Men Elect Senior Leaders; Six Honor Coeds Selected

Ten senior men, nominated for the Class Day honors of barrel man, cane man, class donor, pipe man, and spoon man, will be voted upon by male members of the senior class on postcard ballots which are being mailed today.

Five men will be selected for Class Day honors by each senior from the list sent out by the Class Day Committee.

Coeds selected for Class Day honors are Joan Bissey, Violet Gillespie, Virginia McCluskey, Suzanne Romig, Lee Ann Wagner, and Jacqueline Zivic. They will receive awards of bow, fan, slipper, mirror girl, class poet, and class donor. No announcement has been made yet of the specific awards.

Nominated for senior honors are Willard F. Agnew, Edward W. Banyai, Eugene M. Fulmer, Alan G. Hack, Gerald T. Karver, Thomas J. Lannen, John J. Nolan, Allan W. Ostar, John P. Tighe, and Robert M. Troxell.

Activities of the nominees are: Agnew—President of IFC; president of Sigma Phi Epsilon; Lion's Paw, All-College Cabinet; chairman, Hetzel Memorial Fund committee.

Banyai—President of senior class; American Veterans Committee chairman; member of ice hockey and lacrosse teams; All-College Cabinet.

Honorary Offers American Music

Phi Mu Alpha, national men's music honorary, will present an All-American music program in Schwab auditorium at 3 p.m. Sunday.

The concert is a part of the annual Spring series of musical appreciation programs sponsored by the music department.

Prof. George Ciega, chapel organist, will begin the program and will be followed by a clarinet quartet, two male vocalists, and the Phi Mu Alpha Symphony.

The honorary also presents music appreciation programs over Station WMAJ on Monday and Wednesday nights and on Sunday afternoon.

Twice a month different ensembles are sent to outlying schools in Pennsylvania to perform for the students not having access to such programs.

Phi Mu Alpha will present the music for the May Day program on May 1.

Teen-Age Training

WASHINGTON—Universal Military Training seems to be headed for a Congressional pigeon hole. In its place, there may be a program to put teen-agers through a training program in the regular forces.

Firms Follow U. S. Steel

WASHINGTON—Smaller firms are following the lead of U. S. Steel in rejecting a CIO bid for a wage boost and announcing a price cut. Bethlehem and Jones & Laughlin joined in yesterday. Youngstown Sheet and Tube indicated it will follow.

Post Office Suspends

WASHINGTON—In our capital, the Post Office Department has suspended air mail service to the Holy Land. Officials said the action was taken at the request of Palestine authorities. Air mail was the only remaining service to the Holy Land from the United States.

Election Primaries

WASHINGTON—Pennsylvania and Massachusetts took over the election spotlight at home. The two states elected a total of 108 GOP convention delegates and 110 Democratic delegates. But the Republicans' favorite songs were assured of the delegates.

Elsie, Queen of Cows Again Gives Birth To Baby Bull

Penn State's own glamorous Elsie became for the second time in her life the proud mother of a baby boy at 10 a.m. Sunday. The unnamed child weighed 45 pounds at birth. Both mother and son are doing well.

Elsie first came into prominence at last year's Dairy Exposition, where she served as queen. This year she will reign again and will be accompanied by her new baby bull calf.

Elsie's first son, dubbed Pennstate Majesty Draconis, was born on May 25, 1946, and later sent to Rio Piedras, Puerto Rico, to build up the blood line of Jerseys on the island.

Elsie was advertising the Dairy Exposition to be held May 8 on Saturday afternoon at the "Little International." On Monday morning she suffered an attack of "milk fever," which Dr. James W. Shigley, veterinarian who reviewed the case, says indicates a healthy milk-cow. He added that Elsie took care of the matter unattended, another indication of her good health.

Cousins Delivers Reassuring Talk

Norman Cousins, one of the few accredited observers of the atomic experiments at Bikini Atoll, will speak to students and townspeople on the reassuring subject, "Don't Resign From the Human Race," at 8 o'clock in Schwab Auditorium tomorrow night.

The Community Forum lecturer is a special consultant on world affairs of the American Broadcasting Company for whom he broadcast observations of 1945 atomic tests.

"Saturday Review" Editor Mr. Cousins has appeared frequently on radio forums such as Town Meeting of the Air, People's Platform and American Forum of the Air, in addition to his own special assignments.

Previous to editorship of "The Saturday Review of Literature," the speaker was managing editor of the magazine, "Current History," and editor of the war-time "U.S.A.," distributed by the government.

Foreign Affairs Student As a student of public affairs and political science, Mr. Cousins is author of "The Good Inheritance: The Democratic Chance," which deals with Athenian democracy and its meaning to America.

Reserved seat tickets will be on sale at Student Union until 8 o'clock tomorrow night. This is the last of the Community Forum series for 1947-48.

Dames Introduce Summer Fashions

"A Preview of Summer Fashions" will be presented by the Penn State Dames in conjunction with the Retail Division of the State College Chamber of Commerce in the auditorium of the State College high school at 8 o'clock tonight.

The show is being given for the benefit of the annual drive of the American Cancer Society. No admission will be charged, but offerings will be taken.

Junior Fashions Lorraine Munz, a sixth semester student at the College, will model junior fashions. Other models will be members of the Dames, their husbands and children, said Mrs. Mary Patterson, chairman. All clothing will be provided by the town merchants.

The scene of the show follows a typical day's activities in the summer, and will feature swim wear and a formal wedding. Intermission music will be provided by the high school orchestra and the Harmony Shop. Records from the Book and Record Shop will supply background music. Bill McMullen will act as narrator for the show.

Committees Members of the general committee are Mrs. Patterson, chairman; Mrs. W. M. Brown, assistant chairman; Mrs. M. D. Beals, in charge of models; Mrs. W. Kapps, stage and properties; Mrs. C. T. Bressler, wardrobe; and Mrs. C. S. Brymer, ushers. Members of the Chamber of Commerce on the committee are Jack Baldwin, Bill McMullen, Mary Leitzinger, and Jack Harper.

Exchange Refunds

Students who have not received payment for books sold through the Student Book Exchange are urged to collect their money at 102 Old Main. One hundred and forty-one students have not yet picked up their money. Sales ranged from 10c to $9.16, making a total of $238.85.

Vets Subsistence Extended 15 Days

Veterans' subsistence will automatically be extended 15 days from the end of the semester unless each veteran requests the VA not to do so before May 3, according to Robert Stroud, chief training officer.

This extension is in accordance with a provision of the G.I. bill that allows a 15 day training period extension at the end of each semester. However, a 15-day loss of eligibility is also incurred, said Mr. Stroud.

Veterans not wishing the extension should notify the local VA office immediately, he said.

Fire in Lighting System Damages Rea and Derick

Fire, which started around a transformer for the fluorescent lighting in the store, caused considerable damage to the Rea and Derick Drug Store on S. Allen street, State College, this morning.

The fire, which burned in the partition between the ceiling of the store and the offices and apartments above, was discovered shortly before 10 a.m. by clerks and customers when flames broke out in the ceiling above the prescription counter.

Alpha firemen tore down a large area of the ceiling above this counter to fight the flames which were spreading rapidly and which were causing much smoke.

Ad Contest

A double-header for the "It's in the Ads" contest swells the value of the two-day old competition to $40. Today's prizes are a sweater from the Young Men's Shop and a five-pound box of candy from the Candy Cane. Other prizes are:
1. Old Town Trampes—Glick Shoe Store
2. Blouse—Smart Shop
3. Record Album—Book and Record Shop.

IFC Elects Chapman Greek Council Head

George W. Chapman was elected 1948-49 Inter-fraternity Council president in the elections last night.

Other officers elected were John Fast, vice-president, and William McLain, secretary-treasurer. The new officers took over their posts at the close of last night's meeting.

Chapman, who succeeds Willard F. Agnew as IFC president, is a junior in mechanical engineering. He is also treasurer of Theta

Treble Singers Present Concert

Treble Singers will give their annual complimentary concert in Schwab Auditorium at 8 p.m. Friday.

Directed by Guy Woods, the group composed of 115 girls will present a program of spirituals, semi-classical and recent popular songs.

Treble Singers will open the program with "I Cannot Dance for You, My Lord," "The Star," "Overtones," Howorth's arrangement of "Czechoslovakian Dance Song," and "Annie Laurie" with Rebecca Griffin as soloist.

Next, Marilyn Guillet and Marjorie Mead, in a piano duet, will play "Waltz for Two Pianos" by Arensky and Morton Gould's arrangement of "La Cucaracha."

This will be followed by the Treble Singers presentation of "Tears," "Ukrainian Cradle Song," "From the Land of the Sky-blue Water," "Turn Ye to Me," and "Little Clock."

Jeanne Nye, Josephine Stanley, and Patricia Lloyd, the Treble Singer trio, will sing "Tired," "Brazil," and "Body and Soul."

The group will conclude the program with "O My Lawd, What Shall I Do," "Wonderful One," "Embraceable You," "The Night is Young," and "Night and Day."

College To Open Tri-Dorms to Men

Tri Dormitories will definitely be open to men students for the fall semester, said Edmund Walacavage of Pollock Circle Council.

Priorities will be given to men who have been residents of the Circle and Nittany Dorms the longest. Men interested in living there next semester are to apply to the Dean of Men's office as soon as possible, said Walacavage. Discounting meals, the fees will be $90 per man for a double room and $99 a man for a single room.

All men wishing to remain in the Circle or Dorm area for the summer sessions are to register with the Dean of Men.

School Students Attend State Press Convention

Approximately 500 high school students and advisors representing most of the secondary schools in Pennsylvania will attend the State High School Press Convention to be held at the College Saturday.

Principal speakers at the convention will be Pierre Huss, noted correspondent and author, and John Biddle, president of the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Association.

Faculty discussion groups and student editorial, news and business forums are on the agenda, with various speakers discussing the problems of high school newspaper publishing.

The convention will close with the presentation of awards for excellence in news and advertising. The winners of two Freshman Scholarships to the department of journalism will also be announced at that time.

Chi fraternity and social chairman of the Penn State Club. Other activities include Phi Eta Sigma, Parmi Nous, and assistant manager of track.

In the final count, Chapman secured a total of 29 ballots against 18 for Thomas Yemm.

Preceding the election of officers, a discussion of the Outstanding Fraternity report was held. Agnew, who led the discussion, stated that fraternities will be judged as outstanding in accordance with the number of points they secure through individual scholarship and activities.

Final decision of the members to adopt the proposed point system was suspended until the next meeting.

Agnew also reported that petition had been sent to the Senate Committee on Student Welfare for a charter for publication of the IFC newsletter.

Robert Koser, past vice-president reported on the PanHel-IFC ball and Robert Keller proposed a plan for rushing of transfer students from the centers.

Election votes were counted by Allan Ostar, Daily Collegian editor, and Frank Tidona, Independent Student Council president.

TUB Goes Rustic For Gingham Fling

Hayseed sprouts at the TUB tonight!

Square dancing will spotlight the "Gingham Fling," sponsored by Cwens, sophomore women's honorary, as the TUB dons a tattered straw sombrero and jeans at 7:30 o'clock tonight.

Music for the dance, lasting until 9:30 p.m., will be furnished by Andy Mahalaski and his three-piece orchestra, with Mahalaski calling.

Tickets are on sale at 60 cents each in front of the Corner Room and at Student Union, or may be purchased from any Cwen, said Gertrude Fetzner, dance chairman.

Profits will go toward the publication of an information pamphlet to be distributed to "farmed-out" freshmen.
