

Eleven Meet Records Smashed As Buckeyes Top Lions, 76-46

Still licking its wounds from the 76-46 lacing handed to it by Ohio State Saturday afternoon, the Lion track team is concentrating on field events this week for the ensuing battle with Michigan State.

Jack Dianetti is the Spartans' standout in the middle distance races while Fred Johnson, who holds the Michigan State field house record of 24 feet, 8 3/4 inches for the broad jump, leads the field contenders.

Eleven out of fourteen meet records were wiped from the books in Saturday's battle as Lloyd Duff, decathlon performer, hiked the pole vault record 6 inches, lengthened the broad jump mark by one foot, 6 1/2 inches and sliced .11 seconds from his former 120 high hurdle mark.

Duff's time in the hurdles was just two tenths of a second short of the world record.

The Nittany runners did their share of record breaking with Jerry Karver pulling the meet record mark for the mile down nine and 9/10 seconds, and Dave Pincus boosting the meet and Penn State mark for the discus from 147 feet, 10 1/2 inches to 151 feet, 3/4 inches.

Jim Gehrdes, after being nosed out by Duff in the high hurdles, retaliated by smashing the meet and College record in the low hurdles.

Even though he ran his slowest two-mile race of the year, Horace Ashenfelter cracked the meet record of 9 minutes, 50 seconds and lowered it almost 10 seconds.

The Wernermen's one mile relay team, which has yet to win in the baton run, placed far behind a speedy Ohio State team which won the relay in a scorching 3:17.9.

AAU champ Mal Whitfield outdistanced Bill Shuman in the 880 yard run for another meet record, while Buckeye flash Fred Johnson copped the 100 and 220 yard dashes, but could not touch the :9.6 and :20.8-second marks set by Barney Ewell in 1940.

By winning the 880 yard run, Mal Whitfield scored his 28th consecutive victory in the half-mile race. The Buckeye runner is listed as one of the top U.S.

Jeffrey men Show Progress

Although veteran soccer coach Bill Jeffrey is busy refereeing intramural soccer games on the golf course practice fields, the Lion booters have displayed steady progress since spring training started four weeks ago.

The booting Jeffrey men will be exceptionally strong defensively this fall, having four lettermen back to fill fullback slots.

All four—Jim Klimes, Frank Taucher, Dave Binns and Chuck Margolf saw considerable action in front of the Lions' goal last year and the "friendly Scot" depends on them greatly this year to keep the opponents from breaking into scoring positions.

Guarding the nets this year are two very promising reserves from last year's booting aggregation, Ed Watson, a lanky goaltender who shows plenty of promise, and husky Jim Doman, varsity goalie of the 1945 soccer Lions.

Netmen Defeat Bisons, Duquesne

Coach Sherman Fogg's tennis team tangles with Bucknell tomorrow and is favored to continue along victory road after thumping the Bisons, 8-1, last Friday and upsetting Duquesne, 6-3, Saturday.

Although the Lions were subdued in the 1948 inaugural, the two weekend conquests boosted the Blue and White net record to two wins and a single loss.

In Saturday's contest the Lions romped to a 6-3 conquest over previously unbeaten Duquesne, a team which boasted an unblemished slate after three meets with Pittsburgh district opponents.

Dick Maxwell picked up nine points for the red shirted visitors as he cleared the high jump bar at 6 feet for a first place, ran second to Gehrdes in the 220 low hurdles for a second place, and placed third in the 120 high hurdles.

In the field events, the visitors ran up 36 points to the Lions' 9, while in the running events, the Buckeyes scored 40 to 35 for the Blue and White.

Navy Drops Stickmen, 9-3; Jayvees Win Opener, 5-3

All-American attackman Lee Chambers proved to be the difference between the Penn State and Navy lacrosse teams on Saturday, and the Middies ended the Lions' undefeated streak by a 9-3 score. The game was played at Annapolis.

The Nittanies, who had won their fifth straight over Loyola by an 8-4 count the day before, could not get their offense moving against the powerful Sailor ten.

The 9-3 score did not indicate the closeness of the game. The Thielmen handed Navy several goals, because of roughness acts which made the Statemen short-handed.

High-scoring John Nolan tacked another tally to his scoring column against the future admirals, and brought his season's total to 16. George Locotos and Buddy Thomas scored the other Nittany goals.

The Lions will attempt to get back on the win wagon against Syracuse Saturday. The tilt is scheduled for the Orangemen's home field.

Coach Nick Thiel will send the State team against his old coach, Roy Simmons, when the Lions and the Orange tangle.

Syracuse is led by sophomore mid-fielder Bill Fuller, who Coach Simmons claims is of all-American calibre.

Jayvee lacrosse coach John McHugh will take his Lion cubs into Ohio this weekend for games with Kenyon College on Friday and Oberlin the following day. The Nittany juniors will be seeking
