

Remember, It's Temporary!

The opening today of a former USO building, with a new coat of paint, under the catchy name of TUB (Temporary Union Building) is a milestone in the College's attempt to improve the lot of the students. George Donovan, manager of the TUB, has assured us that while there will be some inconveniences due to the early opening, the Union will be completely finished in about two weeks.

Several items which may lead to early griping are the sandwiches, which are being furnished by a State College merchant at prevailing prices, and a nickel-hungry jukebox in the ballroom. Again, Donovan assures us that these are just temporary measures and that facilities are being rushed to completion for sandwich making on the premises. This should mean lower prices for better sandwiches. Also, a public address system is being installed which will soon take the place of the jukebox.

For years the major need of the student body has been a permanent student union comparable to unions which exist on almost every other campus in the country. Campaigns have been carried on every semester by student committees which have done much work towards the final goal—a student union which will take care of sorely-needed dining rooms, ballrooms, offices, committee rooms, bowling alleys, music rooms, browsing libraries, art exhibits, lectures, concerts, lounges, recreation, workshops, checkrooms, informal education facilities, and a cooperative book store.

Just before the new Old Main was built, it was decided that it would be mainly a student union with provision for a few administrative offices. Part of the money was collected for Old Main under the assumption that it would be used as a student union. Through the years, however, administrative needs have increased and student facilities have slowly diminished.

Last year after an intensive student campaign, late resident Hetzel appointed a committee headed by Samuel Hostetter to investigate facilities at other unions and include appropriate ones in a proposed $4,000,000 union on campus. All-College Cabinet appointed a student committee to advise the president's committee on student needs.

The TUB is and must always be considered merely a stop-gap. The fight to build a permanent union building must be continued with renewed vigor.

Ad Staff Kudos

TO THE EDITOR: The Staff responsible for the Feb. 12 issue of the Collegian is hereby awarded journalistic kudos for the "Ballettes" shoe ad therein. I believe Journalism 0 points out the advantages of anonymous advertising: original, enigmatic, non-competitive, etc. A bar two to the responsible party. —Al Ziff.

The Missing Address

TO THE EDITOR: I don't mean to be nasty but suppose some gal would like to buy a pair. The poor thing wouldn't know where to send the money. Have any suggestions? —Frank Muro.

• While the advertising staff hangs its head in shame, the editor is pleased to see that readers do notice Collegian's ads. For readers Ziff and Muro, the ad will be run again, this time with the address.
