

PADILLA
LECTURE
TOMORROW

The Daily Collegian

WEATHER
Not So Cold, Light
Snow Tonight

VOL. 47—No. 2

TUESDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 10, 1948—STATE COLLEGE, PENNA.

FIVE CENTS

Padilla Discusses Dangers of Peace In Schwab Forum

Ezequiel Padilla, one of Mexico's leading statesmen, will speak on "Permanent Peace and Its Dangers," in Schwab Auditorium at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

The lecture by Dr. Padilla is the third in the current season's Community Forum series. Tickets are available at the Student Union in Old Main.

Dr. Padilla, an accomplished orator in both Spanish and English, has been credited by Sumner Welles with doing more to promote inter-American solidarity in recent years than any other man. He was an influential spokesman in the Rio and Chapultepec conferences.

Currently engaged in lecturing and writing on behalf of the cause of democracy, the 55-year-old statesman has served Mexico as ambassador to Italy, attorney-general, and secretary of education.

Girls Invite Men To Valentine Hop

In keeping with the leap year tradition, girls will ask the men to the annual WRA Sweetheart dance in White Hall from 9 to 12 p.m. Saturday.

Music will be furnished by the Campus Owls and the dance is semi-formal. Since the dance is to be held on Valentine's Day, the decorations will follow the heart and arrow theme, said June Wiley general chairman.

Tickets for the Sweetheart dance are $1.20 a couple and they are available now at Student Union.

The WRA Social Board is in charge of this annual event. June Wiley is general chairman; Clara Lee, student advisor; Miss Mildred Lucy, faculty advisor; Jean Murphy, ticket chairman; Jane Sifer, invitation chairman; June Snyder, decorating chairman; Kay Courtney, publicity chairman.

Late AP News

Courtesy Radio Station WMAJ

Grain Investigation

The matter of last week's break in grain prices will be investigated by a congressional committee for possible evidence that insiders might have dodged a loss or even made money. Announcement of the investigation came today from Representative August Andresen (Minn.), chairman of a House committee on commodity trading. He maintained that while small speculators lost last week, some "insiders" may have made tremendous profits.

Democratic Split

Senator James Eastland of Mississippi has proposed that the solidly Democratic South block the nomination of any Democrat who expresses himself against the South's "Jim Crow" legislation. The senator's proposal came in an attack on President Truman's civil rights suggestions made to Congress last week in which the President proposed making lynching a federal offense, banning poll taxes and ending segregation. Earlier today the White House said that Mr. Truman would not retreat from any of his proposals.

Debate Cancelled

The men's debate with the University of Pennsylvania scheduled for last night was cancelled. No reason was given.

Speaker

REP. BROOKS HAYS

Congressman Talk In Religion Week

Brooks Hays, Congressman from Arkansas, will appear at the College during Religion-in-Life Week, said Alice J. Byers, faculty chairman for the "week."

Mr. Hays has been scheduled thus far for two seminars. Titles are "United States and Us," a discussion of the individual's obligation in national affairs, and "Religion and Its Present Day Rivals," a town meeting discussion.

Mr. Hays will address individual groups on the subjects of sociology, agriculture, economics, political science, science, international relations, law and philosophy and their relation to religion. Groups interested in hearing Mr. Hays outside of his regularly scheduled lectures may contact Mrs. Byers at the Penn State Christian Association office for arrangements.

Congressman Hays spent one month in Europe in the summer of 1944 investigating war damage and is a member of a group of ministers and congressional leaders who hold meetings weekly for prayer and discussion of pertinent social issues in the light of religious value.

College Offers Typing Course

New classes in elementary typing and Gregg shorthand, sponsored by Central Extension, are being organized at the College, and are open to anyone in this general area who wishes to enroll.

No specific prerequisites are necessary. Registrations will be accepted in Room 201, Central Extension Building until February 17 from 9 to 12 and 1:30 to 5:00. Classes will meet twice weekly, on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

Classes in advanced typing and shorthand will be organized also if sufficient persons are interested in taking the courses.

Instructors for the courses will be Miss Elizabeth M. Miller and Miss Margaret R. Swartz, both members of the College staff.

Wallace Group Names Two Student Sponsors

Two students of the College were named last week on a partial list of sponsors for the Henry A. Wallace presidential campaign in Pennsylvania.

They are William Meek, chairman of Young Progressive Citizens of America, and Ted Rubin, representative of "Students for Wallace."

The list was released by the "Pennsylvania Wallace Committee," which plans a state-wide convention of Wallace followers in York March 7.

Mark Reminds Auto Owners

Students are prohibited from driving on the central campus roads between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m., Captain Philip A. Mark of the campus patrol reminded today.

Physically handicapped students may, if certified by the College Health Service, receive special permits.

Student drivers may park only in the West Parking area (behind Sigma Chi) and a designated area on East Campus, Captain Mark added.

All drivers are required to obey all directive signs on the campus.

Coeds Sign Out

Coeds going to basketball games, Artist Course concerts or any other paid entertainment during the week are asked by WSGA Senate to sign out for these events for them to remain until the program is over.

Siren Trains Novice Actors For Unexpected Laughter

Preparing the cast for audience laughs is one of the knottiest problems facing the production of the fast-moving "Three Men on a Horse," Players show scheduled for the stage at Schwab February 19, 20 and 21, according to director Warren Smith.

In broad farce, where swift pacing and rapid-fire dialogue are of the essence, he explained, the audience may laugh at unexpected moments, and have been known to fail to respond to the sure-fire lines. Such audience eccentricity may upset inexperienced players, the director pointed out, unless they've been prepared for it.

'Horse' Cast New

The cast of "Three Men on a Horse" is predominantly new to Players shows, Mr. Smith said. Of the "three men," for instance, Harold Fahringer, as Charlie, and Aaron Osipow, as Frankie, are cast in their first major roles, while Robert Benson, as Patsie, acts his first part.

Hank Glass, as the clairvoyant greeting-card-verse composer Erwin, brings a wealth of experience as a comic to the role, although it's one of his first for Players. Of the 10 others in the cast, only two have previously appeared here, Players making use of talent fresh to the campus scene.

Siren Trains Actors

To insure that the neophyte cast won't be caught unawares by the assorted titters, giggles, and gasps that "Three Men on a Horse" is predicted to produce, the resourceful Mr. Smith has arranged to have his sound crew set up a whistle siren for rehearsal.

The siren is capable of simulating the rising crescendo of an audience laugh, and the actors will be trained to wait for just the right moment before giving their lines, insuring that only a minimum will be lost, Mr. Smith said.

"The audiences will have to laugh louder than a siren to catch the actors unprepared," the director chuckled. "Maybe they'll do it, at that."

State Calls for Bids On New College Building

Bids on three new buildings and additions to two others at the College were called for yesterday by the Pennsylvania Department of Property and Supplies.

The new structures are a classroom, mineral industries and plant industries buildings. Wings will be added to the mechanical engineering laboratory and Recreation Hall.

Approximately $3,618,000 was appropriated for construction and expansion at the College by the 1945 legislature.

Part Time Jobs Open

Students interested in part time work during the current semester may register in the student employment office, 420 Old Main, Mr. Allan Reece, in charge of student part time placement, said today.

Players 'Frying Pan' Gets Two More Heatings

Two additional performances of Players' popular farce, "Out of the Frying Pan," have been scheduled for Center Stage this Saturday and next Saturday nights, said Robert Reifsnider, director.

Tickets for Saturday's performance will go on sale at the Student Union desk today, while reservations for next week's show may be made at the dramatics office. The price of $1.10 includes after-show refreshments and dancing.

Members from both previous casts have been selected for Saturday's performance, with Buzz Fahringer, Billie Cooper, Ted Breining, Fanna Brown, Ted Mann, and Joan Kapnek listed in the leading roles.

Also playing this week will be Avis Goldberg, Robert Benson, Hank Glass, Harry Natsche, and Ed McCoy.

Texts Available As Book Exchange Closes Tomorrow

Tomorrow is the last day the Student Book Exchange will be open this semester.

Jamie Weigle, chairman of the book exchange committee, reminded students today that they have only one more day to secure books at the exchange.

The exchange book stock, said Miss Weigle, can be of especial use to sophomores, since most of the texts are for elementary courses in such subjects as history, mathematics, psychology, literature, chemistry and botany.

The exchange head asked all students who have turned in books to be sold to stop by the exchange in the basement of Irvin Hall to reclaim their books or receive the money owed them. No more books will be accepted by the exchange to be sold.

Books not used on the campus, added Miss Weigle, may be stored until next semester. If students wish, they will be sent to a foreign book exchange. Although the prices paid by this exchange are not high, the books cannot be sold at all in local stores.

The Student Book Exchange is open daily from 9 to 12 noon and from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m.

News Briefs

Pan-Hel Meeting

Pan-Hellenic Council will meet in Southeast Lounge, Atherton Hall, at 7 o'clock tonight, said Adelaide Finkelston, president.

Orientation Meeting

All new women transfer students are asked to come to an Orientation Meeting sponsored by Chimes, Junior Women's Honorary, in 405 Old Main, 7 o'clock tonight, said Lois Resler, Chimes president. The meeting will include discussions of WSGA, WRA, Pan-Hel, independent organizations and other College activities.

Players Tryouts

Tryouts for male supporting roles in the Players Production, "The Great God Brown," will be held in Schwab at 7 o'clock tonight, according to Professor Robert Kendall, director.

Club 50 Meeting

Club 50 will meet in 304 Old Main at 7:30 o'clock tonight, according to Walt Gabel, president. Mrs. Franklyn Fry of the Psychology Department will speak on the subject of Hypnotism. All sophomores are invited to attend.

Sophomore Board

Sophomore Board members of the Collegian editorial staff will meet in 9 Carnegie Hall at 7 o'clock tonight, said Allan Ostar, editor.

A Student Council

The Liberal Arts Student Council will hold an important meeting in 417 Old Main at 7 o'clock tonight. All members are urged to attend.

Business Staff

There will be a meeting of the Junior and Sophomore boards and candidates of the Collegian business staff in the Collegian office at 7 o'clock tonight, said Donald Ellis, business manager.

Registration Deadline

Saturday morning will be the last day for students to register or to file drop adds, said Ray V. Watkins, College scheduling officer.

Registration as of yesterday is considered as late and students will be charged a $5 late registration fee. Graduate students registered this week are excluded from paying this fine, Mr. Watkins added.