Violence Near Trieste

Trieste—Violence flared up last night in Venezia Giulia, northwest of the free territory of Trieste. One Italian soldier is reported dead, another dying and two others wounded as a result of an exchange of shots between Italian and Yugoslav patrols. The report says the shooting started when an Italian patrol reached a point where a border marker had been shifted by the Yugoslavs. There was a burst of machine gun fire from the Yugoslav patrol and one Italian was killed instantly. The Italians returned fire and the report says the commander of the Yugoslav patrol was also killed.

French Proposal

Lake Success—France is reported to be sponsoring the creation of a volunteer United Nations police force to safeguard the Holy Land. The volunteers would be drawn from policemen of UN countries and would include as many as 800 men. The proposal is said to have the tentative approval of Jews and Arabs as well as a number of delegates.

Oleo Wins

Washington—Oleo margarine won out over butter in congress as the House voted 235 to 121 to discharge its Agriculture Committee from further consideration of any bills to repeal the federal taxes on oleo. It means that the committee can no longer shelve the bills, as it had previously decided to do. The blow was struck by a combination of Northern city Republicans and Southern Democrats.

Livestock Show Crowns 4 Champs

An overflow audience of 1500 crowded into the Livestock Pavilion Saturday afternoon to watch four students, three men and a coed, crowned champions in the 31st annual Little International Livestock Show.

William Garret, sophomore animal husbandry student, won the purebred Hereford heifer for his fitting and showmanship of a two-year-old Aberdeen-Angus steer. Showing a one-year-old Angus, Arch Ritts, sophomore animal husbandry student, took reserve champion honors.

Two girls, Della Hoke, sophomore animal husbandry student, and Marie Rautenberg, sophomore physical education major, took the championship and reserve championship respectively in the draft horse division.

A Southdown ewe lamb went to Thomas King, senior animal husbandry student, for his fitting and showing of a Southdown wether, and Margaret Houston, junior home economics major, took reserve championship in the sheep division.

Lee Diamond, senior agricultural education student, took top honors in the swine division, and Francis Kirk, junior dairy husbandry major, took the reserve championship.

In the pig derby, Irene King, senior journalism major, led her pig across the finish line first out of a field of eight contestants.

The show was climaxed by a dinner given by the Block and Bridle Club at the Allencrest Saturday night, with James Keim, assistant state 4-H Club director, making the address.

Ohio State Quarterly Honors History Prof

Dr. Joseph G. Rayback, assistant professor of history at the College, has published an article on "The Liberty Party Leaders of Ohio: Exponents of Anti-Slavery of 'The Ohio State Archaeological Coalition'" in the April, 1948 issue and Historical Quarterly.

Students Give Music Recital

A student recital sponsored by the music department and the Louise Homer Club will be given in 117 Carnezie Hall at 8:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Those performing are Paul Margolf, baritone; Michael Rosenberger, baritone; Janet Neff, soprano; Victor Gilpin, pianist; Beverly Corman, violinist; and Jaqueline Heckert, violinist.

Recitals are presented monthly.

Students Discuss Education Threat

"Communism and Education" will be discussed at a mass meeting of students in the School of Education in 121 Sparks at 8 o'clock tomorrow night. Three faculty members and three students will participate in the panel, led by Dean Marion R. Trabue.

Dr. Bruce V. Moore, head of the department of psychology, Dr. Doris E. Ekstrom, associate professor of home economics education and Dr. Paul Bixby, associate professor of elementary education, will represent the faculty. Helen Dickerson, Allan Ostar, Daily Collegian editor, and Morton Peck are the participating students.

The discussion will deal with American concepts of communism in contrast to the type actually in existence behind the iron curtain. Means of combating communism through education and through betterment of economic conditions are among the main issues. A question period will follow the talks.

A business meeting of the Education Student Council, sponsor of the discussion, will precede the program.

Gimbel Art Exhibit Attracts Over 300

More than 300 persons attended the opening of the Gimbel Pennsylvania Art Collection exhibit in the Mineral Industries Gallery at the College on Saturday afternoon.

The exhibit, which will continue until May 8, will be open to the public from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily. There is no admission charge.

Edward J. Priddey, director of public relations for Gimbel's in Pittsburgh, explained that the collection is a gift to the people of Pennsylvania.

"The aim of the collection," he said, "is to present the story of the contemporary people of Pennsylvania, influenced as they are by the State's geographical, historical, industrial, and cultural background. Within these limitations, the artists were given complete freedom in their approach to the subject."

Priddey, who watched the collection grow from the first canvas to the present 116 paintings, sketches, and drawings, pointed out that the 14 artists chose their own subjects.

Meily Replaces Wagner On Senior Gift Group

Patricia Meily has replaced Lee Ann Wagner as a member of the senior class gift committee, following Miss Wagner's resignation to student teach, Donald Mitchell, chairman, said yesterday.

He added that Thomas King has been named to the committee. The selection of the senior class gift has been moved back to sometime in May and cards have been sent to all February graduates, Mitchell said.

Brazilian Educators Study New Methods

Those 11 elderly, Portuguese-speaking students you've seen strolling around on campus are vocational education directors from Brazil sent here through the cooperation of the United States and Brazilian governments under the auspices of the Institute of Inter-American Affairs.

They have been attending special classes in industrial education four hours each day at the temporary buildings. Through this means they hope to improve the vocational education program in Brazil.

When they have finished their intensive courses on May 7, they will visit vocational schools in Los Angeles, Chicago, Milwaukee, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, New York and Philadelphia.

Courses included in their brief study are introduction to vocational education, trade analysis, curriculum construction, methods of teaching industrial subjects, shop organization and management, administration of vocational education, survey methods, supervision of industrial education and seminars in vocational education.

Caps and Gowns

Seniors are requested to place their orders for caps, gowns, announcements and invitations at Student Union between 2 and 4:30 p.m. before Friday.

Judd Gives Ideas For Lasting Peace

Peace-making should be approached with humility and faith; peace should be based on "justice administered with mercy," rather than on power or "secret deals" among nations, Representative Walter H. Judd (Rep.-Minn.) told a large chapel congregation in Schwab Auditorium Sunday.

Calling for "penitence" by members of his generation for their failure to establish a just peace after the first world war, Congressman Judd said they had erred in relying on false remedies, "objective" education, science and harsh terms to defeated nations.

College graduates who believe that there is no moral force within man, and that man is greater than the animals only by dint of superior brain power, do not have the proper foundation to enable them to solve the pressing problem of peace-making the speaker said.

Congressman Judd, who served for ten years as a medical missionary to China, condemned the indifference of the United States in allowing Japan to buy scrap metal here while it was overrunning its larger neighbor.

He pointed out that Japanese businessmen could not understand why America did not prohibit these shipments, if she really disapproved of Japan's aggression.

Turning to the Marshall Plan, the legislator said it will succeed if it brings economic unity to Western Europe, none of whose nations are self-sufficient. He cited Eastern Europe's "involuntary" economic cooperation under Soviet tutelage as an end to be avoided by the western part of the continent.

Cooperation among all nations should be persistently sought, Congressman Judd added, but if Russia remain "adamant," the rest of the world must work together without her.

Book Exchange Money

One hundred and forty-one students have not yet received their money for books sold through the Student Book Exchange. These sales, ranging from 10c to $9.16, total $238.85. These persons are urged to collect their money immediately at the Student Union desk in Old Main.

CORE Maps Plans For Climax Drive

An intensive three-day house-to-house and student-to-student campaign for funds and patrons of a non-discriminatory barbershop will be mapped out by a sub-committee of the Council on Racial Equality in 415 Old Main at 8 o'clock tonight.

Tickets representing advance payment of 25 cents on each of four haircuts are being sold by the organization, which is composed of numerous campus and borough groups. A goal of $2800 has been set, with the deadline extended to May 5, after the three-day climax.

Greeks To Elect Council Officers

George Chapman, Theta Chi, and Raymond Dieterich, Tau Kappa Epsilon, will vie for 1948-'49 Interfraternity president in the Council elections to be held in 405 Old Main at 7:15 o'clock tonight.

IFC delegates will also elect next year's vice-president and secretary-treasurer at tonight's meeting.

Nominees for vice-president include Richard Curto, Alpha Phi Delta; John East, Alpha Chi Sigma; Thomas Giles, Alpha Phi Alpha; Dennis Hoggard, Alpha Phi Omega; Richard McAdams, Alpha Tau Omega; David Sims, Acacia; and Thomas Yemm, Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

For secretary-treasurer, representatives will choose from Raymond Brooks, Delta Upsilon; Hueton Brosious, Phi Kappa Psi; Richard Curto, Alpha Phi Delta; Morton Green, Pi Lambda Phi; William McLain, Phi Delta Theta; and David Sims, Acacia.

Qualifications of all nominees have been checked by the elections committee.

Also on the agenda for tonight is discussion and adoption of the Outstanding Fraternity report and a report on the Panhel-IFC Ball.

Honorary Hears National Head

Delta Sigma Pi, C and F honorary, will present Allen W. Fowler, its national president, and George Meyers, certified public accountant, in the third of a series of lectures on occupational opportunities in business administration in 316 Sparks at 7 o'clock tonight.

Mr. Fowler, speaking on "Careers in Accounting," is associated with Day and Zimmerman, Philadelphia accounting firm. Mr. Meyers is manager of the tax division of Pric and Waterhouse, public accountants, of Pittsburgh, and chairman of the Pittsburgh chapter of certified public accountants.

Twenty-nine men recently tapped by Delta Sigma Pi are Willard Agnew, James A. Anderson, Robert E. Anderson, Joseph Bardon, Fred Barrouk, Edward Belfield, Kenneth Brooks, George Budd, John Butz, John Christon, Walter Diksa, Lawrence Doyle, Mackey Emmert, James Etters, Donald Georgino, Jess Hobday, Howard Horne, Dean Kissell, Harry Kotz, John J. Kramer, Frank McGlashan, Bries McMichael, Calvin Meyer, Donald Mills, Thomas Mullen, Joseph Predzinkowski, George Schautz, Edward Tarulli, and Richard Trumbord.

VA Announces Deadline For Last Book Receipts

Richard H. Baker, coordinator of Veterans Affairs, announced that Friday is the final day for the acceptance of veterans' book receipts. All receipts must be turned in at the Bursar's office by 4:30 p.m. on that day. Payments on the receipts will be made May 16.

Regular patrons of barbers are asked to specify the shop of their choice. Funds thus earmarked will be offered to each established barber who agrees to cease discrimination against Negroes. Tickets will be acceptable in any such shop, regardless of the stated preference.

The establishment of an attractive, sanitary and modern three-chair barbershop by CORE is the proposed alternative, if all the barbers refuse to change their present practice.

If the necessary amount is not realized by the ticket sale, and no non-discriminatory barbershop, either existing or new, becomes available, all money will be refunded.

Collegian Starts Final 'Ad' Contest

Daily Collegian's third and final "Its in the Ads" contest, featuring up to $50 worth of merchandise in prizes a day, starts with today's issue.

Just as in the other two contests, there will be clues to the identity of the "thing" hidden in the ads every day. All clues lead to only one "thing."

In the first contest, the item was the numeral on Bob Higgins' football jersey, and the second "it" was the Alpha Fire Company.

Both town residents and students are eligible to enter the contest, but all entries must be sent to "Contest, The Daily Collegian," on a penny postcard.

Triple Prize Today

Today's triple prize is a blouse from the Smart Shop, a pair of Old Town Trampoes (men's or women's) from Glicks Shoe Store and Rachmanioff's third piano concerto from the Book and Record Shop.

Questions may be sent to this paper and the answers will be printed in the form of future clues.
