

New Dormitories Follow Four Basic Color Schemes

Four basic color schemes will be used in the student rooms of McElwain and Simmons Halls, with the warm shades on northern exposures and cool ones facing south, according to Harold W. Loman, purchasing agent.

Peach and yellow walls will be the motif of the northern rooms, while on the south the rooms will have alternately gray and green walls. Pre-colored plaster in soft pastel shades will be used. The floors will be of jasper, or streaked, linoleum.

Atoll Blue Chairs

Atoll blue upholstered chairs and matching blue and rose bedspreads and drapes will complete the gray rooms. The green rooms will include Indian brown chairs and gray and brown spreads and drapes.

In the peach rooms, chairs will be upholstered in Bermuda coral and the matching bedspreads and drapes will be of peach and brown. Cornish green chairs and tan and green drapes and spreads will complete the scheme of the yellow rooms.

Furniture in all the rooms will be of birch wood with a harvest bleach. The metal beds will have a grain finish of a harmonizing color.

Sorority Lounges

Sororities indicated a general all-over color preference when they selected the sites of their lounges. The architects have been instructed to follow the stated preference where possible. The lounge furniture has not yet been selected.
