

Late AP News

Courtesy WMAJ

Plan Veto-Proof UN

WASHINGTON—Sixteen Senators have launched a plan to make the United Nations into a veto-proof, fighting organization which will guarantee peace if Russia accepts it. Should the Soviet Union refuse, the Senators say, the time would be ripe to start a new world organization without Russia. The proposal is expected to get a cool reception in the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Bolivian Revolution

BOGOTA—Widespread shooting has broken out again. The government has announced that it has broken relations with Russia. This decision coincides with the capture of 18 foreign agents, including two Russians.

Miners Return

PITTSBURGH—Some coal miners are going back to work as a result of the settlement of the pension dispute. Some are expected to postpone returning until they see what happens to John L. Lewis at his contempt trial.

Collegian Invites Politicos to TUB

Candidates of both political parties will be guests of the Daily Collegian, which is sponsoring a dance at the TUB from 7 to 9:30 p.m., Thursday.

Two special tables will be set, one with both Lion and State party candidates for All-College offices, the other with candidates for class offices.

Bill Loomis and his Blue Notes will furnish music for the dance. No admission will be charged.

All students are urged to attend the dance to meet candidates of both parties and to talk with them personally, Ann Zekauskas, chairman of the affair, said.

Ad Contest

Blair's Gift Shop is the source of today's prize in the "It's in the Ads" contest. The prize, a 16-inch high polished brass desk lamp, brings the total value of the gifts to $94.10.

- The other prizes are:
1. Four Essley shirts—College Sportswear.
  2. Electric iron—Hartman Electric Company.
  3. $10 credit—Bill McMullen.
  4. Pressure cooker—Marshall Electric Company.
  5. Two portraits and gold frame—Lion Studio.
  6. Choker or cuff links—Crabtrees.

Flag Display of 21 Nations Launches Pan American Day

Pan-American Day will be celebrated on the campus tomorrow by a series of events commemorating the common heritage of freedom between the 21 American republics, said Jack Lowery, committee chairman.

The flags of the Pan-American countries will be displayed from 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. between the flag staffs on front campus.

Pan-American Dinner
Dr. Harrison H. Arnold, professor of Spanish, will speak at the annual Pan-American Day dinner in the Maple Room of the Home Economics building at 6:45 p.m. tomorrow. Pedro Suarez, Centro Inter-Americano president, is chairman for the dinner.

Tickets for the dinner are being sold at the Student Union desk in Old Main for $1.25. A Pan-American musical pro-

Broadway Theater Director To Speak on Stage History

Margaret Webster, prominent in Broadway acting and theater production circles, will speak on "The Adventure of Acting" to students and townspeople in Schwab Auditorium at 8 p.m. Thursday. She is currently directing Ibsen's play, "Ghosts" at Cort Theatre in New York City.

Miss Webster, daughter of movie actress Dame May Whitty, will illustrate the evolution of the playwright and of the actor by giving excerpts from great plays of the past three hundred years. She will interpret the meaning of the actor's art in the heritage of English speaking peoples, the story of some of its greatest names, of how the actor groups from Europe toured America in the nineteenth century and how the theatre followed into the settling of the west. She will also discuss the meaning of actors and of the theatre in our lives.

Distinguished as a director of Shakespearean plays, following her acting career, Miss Webster is author of the book "Shakespeare Without Tears." Her professional acting debut was made in London as "Gentlewoman" in John Barrymore's "Hamlet."

Miss Webster rediscovered "Richard II" for theater groups in this country in 1937-38 after directing several productions in England. Her other Shakespearean directing successes include "Twelfth Night" with Helen Hayes, "Macbeth" with Judith Anderson, "Othello" with Paul Robeson and "The Tempest" with Zorina and Canada Lee.

Reserved seat tickets at 75c are available at Student Union until 7:55 p.m., April 15.

Committee Picks Royal Nominees

Selection of four male and four female final contestants for the title of King and Queen of the PanHel-IFC ball at Recreation Hall Friday evening will be made tonight at a dance committee meeting, Joseph Succop, publicity chairman, said yesterday.

He released names of 13 contestants submitted to the committee. Names of woman contestants and their sponsors follow:
Evelyn Setevage, Alpha Gamma Rho; Barbara Meadows, Kappa Sigma; Arlene Conner, Kappa Delta Rho; Jo Fox, Phi Kappa Psi.

Male contestants and their sponsors are:

Paul McNelis, Beta Sigma Omicron; Joseph Drzenovich, Theta Phi Alpha; John Hunter, Delta Gamma; Birney Stokes, Zeta Tau Alpha; Max Wandel, Alpha Omicron Chi; Willard Parkhill, Kappa Alpha Theta; Richard Wertz, (Continued on page two)

Lee Wagner Wins Quill Girl Award

Lee Ann Wagner was crowned Quill Girl, Janie Weigle, Cap Girl and Suzanne Romig, Matrix Girl at the eleventh annual Matrix Table last night.

Quill Girl was elected by the woman student body from four presidents of leading women's groups on campus. Cap Girl and Matrix Girl were chosen by Theta Sigma Phi, women's journalism honorary and sponsors of the dinner. The former was selected for the coed with the most varied activities and the latter who has best served the College.

WAGNER

Miss Wagner is president of WRA, active in many WRA clubs, and outstanding as a member of the swimming team. Among Miss Weigle's leading activities are chairman of the Student Book Exchange, editor of Critique, active in Thespians, and College Choir. Miss Romig has served the "college as president of WSGA and has been active in women's politics and government since coming to the College. All girls are seniors.

Jo Fox, Dorothy Hunsberger, Frances Keeney, June Snyder and Selma Zasofsky were pledged to Theta Sigma Phi in a ceremony preceding the dinner. Mrs. Mary Jane Cottrell, Washington newspaper correspondent, and guest speaker, talked informally about socially and politically prominent women in Washington.

'Save the Peace' Rally Discusses UMT Question

Larry Gara, graduate Arts and Letters student and a conscientious objector in the last war, will complete the roster of speakers for the "Save the Peace" rally in 121 Sparks at 7:30 o'clock tonight, said John McKelvey, committee chairman. Gara, representing the Young Friends Society, will discuss the impact of UMT and selective service upon moral and spiritual issues.

Previously announced speakers for the meeting include Dr.

Alfred Punnett, associate professor of history, who will discuss the military impact upon international affairs; and William G. Mather, professor of rural sociology, speaking on impacts on domestic issues.

The rally, sponsored jointly by PSCA, YPCA, Students for Wallace, Common Sense Club, and Young Friends, will be conducted in forum fashion, and a question-and-answer period will follow the main speaking, McKelvey said.

The meeting highlights campus observance of national Save the Peace Week, and similar rallies are being held on campuses all over the country, he said.

ORE Receives Reports Of Barber Shop Pledges

Barber shop pledge ticket sales will be reported by organizations and individuals of the Committee on Racial Equality in 417 Old Main at 8 o'clock tonight, according to Arthur H. Reede, chairman.

Only half of the 5000 tickets representing payments on non-discriminatory haircuts, had been distributed by yesterday afternoon. However, IFC representatives had not obtained any.

A proposed constitution, drawn up by a committee chaired by Dr. R. Wallace Brewster, associate professor of political science, will be voted upon at the meeting.

Cliques Select Slates, Set Party Platforms

Lion Clique Names Brown, Brooks, Walacavage

Final selections of candidates of the Lion Party were made, and a program of work was approved for the spring elections at a meeting of the clique Sunday night. No platform as such will be advanced by the party. Harold E. Brown, clique chairman, announced.

The slate follows:

All-College

President—Harold E. Brown.
Vice-president—Raymond Brooks.
Secretary-treasurer—Edmund Walacavage.

Senior Class

President—Fritz Sippel.
Vice-president—George Bearer.
Secretary-treasurer—Lorraine Munz.

Junior Class

President—James MacCallum.
Vice-president—William Ballou.
Secretary-treasurer—Alvin A. Bartos.

The complete text of the Lion Party program of work will be printed in tomorrow's Daily Collegian.

Lawless, Little, Schlegel Top Final State Slate

Election of a final slate of candidates for the coming elections, and approval of the clique platform were accomplished at a meeting of the State Party Sunday night.

The slate follows:

All-College

President—William Lawless.
Vice-president—Donald Little.
Secretary-treasurer—Richard Schlegel.

Senior Class

President—Terry Ruhlman.
Vice-president—Bernard Miller.
Secretary-treasurer—Arleen Spencer.

Junior Class

President—Robert Wine.
Vice-president—Alan Spinweber.
Secretary-treasurer—Virginia Fetter.

The complete text of the State Party platform will be printed in tomorrow's Daily Collegian.

Stassen Receives Conference Vote

At the Intercollegiate Conference on Government in Philadelphia last weekend Harold Stassen, former Minnesota Governor, easily received the Presidential nomination, receiving 31% of the votes cast.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg received 23% of the votes cast, General "Ike" Eisenhower 21%, President Harry Truman 13%, Henry Wallace 9% and Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas 3%.

Regional director from the Penn State area, Ray Britton, headed the delegation of 24 students from the College who attended the meeting of the Intercollegiate Conference of Government which this year was set up as a model national political convention.

United States Senator Francis Myers of Philadelphia gave the opening address and then representatives of the Democratic and Republican National Committee as well as spokesmen for the Wallace third party movement outlined their platforms at the first session.

Lion Coats

Lion Coats will go on sale today at the Student Union Office in Old Main for $1.95. This sale will continue for the remainder of the week.

Judges Name Joyce Hodgins Miss Penn State of 1948

Joyce Hodgins of Wynnwood has been named Miss Penn State 1948 and is now a contestant in Sammy Kaye's American Coed Contest. It was announced today in the April Froth.

Miss Hodgins, who has curly dark hair and blue eyes, was nominated by members of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. She recently did some modeling for a well-known shampoo company and her picture will appear in the September issue of national magazines. She also was attendant to the May Queen last year.

A senior in home economics, she plans to work with the Philadelphia Electric Company in June.

Other features in the Froth expose issue are a cross-section drawing of the Tub, the original of which will be presented to George Donovan, Student Union manager. "Eyes Toward the Olympics," an article on Chick Werner's trackmen by Tom Lyon, Centre Daily Times sports editor, and exposes of Shakespeare, the Dispensary, advertising agencies, and the "Wednesday Evening Vice."

Fuoss, Yale Professor Discusses Electrolysis

"Electrolysis: Puzzles and Progress" is the topic of tonight's Priestly lecture by Dr. Raymond M. Fuoss, Sterling Professor of Chemistry at Yale University, at 7:30 o'clock in 119 Osmond Lab.

Dr. Corliss R. Kinney, professor of fuel technology, will be chairman of tonight's program. The general subject of this year's series, which opened last night, is "The Development of Theoretical Electrochemistry."

Dr. Fuoss spoke last night on "Volts versus Amperes." Dean George L. Haller of the School of Chemistry and Physics was chairman for the first session of the twenty-second series, annually sponsored by Phi Lambda Upsilon, honorary chemical society.

Weather

The weather report for tomorrow is continued cloudy and cooler.