Foreign Aid Program

WASHINGTON — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee has taken a big step on the foreign aid program. Late yesterday, the committee voted unanimously in favor of a four-year aid program to be started with $5,300,000,000 for the first year.

In so voting, the committee made a time change in the administration's proposed $8,800,000,000 for the first fifteen months of the program. Chairman Arthur Vandenberg said the amount actually does not represent a change in the total sought by the State Department, except that it cuts the amount for the immediate appropriation.

PTC Strike Off

PHILADELPHIA — An agreement has been reached calling off the threatened transportation strike which had been set for midnight Sunday in Philadelphia. Mayor Bernard Samuel announced last night that the agreement was reached yesterday between representatives of the Philadelphia Transportation Company and the CIO Transport Workers Union.

Wright Plane Returns

LONDON—The first airplane ever to fly under power with a man at the controls may be returned to its rightful home in the United States. The plane, flown by the Wright Brothers at Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, has been on exhibit at a London museum since 1928. It was sent there by Orville Wright as the result of a dispute with the Smithsonian Institution in Washington.

Wright, who died two weeks ago, left the plane to the British Museum in his will made ten years ago. In 1943, however, he requested in a letter that the plane be returned to this country. After the letter was made public yesterday, the museum announced it was willing to return the plane.

Mississippi Tornado

NEWTON, Miss. — A tornado ripped around the town of Newton, Miss., yesterday, killing five persons, injuring more than a score, and destroying at least five homes. Unconfirmed reports coming into the district highway department office at Newton indicate that several others may have died in the twister.

Market Continues Down

CHICAGO — Falling market prices pushed most of the nation's cost of living commodities still lower yesterday, but the price plunge tended to level off in some lines. Butter headed the list of price-falling items. It fell as much as six and one-half cents a pound in the wholesale markets and sold lower in retail stores in several cities.

The grain market, in the meantime, was in a turmoil. There were a series of buying and selling waves but at the end of the day all prices were coming down.

Religion Week Seminars Discuss Mixed Marriages

Will mixed marriage ruin happiness? How important is religion in married life? Can you subject your beliefs to those of your mate's?

These questions and others will be discussed in a seminar on men and women relationships, "For Better—Not for Worse," led by Dr. Roy Dickerson, during Religion-in-Life Week, February 21-26. Dr. Dickerson is a national marriage consultant and author of several books on education for marriage and family life.

Other seminars during the week will cover subjects such as religion in a college student's life, the relevance of religion to international affairs, science, technology, philosophy and the atomic era, and a discussion of skepticism.

Lit Department Receives 'Dye' Library, Rare Books

Dr. William S. Dye, Jr., professor emeritus of English literature at the College, has presented a collection of 800 books from his library to the department of English literature.

"We regard the collection," Dr. Brice Harris, head of the department, says, "as a nucleus of a department library. The books will be used by the department and interested students, particularly in English literature seminars."

Dr. Dye, who retired as head of the department in 1944, joined the faculty at the College in 1907 as an instructor in English. In 1919, he became professor of the English language and literature, and in 1927 was named head of the department of English literature.

The professor's literary interests are reflected in collections of recent Irish drama and poetry, general poetry, drama of the 17th and 18th centuries, and Elizabethan drama.

Among the 800 volumes are complete sets of the Mermaid Series of plays, the South Seas Edition of Stevenson, DeQuincy's writings, Disraeli, and Balzac. Almost complete are collections of Hugh Walpole, William

TUB Opens Tuesday

The Temporary Union Building will open for student use at 1:30 p.m., Tuesday, rather than Monday as originally scheduled, said George Donovan, Student Union Manager.

The delay, Donovan continued, resulted from the bad weather which interfered with the completion of electrical work. The Forestry Ball, February 21, will be the first all-college event in this new student meeting place.

Debaters Face Pitt In Dual Contest

A dual debate between the men's debate team and the University of Pittsburgh's team will be held in 417 and 418 Old Main, 1:15 o'clock Monday afternoon, Richard Hill, manager announces.

The question of Federal World Government will be the topic. In this dual type of debate, each school uses two separate teams and both affirmative and negative sides of the subject are argued by the competing teams.

In keeping with the usual policy of men's debate, no decision will be granted either team. The affirmative squad representing the College will be Melvin Katsinsky and Theodore Horner. The negative squad will be Harold E. Krauss and Emory J. Brown.

The Pittsburgh team has traveled throughout the East this past week and will come to the College after finishing a debate with Boston University in Boston.

Exchange Cash Ready

Tenth Valentine Hop

To top off the flourish of sentimental cards and heart shaped boxes of candy commemorating the day, the WRA Sweetheart Dance in White Hall from 9 to 12 o'clock tonight will complete this year's observance of Valentine's Day.

The tenth annual Sweetheart dance will be a girl-ask-boy semi-formal affair. Decorations are in keeping with the traditional Valentine's Day theme and couples will dance to the music of the Campus Owls.

Highlighting intermission entertainment will be songs by Jacqueline Heckert, Miss Heckert, accompanied by Joan Berchtold, will sing "My Hero" from "The Chocolate Soldier" and "Sweethearts" from "Maytime."

Tickets may be purchased for $1.20 at Student Union.

Frazier Places Ad; His Landlady Mad; Phone Bill Bad

Any student seen around campus looking for a room will, in all probability, be Bill Frazier, for Bill's landlady is thinking seriously of giving him the gate if her telephone doesn't stop ringing.

Bill placed a classified and it rang a bell. The classified brought so many phone calls that the fellows in the house felt like sending him a bill for phone duty.

You can prevent inconveniences like this easily. When you place your classified, be sure to include the hours when you will be available, as for example, between 7 and 8 p.m.

Even though Bill got a lot of calls from his ad, there was nothing phony about it, and here's betting Alexander's ghost that he'll place a classified the next time he wants or loses something.

Phi Mu Alpha Sponsors Musical Demonstration

Members of Phi Mu Alpha, national music honorary, held a concert yesterday in the State College High School to acquaint the students with various types of musical instruments.

Robert Skipper, James Kocher, James Beach and Joby Hess, the clarinet quartet of the Phi Mu's, demonstrated their skills in the high school auditorium, playing classical and modern tunes.

Phi Mu Alpha has sponsored concerts for rural students of Centre County for the past two years.

Red Cross Seeks Student Supplies

Notebooks, fillers, and pencils will be the objects of a drive to aid foreign students overseas beginning Monday. Frank Tidona, student chairman of the campus unit, American Red Cross, which is sponsoring the drive, has asked that each student contribute one new notebook, two or three fillers and one pencil.

The need for this drive, which is going on on college campuses throughout the country, has arisen because European industries have been reconverted for immediate essentials and manufacturing output of school supplies is insufficient, Tidona said.

Paper is so scarce that students are taking notes on wrapping paper, old newspapers, and discarded paper bags, he added.

Further details concerning picking up the supplies will be reported early next week in the Daily Collegian.

Penn State Club

The Penn State Club will hold a meeting in 321 Old Main, 7 p.m. Monday, to discuss possible election of a new president to fill the vacancy left by Al Lucas. Other business includes plans for launching a new membership drive and discussion of proposed activities for the current semester. An important meeting of the executive committee will be held in the clubroom at 6:30 o'clock the same evening.
