

Prof Night at Schwab

Tonight the profs doff their academic gowns and don the garb of entertainers for the Faculty Talent Show under the auspices of the World Student Service Fund drive.

The merits of WSSF are well-known and cannot be disputed. It's also a fact that the current drive has not reaped the dividends that were expected.

Obviously, there is much talent among the faculty that has rarely been tapped for a student audience. It's the opportunity to tie in an enjoyable evening with support for a worthy cause.

Credit should go to the seven school councils for the unique idea and to the professors who so generously offered their talent.

Here's the chance to laugh and applaud that favorite prof—at the Faculty Talent Show. —BIF

Editor's Mailcall

Letter from China

TO THE EDITOR: Mr. William B. Reed has brought to my attention the fact that the class of 1948 is considering its gift. I understand that one of the possibilities is a grant to the Lingnan University Library. I do not know the other gifts which the Class may be considering so I am unable to weigh the relative merits of the various proposals. I do know the need which the students at Lingnan face in this postwar era.

There are so many demands on the University Administration that it is most difficult to take care of any of them adequately. Equipment must be replaced and brought up to date; buildings repaired and record enrollment taken care of. The Library during the war was neglected, abused and scattered. This is especially unfortunate in China where it is impossible to walk across the street from the campus and purchase texts for the various courses at Keelers, Metzger's or The Athletic Store. I think it is especially true in the field of Agriculture. For some reason, probably their wider demand, more of the Arts and Science books have, in the past, been printed in China than has been true for Agriculture. I am teaching a course in Plant Propagation. At one time according to the records there were five copies of a book published about 1900. But not a single copy is now available. My own copies for this and the course in Plant Breeding do not go very far. I am sure this is true in nearly every course.

I took the liberty of speaking to Dr. Henry S. Frank, Provost of the University, and his immediate reaction was that such a gift would be most welcome and that the Class of 1948 might want to further specify that the gift be made to the Agricultural Library, for:

1. The Agricultural Library is in special need at this time. It is Dean Lee's hope to make the College of Agriculture a research center worthy of the needs of China's predominantly agricultural population. The first requisite to good research is an adequate library.

2. A grant to the Agricultural Library would be in keeping with Penn State's long interest in Lingnan.

3. Such a gift would relieve the University of heavy obligations and make it possible for them to concentrate their efforts on the Arts and Science Libraries.

4. Most important to you, I think, is that the Class gift would then stand out and be a very obvious contribution.

Such a library would be housed in the Agricultural building and a suitable plaque could be placed in the reading room stating the facts concerning the gift. In addition, of course, each book should bear an appropriate Book Plate.

Visitors and students at the College in the future would have very concrete evidence of the fine spirit of cooperation which exists between Lingnan and Penn State. Those of us who are here believe that Lingnan will not only become a great Chinese University but that it will be known among the outstanding Universities of the world.

I feel moved to commend the Class of 1948 for its Global outlook in considering this gift. So far as I know this is the first time a Penn State Class has considered a gift with such far reaching possibilities. Everyone talks about the necessity for world understanding and unity. This is certainly a very concrete action which might be taken in this direction.

Sincerely yours,
Richard E. Pride '40

Philadelphia Field Trip Slated for HA Students

Fifteen hotel administration students will go to Philadelphia April 30 and May 1 to observe front office procedures and their relationship to other operating departments of several food service establishments.

Points to be visited are the Pennsylvania Sheraton Hotel, the Victor Clad Equipment Co. and the Githers Rexadmer Company, wholesale grocers. Richard M. Bower, assistant professor of hotel administration, will accompany the students on the trip.

THE DAILY COLLEGIAN

Successor to the Free Lance, est 1871
Published Tuesday through Saturday mornings during the College year by the staff of the Daily Collegian of the Pennsylvania State College. Entered as second class matter July 5, 1934, at the State College, Pa. Post Office under the act of March 3, 1879 $2.50 a semester; $4.25 the school year

Editor: Allan W. Ostar
Bus. Mgr.: Donald W. Ellis
Man. Ed.: Ben L. French, Jr.; News Ed.: Roberta Hutchison; Sports Ed.: Ted Rubin; Ass't. Sports Ed.: Dave Adelman; Feature Ed.: Eleanor Fehnel; Women's Ed.: Marjorie Mousley
Ad. Dir.: Spencer Scheckter; Local Ad. Mgr.: Barbara Keefer; Ass't. Bus. Mgr.: Jack Strickland; Co. Circ. Mgr.: William H. Frazier; David Lambert, Sec.; Mary Lou Callahan; Class. Ad. Mgr.: Lucille Martin; Prom. Mgr.: Michael Horan.

STAFF THIS ISSUE
Managing Editor: Tom Morgan
Assistant: Florence Feinberg
News Editor: By Barash
Assistant: Elaine Katz
Copy Editor: Selma Zasofsky
Assistant: Dot Hunsberger
Advertising Manager: Gus Bargas
Assistant: Bill Gossner, Selma Lampert

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By Lehty

"What other candidate can match my fearless record—just name an issue that I'm afraid to dodge!"

Placement Service

Standard Brands Incorporated, April 29, eighth-semester men from EE, ME.

Moore Products Company, April 29, eighth-semester men from IE, ME.

Interchemical Corporation, April 28, eighth-semester men from Chem Eng.

Hazleton Division of Pennsylvania Power & Light Company, April 28, eighth-semester men from EE.

Link-Belt Company, April 29, eighth-semester men from IE, ME; Civil Eng., Sanitary Eng.

Erie Railroad Company, April 27, eighth-semester men from EE, ME, Civil Engineering.

American Aniline Products Incorporated, April 27, eighth-semester men from Chem Eng., Chem.

Pennsylvania Water and Power Company, April 27, eighth-semester men from EE, ME.

The Brown Instrument Company, April 27 and 28, eighth-semester men from EE, IE, ME, Physics, and men having master's degrees in EE or Physics.

Republic Steel Corporation, April 27, eighth-semester men from EE, ME, Metallurgy, Chem Eng.

Philco Corporation, April 27.

Lehigh Portland Cement, April 26, eighth-semester men from C&F, Civil and Architectural Engineering.

Pittsburgh - Des Moines Steel Company, April 26, eighth-semester men from Civil Engineering, Architectural Engineering.

Wright Aeronautical Engine Division, Aero Eng. ME, for engine development work.

CALENDAR

Friday, April 23
PENN State Bible Fellowship, 200 CH, 7 p.m.
YPCA, 417 Old Main, 7:30 p.m.

At the Movies
CATHAUM—Double Life.
NITTANY—Crossfire.
STATE—Scudda-hoo, Scudda-hay.

College Hospital
Admitted Wednesday: Roger Bartels, John Sherrod.
Admitted Thursday: Robert Carr, George E. Shaw.
Discharged Thursday: Martin Doolin, William Hummer, Harold Judd, Mary Keeley, Margaret McCully.

Special Preview Opens Art Exhibit

The Gimbel Pennsylvania Art Collection will open with a preview for special guests in the Mineral Industries Gallery at 3 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. Beginning Sunday, the collection will be open daily from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. until May 8.

The showing here is only the fourth since the collection was established and is the only showing scheduled for this section of the state. It was considered especially appropriate to show the all-Pennsylvania collection here since the College is the largest college of Pennsylvania.

The collection, which consists of 116 paintings, drawings, and sketches, comes to the College from Harrisburg where it was displayed to more than 12,000 persons. It previously had been shown in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

Groups visiting the gallery may arrange for a lecture by Alice F. Merriam, executive secretary of the collection. M. S. Osborne, head of the department of architecture, explained. Arrangements may be made with Mr. Osborne.

Kapell-

(Continued from page one)

to triumph after introducing the Khatchaturian Piano Concerto in this country, plays with a nervous, fiery, yet sensitive style. He hopes to some day master the technique and "heart" of his music.

Born in New York City, Kapell studied under Olga Samaroff at the Conservatory of Music in Philadelphia. His success was accompanied by a degree of revenge when he was valeted at Carnegie Hall by the usher who caught Kapell sneaking into the hall as a youngster.

Livestock-

(Continued from page one)

of the Lehigh Portland Cement Co. Farms, will judge the sheep; James Newcomb, a College alumnus who is now in charge of Harkaway Farms, Downingtown, will judge the cattle, and Lee H. Bull, Centre County Agent, will judge the hogs.

Special event at the show will be a light horse exhibit, a pig derby in which coeds have to lead a pig around a "race" track and across a finish line, and a meat raffle.

Campus Center Club

All those attending the Center Club Cabin Party should meet in back of Old Main at 7 o'clock. Transportation will be provided going out and returning.

"YEARS AGO"

A PLAYERS' PRODUCTION

TO BE PRESENTED on MAY 6, 7, 8
in SCHWAB AUDITORIUM

50 Cents on Thursday . . . $1.00 on Friday and Saturday

Golf Jackets

For Fine Performance

Here's a water repellent jacket that will score—rain or shine. Patch pockets, zipper closing.

from $6.95

AT

HUR'S MEN'S SHOP

OPPOSITE MAIN CAMPUS
E. College Ave., State College

NOW AT YOUR WARNER THEATER

Cathaum
Ronald Colman
Signe Hasso
"A Double Life"

State
June Haver
Low McCallister
"SCUDDA HOO, SCUDDA HAY"
In TECHNICOLOR

Nittany
Robert Young
Robert Mitchum
"Cross Fire"