

Panhel Lists Rushing Rules For Open Bids

Open bids can be handed in to the Dean of Women's office from now until the end of the semester, according to Adelaide Finkelston, president of the Pan Hellenic Council.

Girls who have transferred to campus this semester may be pledged but not initiated until their courses are completed and averages are at least a one.

Silent period exists between sororities and those girls to whom they have sent bids until answers are received. Except in these cases, there will be free association between sorority girls and independents for the rest of the semester.

Rumors that two sororities are going inactive next year were grounded at a special meeting of Panhellenic Council Monday afternoon. Mrs. Arthur K. Anderson, former national Pan Hellenic officer asked that all sororities cooperate in dispelling these rumors.

Women Battle In WRA Sports

WRA Intramural sports program tonight enters its fourth week in the spring indoor tournaments. Volleyball, badminton and table tennis are now underway in White Hall as the girls from the dormitories, sororities, independent organizations and town battle for supremacy.

Each activity has been divided into three leagues, with league leaders meeting in playoff games March 23. The tournament is played in a round robin arrangement which gives each team the maximum number of opportunities to play. All sporting events are scheduled for Tuesday through Thursday evenings.

Chairman of all the intramural sports of WRA is Nancy Romig. One McCormick is in charge of badminton and Helen Milligan directs table tennis activities. These girls are aided by Shirley Gauger, Gertrude Fetzer, Nancy Smith, Virginia Miller and Mary Kennedy.

"Liggett & Myers buy a good percentage of my best tobaccos...mild, ripe, sweet tobaccos. When they see a basket of tobacco they want they pay the top price to get it."
