contests, with the Army Mule boasting a 2-1 record and the Nittany Lion sporting two straight victories, outslugging Bucknell 5-3 and vanishing Western Maryland 6½-1½. The Cadets squeezed by with identical 4½-3½ scores over the University of Maryland and the Citadel, but dropped a

Lions Wrestle Orange Squad

An undefeated Syracuse wrestling team, fortified with outside talent, will meet Coach Charlie Speidel's Lion matmen in Rec Hall at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

The Blue and White grapplers will be seeking revenge for the 13-9 loss handed them last year by the Orangemen, the first time in history that Syracuse was able to hang a defeat on a Lion grappling team.

The lineup for tomorrow's contest will probably be the same as the Temple meet, with the exception of the unlimited class; here, Joe Clark may replace "Fightin' Franny" Rogel, who wrestled a bang-up match in State's 32-0 whitewash of the Temple Owls.

Al Vigilante and Georgie Schautz are still vying for the starting position at 121 pounds, but Harry Smith at 128 pounds, Don Arlucke at 136, and unbeaten Jim Maurey at 145, will start as usual.

Laird Robertson and Spider Corman will wrestle in the 155 and 175-pound classes respectively, while Bob Hetrick will defend his unbeaten string against undefeated Pascal Perri of the Orangemen in the 165-pound division.

Penn State track stock soared to great heights January 23 at Convention Hall, took a sharp drop the following Saturday at the Madison Square Garden Millrose games, and at the present time is leveling off pending the results of the Michigan State Re-lays this Saturday.

Jerry Karver made the big news in the Convention Hall Inquirer Meet two weeks ago. A lightning burst of speed in the final lap gave him the impetus to pass Browning Ross of Villanova and Leslie MacMitchell of the New York A.C. and to win the first major indoor mile of the season.

While Jerry took the honors in the mile, a former Nittany runner, Barney Ewell, proved that he is not an "old man" by a long shot by breaking three records and winning the Paddock Memorial 300-yard run in 32.3. In the same race another Penn Stater, Wilbert Lancaster, took third place behind George Guida of Villanova.

The night after Karver took the Inquirer mile in 4:16, Gil Dodds, the Flying Parson, turned in a 4:08 mile at Boston. The big question of the week was, "Can Karver with his last second spurt of power, beat Dodds who runs fast but without the final punch?" Saturday, January 31, the question was answered when Dodds set a new indoor record by zooming around the 11-lap oval in the Garden in 4:05.3, as Karver finished last.
