May Queen Election

Primary elections for the 1948 May Queen and her attendant will be held on Old Main Balcony Monday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., said Joan Seltzer, publicity chairman. All coeds are eligible to vote.

Candidates have been nominated by the various living units, and their pictures will be on display at the election desk. They are requested to leave their photographs at the Dean of Women's office by 5 p.m. today.

The initiation climaxed Delta Week, during which pledges and members exchanged parties.

Problems Plague Dorm

Samples, storage, color schemes, catalogs, specifications, plans—these are some of the myriad problems connected with supplying a new dormitory.

One corner of the office of Harold W. Loman, purchasing agent, is piled high with samples of many varieties, such as colorful bed spreads, mattresses, plastic and china dishware, fabrics.

Storage looms as a major bottleneck when manufacturers begin shipping carloads of furnishings. Space in Atherton Hall will be used, but if the basements of the new dormitories are finished and dried out in time, unlimited room will be available.

WRA Sponsors Yarn Drive

Even if your man does wear a size 13 sock, you may still have some wool yarn left over from that last pair of argyles you knitted. If that's the case then the WRA yarn drive is aimed at you!

The women of the Episcopal Church would like to knit for European relief but they are unable to obtain enough wool. Knowing that many of the girls at the College knit, they are appealing to them to save that extra bit of yarn.

WRA has taken over the sponsorship of the drive with Helen Milligan serving as chairman. Boxes will be placed in the dormitories and sorority houses, and the knitting enthusiasts are asked place any left-over yarn regardless of color or amount in them.
