Rural Administration Examinations Announced

Examinations for filling vacancies in the Rural Electrification Administration have been announced. The positions available are field representative for loan applications and electrical utility management, rural electrification engineer, home economist for electrical equipment, and inspector for the type of poles used in REA construction.

Starting salaries for these positions range from $3,397 to $4,902. No written test is required, but applicants must have appropriate college studies and professional or technical experience.

Further information and application forms may be secured from the U.S. Civil Service Commission, Washington 25, D. C., or from post offices.

New $4000 Equipment Arrives for ME Lab

New equipment for the Mechanical Engineering Laboratory valued at almost $4000 has been received at the College during the past month. Prof. Norman R. Sparks, head of the ME department, said yesterday.

The equipment includes a 55 horsepower diesel engine and 50 horsepower gasoline engine, both obtained from the International Harvester Company. These two engines, tractor type internal combustion motors, have been set up in the laboratory for use in student tests.

A demonstration dry ice machine which converts liquid carbon dioxide into its solid form has also been obtained, as a gift, from the Frick Co. of Waynesboro, Pa.

Alpha Nu to Prepare Program for Open House

The astronomical honor society, Alpha Nu, has prepared a special program in conjunction with the physics department Open House Saturday.

Guided tours conducted through the afternoon and evening will include planetarium shows, movies, amateur telescope construction exhibits and two field observations.

The astronomy laboratory, located in the sub-basement of Osmond Laboratory, will have exhibits of grinding, polishing, and aluminizing apparatus for mirrors as well as the newly constructed planetarium.
