

Jackson Joins Dean's Staff

Miss Ellamae Jackson of Harrisburg has joined the staff of the Dean of Women as assistant in charge of activities according to Dean Pearl O. Weston. She will fill the position vacated by Miss Jeanne Stiles, who is now on the staff of the Ladies Home Journal. Miss Jackson was with the Overseas Service of the American Red Cross from 1944 to 1946 as Club Director. She received the degree of Master in Education from the College and later attended Columbia University where she majored in Student Personnel Administration.

New Students

All new women students are invited to a tea in the Southeast lounge of Atherton Hall from 3 to 4 p.m. Sunday. Junior Guides will be present to meet the new coeds.

Co-Edits

Gamma Phi Beta

Gamma Phi Beta will hold a slumber party for pledges and actives Saturday night.

Kappa Delta

Kappa Delta has invited their pledges to a slumber party Sunday night at their suite in Atherton Hall.

Chimes To Assist Women Students

Members of Chimes, national junior women's honorary, will be on hand at Rec Hall today to greet new women students on campus.

They may be recognized by their gray arm-bands with the letters "J-G" in gold. The letters stand for "Junior Guide."

"Guides" will be able to assist coeds with registration procedure and answer questions women students may have about dormitories, hours, and other problems.

Students Earn $430 Scholarships

Scholarships totaling $430 were awarded to home economics students at the College recently.

Mrs. Mary A. Lawson, of New Kensington, was awarded the Borden Company foundation scholarship. The award, $300, is given each year to the junior home economics student with the highest scholastic average.

The Ellen M. Stuart Memorial Award was given to Carolyn I. Currier of State College. The $30 award is given annually to a girl from Centre County who has demonstrated general excellence in home economics.

A. Gloria Terlizzi and Rosemarie T. Wagner, both seventh semester home economics students, were named as recipients of the State Federation of Women scholarships of $50 each for one semester.

Baker Supervises—

(Continued from page one)

Foods Building, the proposed dining hall for men, and the two women's dormitories now under construction on east campus, Miss Baker will supervise the purchase, storage, and preparation of all foods for the serving of more than 15,000 meals daily.

Foods will be purchased in larger quantities and will be delivered by rail or truck to the Foods Building. Here it will be checked and stored, either in dry storage, or in the case of frozen or perishable foods, in large freezers and refrigerators. Meats will be cut in the central butcher shop and all baked goods will be prepared in the central bakery.

The new system, Loman explained, will simplify deliveries to one point on the campus, will make possible purchases in larger quantities, will free space now used in each dormitory for bakeries, butcher shops, and storage, and will eliminate the duplication of equipment, as well as space, in the dormitories, including those now under construction and those planned for the future.

Fashion Notes

A casual coat in baby blue full length that will win the heart of every coed and catch the eye of her date. Lined with crepe satin dyed to match the gabardine in the coat, it is warm enough for any cold wave. The 132-inch sweep in the skirt combines with the tailored effect to produce a classic style that fashion-wise coeds look for.

Home Ec. Adds Living Center

A living center, planned as a place where students and faculty might gather in leisure moments, relax, or entertain has been opened in the Home Economics building.

Planned by Dr. Grace M. Henderson, director of home economics, the living center replaces the auditorium, better known to students as 110 Home Ec.

The room contains furniture of contemporary design, with form-fitting chairs that depend on their shape, rather than heavy upholstery for comfort. Blond furniture, with a color scheme of gold, copper and green chosen by Amy Gardner, associate professor of home economics, makes the room gay and light.

There are three game tables which can be pushed together for larger groups, or for use as a tea table.

Draperies selected will be of quiet design to add to the emphasis of living things which adorn the room. The design was inspired by the sight of plowed fields from an airplane over Italy. The material is called "campagna," which means fields in Italian.

Brushed brass lamps and a cabinet for dishes also have been ordered. Some of the home economics organizations are assisting in equipping the room with magazines, games, and books to make it a more interesting place.

Choir Tryouts

Additional tryout periods for Chapel Choir have been scheduled for the beginning of next week, announced Prof. Willa W. Taylor, choir director.

All interested persons including new students and those who have not auditioned previously are asked to report to 211 Carnegie Hall at the designated hours.

Tenors, 7 to 8 p.m. Monday; basses, 8 to 9 p.m. Monday; sopranos, 7 to 8 p.m. Tuesday; altos, 8 to 9 p.m. Tuesday.

College Placement

American Smelting and Refining Company, Saturday, February 14 and Monday, February 16. Eighth semester men in Met., ChemE, C. E., M.E., E.E.

Arrangements should be made for interviews at once in 204 Old Main.

to forty-two study hours or 18 to 25 per cent of the week.

If you feel that this article gives advice that you need, enroll in Education 105.

This is a course offered by the departments of education and English composition and designed to discover student problems and to assist in their solution. Registration is now open. Enrollment is limited to 60.

Dr. George Murphy, Prof. S. D. Melville represent the department of education, and Dr. Agnes R. McElwee, the department of English composition.

Hungry ?

- COOKIES
- SANDWICHES
- COLD MEAT
- ICE CREAM
- COKES
- MILK

Howard's Sandwich Shop

135 E. BEAVER

PHONE 737

It's fun to send
NORCROSS
Valentines
I'm SUSIE-Q

They're so gay, so amusing, so delightfully original that you'll want to send dozens of them. Be an early shopper for they'll go faster than you can say, "Be My Valentine!"

Book & Record Shop

OPPOSITE THE POST OFFICE

We're Dining at the Allencrest
Tonight!

Start the semester with a bang by having dinner in our delightful tea room this weekend. Nothing is better than the food we serve, you'll agree after the first bite.

THE Allencrest
TEA ROOM

Priced TO SUIT

ALL WOOL SUITS
from $35.00

Silvertex      Clipper Craft
Worsted Tex      Oakloom

Society Brand
Gabardine & Covert
OVERCOATS
from $40.00

Hur's Men's Shop
Opposite Old Main

Swamped with Work? NOT YET!

But when you are the McCord Secretarial Service will do your

Typing
Mimeographing
Dictation

Just Call 4906

the J. Z. McCord
Secretarial Service
205 Hotel State College
Call 9-12, 1-5, Sat. 9-12