Lions Strive for Eastern Titles

SCHAUTZ MAUREY CORMAN SHEEHE DRAZENOVICH BONSTALL

Of four Nittany Lion athletic teams entered in Eastern tourneys this weekend, the wrestlers were the first to get underway, competing in afternoon matches yesterday at Bethlehem.

Only three of the eight entered, George Schautz, Jim Maurey and Spider Corman managed to survive first round eliminations and advance into the quarter-finals, held last night.

Schautz, 121-pounder, scored a close win over Navy's Howard Edwards; Maurey drew a bye and Corman, at 165 pounds, trounced Cornell's Bill Bardick 9-4.

Lehigh, host to the tourney, reigned as the favorite to cop the team crown following first round bouts. The Engineers placed seven men in the quarter finals.

Boxing

Boxing's annual blue-ribbon event, the Eastern Intercollegiate Boxing Tournament, began in Charlottesville, Va., last night. Late results are carried on page one.

Gymnastics

Three Eastern Intercollegiate champions—Steve Greene of Penn State, Bob Stout of Temple and George Hoffman of Navy—will risk their individual titles this afternoon at West Point.

On the horizontal bar, Stout will contend with his teammate, Bob McKinney; Navy's celebrated George Hoffman; Army's Bob Wooster, the Nittany Olympic prospect, Ray Sorensen, as well as other stars.

Rated a darkhorse on the parallel bars is the Blue and White's Sorensen, who may topple Stout in this event.

Revenge for his first defeat of the season, handed him last week by Stout, will be the goal of Lion Bill Meade in the tumbling first round bouts. The Engineers placed seven men in the quarter finals.

128-pounder Al Vigilante was pinned by Cornell's Joe Calby, who had decisioned him in an earlier dual meet. Harry Smith, who replaced the injured Don Arbuckle, fell victim to the man Arbuckle had defeated previously, Cornell's Captain John Raines, being pinned with a cradle hold.

A takedown in the last ten seconds was the winning margin as Laird Robertson dropped a 6-5 decision to Dartmouth's Pete Larson in the 165-pound class. Top seeded Jim Jackson of Lehigh pinned Lion Earl Long, 175-pounder, in 7:27, with a figure four and reverse nelson.

Blue and White heavyweight, Wally Chambers, encountered second seeded Newbold Smith, veteran Navy grappler, with Smith eliminating the Lion unlimited representative.

Greene is favored to hold his side horse championship copped last year.

Swimming

Seven of Bill Gutteron's men will compete today for individual and team honors against representatives from 19 other eastern colleges in the Eastern Intercollegiate Swimming Tourney at Rutgers University.

Cal Folmsbee, who suffered his first defeat of the season last Saturday at Cornell, in the fancy diving event, is conceded the best chance of bringing a title back to the lair of the Nittany Lion. Mike Kutsenkow will also be entered in the diving competition.

Another likely candidate for an individual win is John McGrory, in the 100-yard free style.

Bill Schildmacher, second in both the 50 and 100-yard freestyle races last Saturday, and Captain Don Peck, 220 freestyler, will compete in these same events at Rutgers.

Dave Hughes is a possible entry in the 440-yard freestyle and Irv Tenzer will probably be one of the 400-yard relay foursome.
