

Men's Debate Ties With Ohio School In Mt. Mercy Meet

Men's debate squad tied for first place in the orthodox debate tournament at Mount Mercy College Saturday.

Capitol University of Columbus, state debate champion of Ohio, was the other first place team.

Women's debate teams won four of their eight matches and ranked approximately in the middle of the competing teams.

The 24 teams were sent by colleges in New York, West Virginia, Ohio, and Pennsylvania.

Men's affirmative team from the College included John Sigler and Robert Kagan.

Women's Debate was represented affirmatively by Dorothy Lees, manager, and Rose Marie Wagner.

Taylor Joins Wallace

WASHINGTON — Henry Wallace now has a running mate on his third party ticket for the presidency.

Taylor has been making up his mind since early January. Last night in a nationwide radio broadcast over CBS, he said he had finally made his decision.

Rent Controls

WASHINGTON—The President sent a message to Congress yesterday asking that rent controls be extended and that Congress pass a huge program designed to encourage a home-building plan.

Soph Hop Stars Brooks Trumpet

The "golden trumpet" of Randy Brooks and his orchestra will play for Friday's Soph Hop, scheduled for Rec Hall from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

Only two years old, Brooks' band has been heard nationally on three radio networks and will come to State College direct from an engagement at New York's Hotel Pennsylvania.

Within the last year, the band has been featured at three prominent New York night clubs and has appeared in seven states during its two-year existence.

Called "refreshing and danceable," Brooks' music earned him a place with the top three among the nation's name bands in a recent magazine poll.

A highlight of the orchestra is its concert arrangement of "Hora Staccato," written for violin by Rimsky-Korsakoff.

Price for Friday's semi-formal dance is $4 per couple. Robert Gabriel, chairman of the dance committee, said yesterday, that corsages will be optional for the Soph Hop.

Decorations for the event will have a patriotic theme, while programs will be designed in a colonial motif.

IFC Housing Committee Seeks Rooms for Imports

Finding local housing for imports on big weekends is a project of Interfraternity Council import housing committee, headed by Huston Brosious.

By contacting fraternities, the committee is compiling a list of private homes in State College, which will house women visitors any weekend.

The list will be sent to all fraternities and campus agencies this week and will include about 75 addresses, the number to be accommodated and prices, Brosious said.

Engineering Council Distributes Newsletter

A new newsletter will be distributed today by the Engineering Student Council, said George Bearer, president.

The Council is publishing the newsletter in an effort to familiarize students with the council's power to speak for them in matters of school improvements.

Students may pick up copies of the newsletter in the lobby of EE, and the first floor of Engineering "B."

Chastaine Heads Camp

Colonel Ben-Hur Chastaine, ROTC director at the College, has been appointed camp commander of the combined Infantry and Armored Cavalry ROTC camps at Fort George C. Meade, Md., for the coming summer.

Colonel Chastaine received his commission December 31, 1912, as the result of a National Guard Reserve commission. He assumed his present duties at the College in August 1946.

Collegiate Papers Plan Confab Site

Penn State is one of the four schools that will be considered as a site for the Second Annual University Newspaper Convention, it was decided at the first convention held Friday and Saturday at the University of Michigan.

This year's convention, sponsored by the Michigan Daily, was attended by fifty delegates from 14 major colleges.

Major topics on the agenda brought into focus two of a college paper's perennial problems—how to maintain independence from administrative regulation and how to get business.

Guest speakers were V. E. Canale, president of the National Advertising Service, James G. Paddock of the advertising department of the Chicago Tribune, and S. L. A. Marshall, military commentator and editorial writer for the Detroit News.

A banquet Saturday night followed by a dance in honor of the delegates concluded the convention.

Trainer Speaks Of Campus Trees

Walter W. Trainer, supervisor of landscape construction and maintenance at the College, will speak to the Denrologic Society at 105 Forestry, 7:30 o'clock tonight.

He is the author of "Campus Trees and Shrubs," which catalogues and lists the species and varieties of the trees, shrubs and vines that form the landscape design of the College campus.

Mr. Trainer took over his present job in 1930 after doing seven years of landscape architecture in the Philadelphia area.

Under Mr. Trainer's supervision, landscaping was completed around Rec Hall, Old Main, and the areas about the buildings erected in 1937.

In the preface of his book, he has written: "It is the hope of the writer that this catalogue may be the means of encouraging more people to become more interested in the exceptionally fine collection of trees, shrubs and vines to be found growing on the Penn State campus."

Phi Sig's Draw First For Suite Priorities

Lightless Bike Ride Brings Sad Results

A bike ride at night minus the convenience of a light resulted in a novel experience for Martin Schwartzman, mechanical engineering student at the College.

Mr. Schwartzman, who rode his bicycle Friday night without a light, was stopped by a local policeman and taken to police headquarters.

At headquarters he was informed that the legal code of the Borough gave him his alternative of paying a $2 fine plus costs of $3.77 or spending one day in jail.

Valuing one day of his time less than $5.77 in cash Mr. Schwartzman chose to serve his day in jail. Local police conveniently arranged for the offender to serve his time from 11 o'clock Saturday morning until after midnight of the same day.

SU Sells Tickets For Hotel Universe

Tickets for Players' new penthouse-style production, "Hotel Universe," opening at Center Stage 8 p.m. Saturday, are on sale at the Student Union desk.

The $1.10 price includes after-show refreshments and dancing. Center Stage audiences are limited to about 130. The play will be given each Saturday night during the semester.

The cast includes Fanna Brown, Olivia Crider, Martha Koons, Omar Lerman, Edward McCoy, Harry Natschke, Francine Toll, and Fred Vogel.

"Hotel Universe" will be the first real attempt by Players to test the depths of dramatic possibility in the penthouse style of production, according to Prof. Kelly Yeaton, director.

Music Recital Features Vocals, Instruments

Students at the College will present their regular monthly music recital in 117 Carnegie Hall at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

The program will feature vocal, piano and violin selections by Jo Rotili, William Parsons, Genevieve Taras, Birdie Berman, Jack Nesbitt, Marjorie Mead and Marilyn Guillet.

Members of the Louise Homer Club, music honorary society, will serve as ushers. The entire program will be approximately an hour in duration.

Finkelston Announces Informal Rushing Rules

Three major rules for informal rushing have been announced by Adelaide Finkelston, president of Pan-Hel. Sororities may have no planned parties or entertainment; all refreshments and food must be "dutch" treat; and no rushee may stay overnight at the sorority house or suite.

Informal rushing will continue until 10 p.m., March 7. Miss Finkelston said. Bids may be sent into the Dean of Women's office 8 a.m. March 8 and continue for the remainder of the semester.

Phi Sigma Sigma drew first priority in the suite drawing by sorority presidents in the Dean of Women's office 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The other 18 sororities drew in the following order: Delta Zeta Zeta Tau Alpha, Alpha Xi Delta, Theta Phi Alpha, Kappa Kappa Gamma, Phi Mu, Beta Sigma Omicron, Kappa Alpha Theta.

Alpha Omicron Pi, Kappa Iota, Delta Delta Delta, Alpha Iota Phi, Delta Gamma, Sigma Delta Tau, Alpha Gamma Delta, Alpha Chi Omega, Chi Omega, and Gamma Phi Beta.

The dates for final suite drawing as set by the sorority presidents are March 2 and through noon March 4.

Floor plans of the new dormitories will be in the Dean of Women's office and may be studied at any time, Pearl West, dean of women, said.

Faculty Speak Honor Grad School

Penn State Dames have announced the speakers and program for the dinner-dance to be held Thursday in honor of Dr. Frank D. Kern and the Graduate School, according to Mrs. Clair Locicero, secretary.

Speakers for the dinner are Dean Ben Euwema of the LA School; Dr. Corliss R. Kinney of the MI School; Dr. Lloyd M. Jones of the School of Physical Education; and H. I. Tarpley of the English department.
