Aid Bill Passes Both Houses

Washington — The historic world-wide foreign aid bill was approved by overwhelming majorities yesterday in Congress. President Truman is ready to sign the bill into law without further delay. Thus begins the biggest peacetime flow of American dollars, arms and other equipment to 18 nations overseas. The total cost will be seven billion dollars the first year.

Congress Overrides Veto

Washington—Congress cut the income tax yesterday by a total of $4,800,000,000. The bill eliminates all income taxes on about seven million lower-income persons. The law applies the community property principle to all states, thus saving money for married couples, and it raises everybody's personal exemption to $600.

U.S. Train Passes Reds

Berlin—A 54-car United States Army military freight train headed for Berlin has passed through a Russian control point without inspection or incident. The information comes from Army transport officials. A short time earlier, in Washington, Army Secretary Royall had said that the Americans would sit tight in Berlin but would not provoke trouble. Royall added that the American military commander in Berlin has the whole support of the United States Government in his position.

English To Head 1949 La Vie Staff

Staff of the 1949 La Vie was named at a banquet last night by A. Roberta Hutchison, 1948 editor. The new editor is John English. Louise Conte is managing editor. Lorraine Munz, photo editor, will be assisted by Martin Brill and Ellen Miller. New senior section editor is Carolyn Rice. Sports editor is John Krusen, while women's editor Frances Rice will be assisted by Nancy Parent. The senior board includes C. June Bland, Marjorie Erskine, Frances Keeney, David Nylven, Lois Resler, and Sidney Simon. Art editor Bruce Sloan will head a senior art board made up of Phyllis Harkin, June Kratz, Edith Webb and Helen Wilcox. The new staff will put out the La Vie covering graduates of this Summer as well as next February and June. Provisions will be made this Spring and Summer for pictures of seniors graduating in the Summer.

Cliques Hold 1st Nominations

Lion Party

Lion clique will meet for preliminary nominations in 10 Sparks at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow night. The early meeting time was set because of IFC sing try-outs at 8 o'clock, said Edward Hinkle, publicity chairman.

The Lion Party will hold a mixer for all students at the DU house at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Purpose of the mixer is to acquaint clique members with potential nominees.

All clique members may make nomination from the floor at the meeting, said Hinkle. The steering committee may have a slate prepared for action by the membership, but in any case, additional names may be added from the floor.

The Lion platform is being worked on at the present time, but it will not be announced until the beginning of the campaign, about April 12, said Hinkle.

State Party

State Party will hold preliminary nominations for All-College officers in 121 Sparks at 6:30 o'clock tomorrow night.

Nominations may be made from the floor, said Robert Keller, clique chairman. The steering committee will prepare a slate before the meeting, which members may act on, he added.

"Here is your chance to improve student government," said Keller. "Everyone who comes to the meeting should have a potential candidate."

Keller requested each fraternity to send two men as voting representatives. Only in that way will fraternities be able to have a voice in State Party nominations, he said.

The State platform has not yet been completely formulated. It will be put into its final form when the party's slate is complete, the chairman said.

Hartley Defends Labor Law In Fourth Forum Lecture

"The Truth About the Taft-Hartley Law" is the topic of Congressman Fred A. Hartley's lecture and discussion in Schwab Auditorium at 8 p.m. Tuesday, fourth in the Community Forum Lecture series.

Advocate of stringent labor regulations and center of labor controversy, Mr. Hartley will defend his stand on labor legislation. Reports indicate that he will welcome warm discussion.

Reserved seat tickets are available for the lecture for 75 cents at Student Union. Holders of season tickets will use ticket F.

Fred A. Hartley, Jr., ran for Congress in 1928, becoming the youngest man ever to be elected. He entered the campaign several weeks before he was twenty-five, the minimum age set by the Constitution, and has been re-elected consistently since.

Arthur H. Reede, professor of economics and out-spoken critic of the Taft-Hartley measure, will be invited to the platform at the conclusion of Mr. Hartley's lecture to present what he believes to be the objections of the legislation, and to challenge the principle speaker on these particular points.

Trustees Invite Submittal Of Co-op Operating Methods

Howard J. Lamade, College Trustee, yesterday called on the student co-op committee to draw up a more complete, workable plan of operation, together with constitution and by-laws of incorporation, for the proposed student cooperative store.

The request was made at a meeting of the special Trustee co-op committee, which Lamade heads, and the student group, headed by Emory Brown.

Chairman Lamade stated that the Trustee committee is sympathetic with the desire of the students to have a co-op, and that the plan, in principle, was well presented by student representatives. But he asked that more details be presented before the full Board of Trustees meets in June.

According to Brown, the plan will include items to be sold at the proposed co-op, how the profits would be used, how the store would be managed, what kind of help would be employed and who would comprise the board of directors.

Brown stated that the proposed by-laws, to be drawn up by his committee, will probably model the board of directors after that of the co-op at the University of Texas, which includes four students and four faculty members.

Grin and Bear It

Grin and Bear It, popular humor cartoon, will become a regular editorial page feature of the Daily Collegian beginning Tuesday. This cartoon about little daily incidents is created by George Lichty and is distributed by the Chicago Sun-Times syndicate.

Steiner Speaks At LA Lecture

Dr. Herbert Steiner, an outstanding literary figure in Europe before the second World War and associate professor of German at the College, will speak in the third of the Liberal Arts Lectures in 121 Sparks, at 8 p.m. Monday.

His topic is entitled "The New Tower" and will deal with some aspects of the situation in Europe from 1919 till the beginning of World War II.

Editor of "Corona," a literary and historical bi-monthly in Zurich, Switzerland, Dr. Steiner knew many of the important figures of this period and will tell about them in his talk. He was also editor of the Corona book series and is at present editor of "Aurora," the only publication in the United States which contains four languages.

Dr. Steiner has studied at the Universities of Zurich and Munich, and has taught at Rutgers, Smith, and Wheaton Colleges since he arrived in America in 1940.

Hill Wins Championship In 'After Dinner' Tourney

Richard Hill, manager of the Men's Debate, was acclaimed grand national champion of after dinner speaking in the Grand National Forensic Tournament at Mary Washington College in Fredericksburg, Virginia, last weekend.

John Seigler rose to the finals in informative speaking, and Robert Kagan reached the semi-finals in extemporaneous speaking.

The College negative team, David Barron and Richard Hill, gained ninth place among the 132 teams, winning five of its seven debates. Duquesne University and the University of Virginia also tied for ninth place. The United States Naval Academy was first.

Honor Society Initiates Nine Sophomore Athletes

Nine sophomore athletes were formally initiated into Druids, sophomore men's athletic honorary, in recent ceremonies.

The new members are Paul Smith, boxing; Donald Arbuckle, wrestling; Charles Beatty and William Luther, football; Ralph Hosterman, soccer; David Hughes and James Reasman, swimming; Norwood Lawler, gymnastics; and Robert McKown, basketball.

President Dean Kissell said that Druids and Cwens, sophomore women's honorary, are planning to co-sponsor a dance at TUB in the near future.

World Student Fund Opens Annual Drive

World Student Service Fund opens its annual drive for contributions Monday, announced Dorothy Park and William Renshaw, drive co-chairmen.

Over 200 students will solicit funds during next week. No goal has been officially announced, but Renshaw urged everyone to support the WSSF to the best of his ability.

WSSF is unique in that it is a relief organization of the students and professors of American schools for the assistance of those overseas in war-devastated countries.

Band Concert Opens Series

A Blue Band performance in Schwab Auditorium at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon will inaugurate the regular spring series of free concerts to be presented by campus music groups this year. Men's Glee Club, scheduled for April 11, will be second in the series.

Doors will open at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Students, faculty members and townspeople are invited and urged to come early if they desire seats. The program will last approximately an hour and 20 minutes.

James W. Dunlop will conduct the 88-piece band, which will present a variety of classical, semi-classical and currently popular numbers.

The program includes Belsterling's "March of the Steel Men," Gomez's "Il Guarany," an Eric Leidzen arrangement of "Four Leaf Clover," Sousa's "Manhattan Beach," "Hora Staccato," arranged by Bennett, Shisler's "Valse Viennoise," Grainger's "Irish Tune from County Derry," Alfred's arrangement of "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise," and Wood's "Mannin Veen."

After a short intermission, the band will play "Bennett's Pigskin Pageant," Leidzen's arrangement of "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes," Holmes' "March Heroic," a George Gershwin selection arranged by Bennett, and Sousa's "Stars and Stripes Forever."

Theta Sigma Phi Honors Quill Girl

Quill Girl, one of the three campus coeds to be honored at the Matrix Table of Theta Sigma Phi, will be elected by all coeds at Student Union from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday and Tuesday.

Quill Girl is selected from four presidents of outstanding women's groups on campus. The four candidates, whose pictures will be displayed at the voting booth, are Nancy Ault, national president of Chimes; Joan Bissey, Mortar Board president; Suzanne Romig, president of WSGA; and Lee Ann Wagner, WRA president.

Cap Girl, the coed who has the most varied activities, and Matrix Girl, the girl who has contributed most service to the College, will be chosen by the Theta Sigma Phi members.

Mrs. Mary James Cottrell, Washington newspaper correspondent, will speak at the dinner at the Mitty Lion Inn on Monday, April 12.

Coeds Elect May Queen; Balloting in Old Main

All coeds are eligible to vote Monday for the May Queen and her Maid of Honor, said Joan Seltzer and Florence Elderton, co-chairmen of the publicity committee. Balloting will take place on Old Main Balcony from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Pictures of the candidates nominated by the living units will be on display at the election desk.

The senior girl who receives the most votes will be queen and the two runners-up will be her attendants. The sophomore girl with the most votes will be Maid of Honor and the two runners-up her attendants.

Senior girls who wish to be in the Hemlock Chain should sign at the election desk Monday. The first fifty senior girls who sign will compose the chain.

A mass meeting of the WSSF division leaders, solicitors, and workers will be held in 121 Sparks at 2 o'clock tomorrow. Dr. Henry P. Van Dusen, vice-president of WSSF, will speak about the drive.

All funds are administered by World Student Relief, an international agency with headquarters in Geneva, Switzerland.

Since 1937 approximately $4,000,000 has been collected from students and teachers of 19 countries. Since the end of hostilities the need for assistance has steadily increased, Renshaw said.

Material aid and services are flowing to the students of devastated areas, to displaced persons camps, to relief centers and temporary universities.

Funds collected from the WSSF drive will go towards the purchase of medical supplies, emergency food, clothing and housing. Rest centers and students sanatoriums are being constructed as soon as enough funds are available.

Contest Continues; Prizes Increase

Since no one guessed the identity of the "thing" from yesterday's clues in the "It's in the Ads" contest, today's prize of an automatic folding iron from the Hartman Electric Company will be added to yesterday's prize of four Eesley shirts.

A leather case six inches by nine inches with a built-in sewing kit encloses the iron. The kit and iron is valued at $12.50.

To clear up some confusion that arose from yesterday's explanation, the following is an example of a complete group of clues.

The clues will run for a number of days like this—it's real, it's immortal, it exists, it's mineral, it started in 1855, it's stone, it's "Old." The answer is Old Main.

Remember, all clues lead to the identity of one "thing."

News Briefs

IFC Sing

Independents as well as sorority and fraternity members are invited to come to the IFC sing. The audience is requested to sit in the middle section of Schwab Auditorium. Competing sororities will sit on left side; competing fraternities will sit on the right side. Today the fraternity groups will sing first; tomorrow, sorority groups will sing first, according to Dolores Jelacic and Jack Cameron, chairmen.

Collegian Move-ups

Three members of sophomore board have been moved up to the Daily Collegian Junior editorial board. Allan W. Ostar, editor, announced today. Promoted were Tom Morgan, Betty Gibbons, and Rosemary Squillante.

Newman Club

The Newman Club will hold a mixer at Woodman Hall, 2 o'clock tomorrow. At this time students may register in order to vote on April 20, according to Frank Tidona, president.

Addition

In a recent edition of the Daily Collegian, Meryl Louise Brown's name was omitted from the Liberal Arts honor roll. Miss Brown, a senior, has an average of 2.6.
