

State Again Sweeps Election

Late AP News Courtesy WMAJ

Senate Upholds Public Housing

The Senate rejected an amendment which would have eliminated a public housing program from the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill. That provision covers half-a-million units in the plan for 15-million new homes by 1958. A final Senate vote may come today—but the public housing clause is expected to call forth some sharp oratory when the bill gets to the House.

ERP Troubleshooter

President Truman named Secretary of Commerce Harriman as troubleshooter for the European recovery program yesterday. The nomination goes to the Senate today.

Seniors Initiate Honor Elections

Election of five senior honor men will begin tomorrow when postcards will be mailed to senior men.

Listed on the postcards are the names of ten men nominated by the senior Class Day Committee. From this group five men will be selected by each senior for Class Day honors.

Nominated for senior honors are Willard Agnew, Edward W. Banyai, Eugene M. Fulmer, Alan G. Hack, Gerald T. Karver, Thomas J. Lannen, John J. Nolan, Allan W. Ostar, John P. Tighe, and Robert M. Troxell.

Senior men voting are urged to return the postcards as soon as possible. (Continued on page eight)

Penn State Club Elects Sladics

Ernest Sladics was elected president of the Penn State Club at an election meeting held last Tuesday. Fred A. Peruzzi, publicity chairman, announced yesterday.

Faculty Talent Show Features Variety of Acts; Opens Tomorrow

A magic show, song-and-dance act, piano solos, and a double quartet with floating tenors are but a few of the acts to be featured in the Faculty Talent Show in Schwab Auditorium, 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

Tickets at SU

Tickets are priced at 50 cents each including tax and can be obtained at Student Union. All proceeds will be given to the World Student Service Fund Drive. There are no reserved seats.

Paul R. Beall, instructor of speech, will be master of ceremonies for the revue. In addition to the participants already announced, the production will include George E. Ceiga, assistant professor of music, Lynn Christy, assistant professor of English composition, Robert C. Johnson,

Final Examinations

Final examination schedule was released today by Ray V. Watkins, College scheduling officer. Final exams will commence Wednesday, May 26, at 8 a.m. and end on Thursday, June 3, at 5:30 p.m. All conflicts should be reported to the scheduling office in the armory not later than Wednesday, April 28.

CORE Launches Renewed Drive

Final efforts to enlist town and campus-wide financial support for a non-discriminatory barber shop will be expended in an all-out three-day canvass by the Council on Racial Equality.

Extension of the drive, to be termed "CORE Days," was decided upon last night, with the appointment of a committee to spearhead the campaign. Sales headquarters remain in the PSCA office in Old Main.

CORE is attempting to raise enough money and guarantee enough patrons to influence present barbers to accept the open shop principle, or as an alternative, to start a new modern three-chair shop.

Dates of the campaign to sell haircut pledge tickets have been set for May 3 to 5. The tickets would be advance payments of 25 cents each for four haircuts and would be redeemable in any barbershop which would not refuse to cut hair because of color.

Married Veteran Wins $95 For Answer in Ad Contest

It pays to do your homework, decided John Crouse, 8th semester journalism student, when he won $95 worth of merchandise in the second "It's in the Ads" contest.

Crouse's answer, "The Alpha Fire Company," won him, his wife and 15-month-old daughter five prizes.

"I was doing a journalism assignment," he said, "when I had to check the 'History of State College' by Violet D. Hench, for some facts. As I was looking over one page, I glanced at the facing page and noticed that it related the history of the fire company."

"The date, 1901, caught my attention," he continued, "and after checking the Collegian's clues, I knew that I was on the right track."

"Originally a cracker" fit in with George T. Graham who organized the company; "known as a suit" fit in with the original name of the company, the Union Company, and the "three in one"

Cabinet Members Meet Successors

Committees Present Reports, Suggestions

Indoctrination of newly-elected officers in Cabinet procedure begins tonight at the final meeting of the retiring All-College Cabinet in 201 Old Main at 8 o'clock. New members will be invited to attend by Thomas Lannen, All-College President.

Reports of at least nine important committees and their recommendations will be presented to bring the new student government up to date on Cabinet proceedings.

Traffic violators will appear before Tribunal beginning May 3, according to Alan Hack, chairman. Hack will also report on plans for the inauguration of the new Cabinet on the front steps of Old Main, at noon May 3.

Mimeographed Copies

Mimeographed copies of an outline of workshops under consideration by the College chapter of National Student Association will be distributed to Cabinet members, who will discuss the measures recommended by NSA and make suggestions. Jane Fouracre, chairman, will report on the progress of the local chapter.

First draft of by-laws for the proposed student cooperative store will be reported by Emory Brown, chairman. Students are being (Continued on page eight)

Art Exhibit Opens in MI

A special showing of the Gimbel Pennsylvania Art Collection will be held in the Mineral Industries Art Gallery from 2 to 5 Saturday afternoon.

Invitations for the special preview have been sent to noted art lovers of central Pennsylvania, members of the sponsoring committee and artists participating in the show.

Opens Sunday

A general showing of the collection open to the public, will begin Sunday and run until May 2. There is no admission charge to the gallery.

This is the fourth showing of the collection thus far. The paintings have been widely acclaimed in Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, and Harrisburg prior to their appearance at the College.

The collection includes 116 paintings by outstanding artists from all sections of the country. (Continued on page eight)

Watkins Lists First Registration

First phase registration for the Fall semester has been set for May 3, according to Ray V. Watkins, College scheduling officer. Procedure for registration will be announced for each school by its dean.

Mr. Watkins stressed the importance of arranging courses in order by code. Also the time of meeting must be filled in.

The scheduling officer pointed out that if first phase is completed in a proper manner, not more than 15 minutes should be required for the final phase in September.

He also said that students who fail courses this semester or, for some other reason, make changes in their schedule, will be required to pass through the Board of Control in September.
